WHOOPS!—This Mack tractor-trailer unit was being towed by a 1960 Dodge wrecker driven by James D. Darnell, 1801 West Broadway, when the tow-bar broke, police said. And since the tractor-trailer unit didn't have brakes, it collided with the rear of the wrecker, causing it to turn over on its side. The big truck was being handled by Arthur W. Sanders, Route 1. The accident occurred at Main and Highway 65 about 10:27 a. m. Friday. Darnell complained of injuries to his back, but was not hospitalized. (Democrat-Capital photo)

GOT THERE FIRST — The house probably suffered as much as these two cars after the vehicles collided at 11th and Lafayette at 8:23 a.m. Friday. After the collision, both cars traveling off the street and onto a yard, but only one struck a house, causing extensive damage. Police said the 1965 Chevrolet, foreground, was driven north on Lafayette by Charles R. Martin, 20, 501 East 13th, while the Buick was driven east on 11th by Delores R. Maples, 34, 1218 East 13th. Extensive damage occurred to both cars. Connie Maples, 7, and Gayle Maples, complained of injuries. They were taken to Bothwell Hospital, treated and released. The house is owned by Richard Kirchner, 905 East 11th. (Democrat-Capital photo)

US Artillery Shells North Across Demilitarized Zone

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. headquarters announced today that American forces have begun shelling North Vietnam with long-range artillery based in South Vietnam for the first time in the war.

An American military spokesman said U.S. artillerymen fired into the demilitarized zone and north of it with 175mm guns, the biggest in Vietnam, which have a range of 20 miles.

The announcement came as about 45,000 American troops pushed behind tanks through jungles of the Communists' war Zone C, 70 miles northwest of Saigon, in the biggest offensive of the war. But they failed to find Communist units of any size.

U.S. troops reported killing 19 Viet Cong so far in the new Operation Junction City, and the Communists responded with at least two mortar shellings of American positions. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light so far.

Though contact with the enemy troops was light, more than a half dozen tanks and other tracked vehicles struck land mines which tore off their tracks. Five U.S. Army helicopters were shot down by enemy ground fire, but U.S. spokesman said all five were lifted from the battle area and casualties totaled three wounded.

The massive assault, launched Wednesday, deployed the U.S. troops in a pincer drive against possibly 10,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers making up the Viet Cong 9th Division and support units.

A U.S. military spokesman said it was "too early in the operation to say" why contact was so light, although he did not rule out the possibility the Communists are attempting to escape across the nearby Cambodian border.

Dies Friday In Hospital After Crash

Find Robert Sheue Trapped In Vehicle On Old Highway 65

A Sedalian trapped inside a wrecked vehicle for about ten hours last night died at Bothwell Hospital at 10:20 a.m. Friday, about three hours after being found. His death is the sixth in Pettis County this year, compared to one for the same period last year on County highways.

Robert Peter Sheue, 56, 2302 Kay Ave., was found inside the wreckage of a 1965 Volkswagon coach by Vernon Horn, Route 4, a farmer passing the scene. Horn stopped traffic to have an ambulance called.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported the accident apparently occurred at 10:30 p.m. Thursday four miles north of Sedalia on an old section of Highway 65, which is no longer used for traffic.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, who investigated the accident scene, said Sheue's car was travelling south along the old highway when it hit a mound of dirt. The dirt was put there to block the roadway, and was piled about four feet high and six feet wide.

Van Winkle said the car went over the mound and landed about 33 feet south of it, coming to rest on its top. Van Winkle added that his investigation indicated Sheue's head was caught in the sterring wheel of the vehicle.

The patrol at first could not determine just when the accident had occurred. Later, however, it was learned from Mrs. Lucy Swope, Route 4, who oper-

Unexpected New Storm Breaks Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm that nobody expected blew out to sea off the coast of Newfoundland today after dumping more than a foot of snow over a wide area of New England and New York.

Snow with high winds continued during the morning in northern and central Maine, but ended before midnight in most other areas.

In Troy, N.Y., Jean Wager, 17, took advantage of a five-inch snow fall and a traffic jam to ski down Main Street to her classes at Catholic Center High School.

About 300 youngsters in Bangor, Maine, for the Eastern Maine High School basketball tournament were marooned. Cots were provided in the gymnasium for the night.

An international goodwill hockey tour from Canada's Prince Edward Island was stranded on the Maine Turnpike near Lewiston when its entire 15-car caravan banged together in a chain reaction pileup.

Two members of the group suffered minor injuries and were taken to Lewiston Hospital. The rest spent the night at a turnpike restaurant.

The 106-mile turnpike was closed overnight due to winds and drifting snow.

Five deaths were attributed to the storm, two in traffic accidents and three men who collapsed while shoveling snow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Boston had said Thursday the storm, moving from the South along the coast, was not expected to produce much snow.

Later, the weatherman said an "explosive deepening" had turned a "series of flurries" into a major storm.

Unification In Support Of Bombing

McNamara Sees No Difference In Several Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, acting with unusual initiative, declared today the administration is absolutely unified in support of the bombing of North Vietnam.

Specifically, the Pentagon chief said there is no difference of opinion between him and Secretary of State Dean Rusk about the need for American air raids on Hanoi's territory.

McNamara first called reporters to his office in an attempt to dispel what he considered an untrue image of division between himself and Rusk. Later he read a statement before television cameras explaining "the apparent divergence of opinion."

"In one sense," McNamara said, "this is amusing to me because in looking back over two years of recommendations to the President on military operations in North Vietnam, I can't recall a single instance when the secretary of state and the secretary of defense have differed on bombing policy and not a single instance when their recommendations have differed on particular bombing targets."

Strangler Breaks Out Of Hospital

BRIDGEWATER, Mass. (AP) — Albert DeSalvo self-styled Boston strangler, escaped from Bridgewater State Hospital today where he has been a mental patient for more than two years.

His absence was discovered at 6:20 a.m., a State Correction Department official said.

The notorious inmate took with him two other mental patients — Fred E. Erickson, 40, Brockton, and George W. Harrison, 33, Westford. Erickson was under life sentence for murder and Harrison was convicted last November for armed robbery.

DeSalvo was described by his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, as "a completely uncontrollable vegetable walking around in a human body." Bailey said DeSalvo admitted the sex slayings of 13 women in eastern Massachusetts between June, 1962 and January, 1964.

Bridgewater is a state mental institution with a section for detention of mentally ill persons with criminal records. It is some 25 miles south of Boston.

State police raced to the hospital area with bloodhounds and fanned out in a wide search through deep snow. Joining the hunt for the three dangerous escapees were hospital guards and local police.

The searchers followed footprints in the snow which led to a wall near a staging used in construction under way at the hospital.

Police said the men apparently moved the staging to a lower section of the wall and climbed over the outer wall.

Hospital Supt. Charles Gaughan said the men were on the second floor of a building which also housed elderly and sick patients.

"It appears they used some instrument or simulated key to open the reinforced wooden cell doors," Gaughan said.

Gaughan said the trio got out of the building down a shaft where an elevator is being installed. He said the men apparently were wearing hospital clothing.

Man Is Held In Death Of Woman In K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Police say they are holding Gus Hart, 34, in connection with the strangulation death of 29-year-old Mrs. Blondell Brown.

Mrs. Brown's body was found Thursday on the floor of her apartment by her daughter, Sharon Brown, 7. A window curtain was twisted around the dead woman's neck.

Police listed Hart's address as the same as Mrs. Brown's.

Romney Not Yet Ready To Say 'Yes'

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan may not be ready to say "yes," he is running for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, but he admits he's not likely to say "no."

During his seven-day western trip, he traveled more than 8,000 miles by air, several hundred miles by bus and car, a half-mile on horseback and 400 yards by dogsled—and ran into the worst weather on his way home.

His plane from Arizona was delayed by a blizzard Thursday night in Chicago and was forced to circle for more than three hours before landing at O'Hare International Airport. He flew to Detroit early today.

At his last stop for a speech, in Mesa, Ariz., Romney ticked off these statistics with obvious pride: 18,500 persons heard him during the trip, he raised $200,000 for the GOP.

"The trip has been well worthwhile," he said.

And had Romney received impressions favorable to his candidacy in 1968?

"Well, favorable enough to keep up the hot courtship," Romney said.

Romney's hot courtship in the last seven days included four new Republican governors—Walter J. Hickel of Alaska, John Williams of Arizona, David Cargo of New Mexico and Don Samuelson of Idaho.

Although he didn't win them all—Samuelson was the most noncommittal—he at least got a hearty reception wherever he went.

India Vote Brings Crisis To Majority

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Mounting returns in India's elections imperiled the ruling Congress party's majority in Parliament today and confronted Prime Minister Indira Gandhi with a crisis that could bring down her government.

With 180 of Parliament's 520 seats decided the Congress party had won 92 only four more than the combined opposition. The Hindu Communal Jan Sangh had 22, the right-wing Swatantra 14, the pro-Peking Communists 10, the Socialists 10, the pro-Moscow Communists 4 and independents and others 28.

In balloting for 3,560 assembly seats in 17 Indian states, Congress party candidates were winning only slightly more than 50 per cent.

As the party which had ruled since India won independence 20 years ago suffered setback after setback, Mrs. Gandhi's chances of continuing as prime minister were in doubt.

The Congress party had lost control of the local legislatures in two of India's 17 states: Kerala, where a powerful Communist-leftist combine was victorious, and in Madras, where the Tamil Dravidra Munnetra Kazhagam won a majority.

The Congress party retained the largest number of seats but lost its majority in three other states—Punjab, Rajasthan and West Bengal. There it must form coalitions to continue to govern.

The Congress party emerged the victor in six states: Mysore, Hariana, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh.

Still undecided were the states of Assam, Bihar, Jammu and Kashmir, Nagaland, Orissa and Uttar Pradesh.

As the votes continued rolling in, seven Cabinet ministers went down in defeat along with top leaders of the Congress party.

Resignations have already come in from Food Minister C.G. Subramaniam, who had been supervising the massive relief program for hungry eastern India, and Railway Minister S.K. Patil.

80-Year-Old Ex-Ruler Is Dead In India

HYDERABAD, India (AP) — The Hyderabad government today announced the death of the Nizam of Hyderabad, 80-year-old former ruler of the princely state and once reputed to be the richest man in the world.

The Nizam had been in failing health for some weeks following an attack of influenza. Police at his palace announced his death on Tuesday night but this was denied 90 minutes later.

Confirmation of his death today followed hours of unusual activity around his heavily guarded, walled palace.

B&O Train Jumps Track; Three Dead

PENNSBORO, W. Va. (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's crack National Limited jumped the tracks in a rural area of northcentral West Virginia today, killing three persons and injuring at least 67 others.

The fast passenger derailed about three miles east of here just before dawn, after all but the last of its four coaches had moved across a trestle spanning the north fork of Hughes River.

A Baltimore and Ohio spokesman said most of those injured were riding in the rear-most coach which dropped off the 75-foot high trestle and landed near the edge of the frozen stream.

The three other passenger coaches a mail car and three of the train's four diesel engine units were sprawled along the railroad's mainline track for several hundred feet. Only the lead diesel power unit remained upright.

The B&O said about 100 persons were aboard the train.

Icy highways slowed a dozen ambulances and four buses which were directed to the scene.

Temperatures around 10 degrees hovered over this section of the state during the night and ice covered many roads.

The National Limited originated in Washington and was scheduled to terminate in St. Louis.

Shake-Up In Red Chinese Army Seen

TOKYO (AP) —A new shake-up in the Chinese army and orders to the Red Guards to remold themselves gave evidence today of formidable snags in Mao Tse-tung's attempt to climb back to power.

New wall posters in Peking cast doubt on the future of the estimated 20-million Red Guards and heightened mystery surrounding Mao's heir presumptive, Defense Minister Lin Piao, who has not been reported seen in public since last November.

They also reflected breakdowns in discipline in the 2.5-million-man armed force which has been Mao's chief bulwark and indicated lower ranks in the army have been using the purge against their officers.

Mao has issued a directive putting the Communist party in charge of his purge of military units stationed in the key cities of Peking, Shanghai, Tientsin and Luta (Dairen-Port Arthur). The directive, reported in Peking wall posters, warned soldiers not to try to seize power from "military leadership organs" — the officers and political commissars.

It also warned outsiders to keep their hands off the army command, a suggestion that civilian Maoists are trying to take over the military leadership.

The Liberation Army Daily stressed the need for greater discipline in the army and indirectly disclosed that Mao, and not Lin Piao, is in charge of the Chinese military.

The paper identified Mao as chairman of the party central committee's military affairs commission — the nation's highest military organization. Recent official commentaries had described Lin as "in charge of the work" of the commission, indicating that he had taken over as chairman.

Mao in the past week has publicly made clear he is dismayed at the toll his purge is taking. He has offered his foes a truce and positions of leadership if they will submit to criticism.

Hostility to the Red Guards was highlighted in an editorial in Red Flag, the theoretical party journal.

Back JFK Probe

'Investigation' Fund Created

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A "conspiracy investigation" fund has been created by New Orleans businessmen to underwrite Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's pledge to prove there was a conspiracy in the assassination of President Jihn F. Kennedy.

"It would amount to a blank check that would pay the cost of the investigation for months and even years," one of the businessmen sponsors said. "We are prepared to back Jim Garrison all the way — five years if necessary."

Garrison said it might be months rather than weeks before arrests could be made.

He also said he would go to banks, if necessary, to personally borrow money to finance the investigation.

While there have been a number of critics of the Warren report, Garrison is the first public official with power to investigate to say there was a conspiracy.

Convinced that Garrison is right and will produce results if his investigation is free of any money obstacles, various New Orleans businessmen pledged to privately finance the investigation.

The Associated Press learned that pledges have been made. The prime mover behind the fund raising is Joseph M. Rault Jr., president of Rault Petroleum Corp. of New Orleans.

Rault confirmed the fund's existence, but declined to give any dollar amount.

The unorthodox financing of an investigation by a public official came about partly as a result of newspaper disclosures that Garrison was conducting an investigation into the Kennedy assassination.

The New Orleans States-Item broke the story after discovering that the district attorney's office had spent about $8,000 in three months. Vouchers covering this amount described the use of travel funds for "special investigation."

Garrison said that by publishing the names of the cities to which his staff traveled, possible witnesses or suspects were alerted and that this impeded his investigation.

The solution, he said, was to find money that wouldn't have to be accounted for in public records.

"I am determined to see this through," Garrison said. "There is no question that there will be arrests, and there is no question there will be charges and convictions."

Two days after he made that statement, a free-lance pilot David W. Ferrie, a central figure in Garrison's probe, was found dead in bed. An artery in his brain had ruptured.

Garrison said on Wednesday the death was an apparent suicide. But on the basis of an autopsy, Coroner Nicholas Chetta later ruled out murder as a possible cause of death, leaving suicide, accidental death or natural death as possible causes. Chetta said he saw no evidence of suicide other than an unsigned, undated note which described death as a "sweet prospect."

New State Court Plan Is Presented

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Robert M. White II of Mexico presented a preliminary draft today of a plan drawn by a special committee of the 125-member citizens conference for overhaul of Missouri's courts.

The plan, known as the Missouri plan of nonpartisan courts, simply extends the original non political plan of setting up courts for the entire court system.

In addition, it would do away with magistrate, probate and municipal and police courts and replace them with a new district court system.

There would be one district court in each county with divisions if necessary in larger counties, or two or more counties if the Missouri Supreme Court says so.

Appeal from the district court would have to be taken to one of four appellate courts — one more than at present.

In other words, if your are convicted of running a stop sign in district court and want to appeal the case it would have to be taken to one of four appellate courts, to be located in Jefferson City, Kansas City, St. Louis and Springfield.

Circuit courts would be retained and have original jurisdiction except where the Supreme Court puts jurisdiction in the district court.

Killed In Accident

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Paul Sturman, 42, of Pacific, Mo., was killed early today when his car crashed in suburban St. Louis.

Sturman was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Louis County Hospital.

Troopers say Sturman apparently lost control of his vehicle on a curve and crashed into a tree on the shoulder of the road.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

We at East Broadway Christian Church believe all denominational names are wrong.

Luke tells us "The Disciples were first called Christians at Antioch." Acts 11:26.

Paul tells us all party names are wrong. I Corinthians 1:12, 13.

Luther said, "Do not call yourselves Lutherans, but Christians."

Wesley said, "I would to God all party names were forgotten."

We desire to be known as Christians only. Just as the Bible teaches.

FINDING THE WAY

Cast The Net Again

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There is nothing amazing in the fact that we get tired. The New Testament reports a night of bad fishing after which the men were tired. They were washing their nets, and grumbling as tired people have a habit of doing. These were the men whom Jesus challenged to go fishing again. They took the dare, and came home excited because they had had success.

We might remember that just now. Why keep on trying for nuclear disarmament? Why try to negotiate for peace? Why try to end racial and ethnic tensions? Try any of these and you're bound to get tired.

It doesn't take much of a person to get tired. It DOES take a person of great faith to be persistently adventurous.

It doesn't take much of a church to be tired. It DOES take a church of great faith to be creatively adventurous.

It doesn't take much of a country to get tired. It DOES take a nation of great faith to be morally adventurous.

If we expect leaders of the nations to continue to talk instead of blowing up the planet, we ought to keep at it locally. There are enough racial, ethnic and social situations in any neighborhood to keep us talking and working. There are enough defeats to be tempted to quit trying. Why keep on fishing for a big idea, when you have little to show for it but empty nets?

And yet, it has been that brave company in every generation who lose themselves in the greatness of the cause, who make one forget to be tired. These can be wearying days, with enough to make us cry in despair, "Why fish?"

Those men who fished for justice and truth and honor in other generations have made it possible for us to know something of their victories in our own time.

If we're too tired — or morally tired and apathetic — to worship or pray, or to work with our neighbor in trying to solve a difficult problem, then there's little to do but try to escape in some form of forgetfulness. Either that — or the faith which requires trust and which acts in obedience. When we see the cause clearly enough, we forget to be tired.

Fires In City

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to 625 West Fifth at 5:52 p. m. Thursday, the residence of T. W. Hurley. The fire was caused by burning trash that spread to his garage. Damage was listed as slight.

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to 2200 South Ingram at 3:56 p. m. Thursday to extinguish a grass fire. There was no damage reported.

Circuit Court

A petition for damages which amounting to $150,000, was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Gary M. Wahrenbrock, 907 West Fourth, against Steven Frederick Morris, Route 3.

This petition for damages is the result of a two-car accident which occurred, Dec. 11, 1966, in which seven persons were injured, six seriously, on south U. S. Highway 65, in front of the APCO service station, formerly the Jerry Brown station.

Missouri Highway Patrol Trooper William Southwick, who investigated the accident, reported that a 1966 Buick sedan belonging to Mr. June Brown, mother of Wahrenbrock, who was the driver, had pulled into the station, which was closed, and then pulled out of a south driveway and made a left turn on the highway, heading north, just as the 1965 Pontiac GTO crested a rise in the road. The Pontiac is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitfield, Dresden, grandparents of the driver, Frederick Steven Morris.

According to the Trooper, the Pontiac's front collided with the left front side and left rear door of the Buick, which was knocked south and came to a stop in the south traffic lane headed northwest. The Pontiac went off the highway on the east side and down a slight embankment.

Morris suffered a severe fracture of the jaw, lacerations of the face and legs and a possible back injury.

Donald R. Anderson's resignation as trustee for the Perpetual Care Fund of the Missouri Cities Memorial Park Corp., was accepted in Circuit Court Thursday.

The court appointed Adolph Glenn, Paul S. Reed and William F. Brown as trustees to succeed Anderson.

The action had its roots in a two-count petition filed April 23, 1966, in Circuit Court here. At that time, the petition named Henry C. Salveter, Louis R. Hughes Jr., and Clinton J. Muller, representatives of owners of burial lots and grave space in Sedalia Memorial Park Cemetery, as plaintiffs. Defendants in the case then were the Missouri Cities Memorial Park Corp., and Francis J. Fisher and Donald R. Anderson.

The first count of the petition sought an accounting and the second count asked the court for removal of the trustees and the perpetual care fund and the appointment of successors of the trustees.

The second count has now apparently been satisfed, but indications are the first part of the petition may still have to be dealt with.

A petition for damages was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Mervin Oehrke against D. J. Jobe. The petition asks for $450 as a result of a accident involving a 1956 Chrysler and an Angus steer.

The petition states that Oehrke was driving his car south on Grand, Sept 29, 1965, when it struck the steer, belonging to Jobe. The plaintiff states that at the time of the collision, his car was worth $500, after the mishap, the value of the car was $50.

Police Reports

Ira Paxton, 611 East 17th, reported to the police that some boys had been throwing rocks at his house for the last several nights.

Sheriff Report

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax Wednesday morning assisted a Greene County deputy sheriff from Springfield in making an arrest of a Sedalia man on charges of burglary and stealing in Greene County. The Sedalian was Lesle Carrol Morris, Route 2, Crestview Trailer Court He was returned to Springfield by the deputy.

Magistrate Court

Larry Murphy and Alva Sypolt, both of Sedalia, entered pleas of guilty in Magistrate Court Friday to charges of stealing under $50 and both were sentenced to 60 days in the county jail, plus court costs.

The sentence followed a break-in Jan. 10, 1967 of a cigarette machine and coin box at the automatic laundry at Main and Harrison.

Area Fires

Pettis County Firemen made two runs Thursday, the first at 2:15 p.m. to the Howard farm, Route 3, where a grass fire burned off five acres. Cause of the fire was unknown, and no damage was listed.

Then, at 8:30 p.m., the department received a call to the C. E. Leftwich farm, Route 5, where a brush fire was out of control. The department reported, however, that Leftwich stopped the fire truck before its arrival, reporting the fire had been put out.

Again, the cause was not known and no damage was listed by the department.

Program On Safety Heard By Kiwanis

Although we are living in the most safety-conscious era in history, highway casualties continued to increase at an alarming rate, Trooper Robert W. Bruce, of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, Lee's Summit, told Sedalia Kiwanians at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Bruce, who is assistant safety officer of Troop A, noted the fatality list in 1966 reached 1,380, ten more than the previous year, or the equivalent of four persons a day on Missouri highways. Nationally the toll has reached 52,000 annually.

Public reaction to highway fatalities compared to those in airplane crashes is contradictory. Most persons are horrified reading news of lives lost in airplane disasters, yet these losses are 42,000 less a year than on the highways.

The speaker also reviewed legal requirements for operation of motor vehicles — the necessity of having two functioning tail lights, a white light illuminating a license plate; vision tests on license renewals: proper use of turn signals and the horn when passing other cars.

Trooper Bruce emphasized that all the new safety features built into modern automobiles will be of no protection to motorists unless they become more safety conscious and operate their vehicles accordingly.

The speaker was introduced by R. A. Fitzwilliam, program chairman.

The Lenten Meditation was given by the Rev. Garner S. Odell, pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church.

An induction ceremony for four new members was performed by Jack Shoemaker, chairman of the Education and Attendance committee, assisted by sponsors and President James D Giokaris. New members are: Robert McDonald, vice-president, Third National Bank, sponsored by Henry Salveter; James Ryan, salesman, Thompson-Greer Motors, Inc., sponsored by Lindsey Edwards; Henry Lamm, presiding judge of the Pettis County Court, sponsored by Roy Brown; the Rev. Medford Speaker, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, sponsored by John St. Clair.

Invocation was by Louis R. Hughes, Jr.

Guests were: Fred Biggs with Ed Woodrel; and Jerry Fox with the Rev. Medford Speaker.

Law Enforcement Lectures Are Well Attended

The first of a series of evening lectures being held to promote cooperation and understanding between the public and law enforcement officials was held Thursday night. The first of the series was broken into two separate meetings, one for the public at the Pettis County Courthouse, the other for law enforcement officers in the City Council chambers of the City Hall.

Attending the meeting at the courthouse were various civic leaders and residents from surrounding communities.

In the session at the City Hall, both police and sheriff's offices were represented from Marshall, Boonville, Slater, Sedalia, Saline, Cooper and Pettis Counties.

Among the lecturers at the citizens meeting was Capt. George W. Pate, retired trooper captain of the State Highway Patrol, and a professor from the Central Missouri State College. At the City Hall, Adam Fischer, local attorney who is also instructing criminal law at CMSC, was the speaker.

In spite of the cold night both sessions were well attended.

The sessions will be held on Thursday nights with the next session to be conducted, March 9. Participating in the program will be representatives from the Office of the State Attorney General; Federal Bureau of Investigation; United States Attorney's office; professors and instructors from CMSC, and from the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: The letter written by "Janet," the teenager who hated her alcoholic father touched me deeply. I grew up in a home where father was seldom sober. I suffered many indignities because of his drunkenness.

I would like to tell Janet this: Your father is desperately ill, not just physically but mentally. The anguish he has caused you is nothing compared to the torment HE endures.

You wouldn't hate your father if he were dying of cancer, would you? In a way, alcoholism can be worse than cancer because so often people refuse to recognize that an alcoholic is ill. They keep saying, "He could straighten up if he wanted to" and, "All it takes is will power."

You can help your father if you have the courage and the desire to do so. Tell your mother, your doctor, your minister, anyone who might help, that your father needs hospitalization. It won't be easy.

I remember my mother's refusal to admit that Father was mentally ill. He had to try suicide before she was persuaded.

And please don't waste any more time or energy hating your father. He hates himself enough for both of you. Try love and understanding. And above all, get him the help he needs. — FORMER ALATEEN.

Dear Former: Your signature came as no surprise. I urge all teen-agers who must live with an alcoholic parent to contact this superb organization which is a branch of Alcoholics Annonymous. The national headquarters is: Alcoholic Foundation, Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Dear Ann Landers: You have printed several letters about telephone courtesy over the years. I hope yu will print one more.

I'm a business woman who uses the telephone a great deal. I don't mind it when a secretary tries to be super-efficient but I hate conversations that go like this:

Secretary answers phone: "Mr. Brown's office."

Me: "May I speak to Mr. Brown please?"

Sec.: "Mr. Brown is out at the moment. If you will leave your name and number I will have Mr. Brown reutrn your call."

Me: "Never mind. I'll call again later."

Sec.: "May I ask who is calling, please?"

Now this last sentence is what burns me up. If I had wanted to identify myself I would have done so when the secretary asked me to leave my name and number. Perhaps I wanted to speak to Mr. Brown about a trivial matter and I didn't want him to wrack his brain wondering why I was calling. Or maybe I just wanted to surprise him. Do you understand what I mean?—DANDER UP.

Dear Up: If Mr. Brown is a busy executive he doesn't have time for "surprises." Do you know what I mean?

A cardinal rule of telephone courtesy is that the person who places the call should identify himself at once. To expect a busy person to return a blind phone call is not only presumpeuous but arrogant.

Confidential to Up To You: I wouldn't make this decision for anybody. The pill should be taken ONLY under a physician's instruction. Women who took the pill on their own have wound up ill—and yes, even pregnant.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jack Taylor, former Sedalian, who for five years has been managing editor of the Canton Daily Ledger, Canton, Ill., has resigned to accept a position with the Associated Press in Chicago. For seven and one-half years Taylor was news editor of the Sedalia Capital.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Sedalia and Pettis county again have reason to be proud of a native son. This time it is Richard Fowler, 23-years-old, a member of the well known Fowler family residing east of Sedalia. He is author of a story published in the February issue of Scribner's magazine. To be recognized by the editorial staff of this magazine is indeed considered an honor, and means that the author has talent and will go far in the world of literature. (Editor's note: Mr. Fowler is now president and editor of the Kansas City Star.

Formula For Winner

Shipbuilding today is virtually an exclusive industry of the Japanese. Japan has a backlog of 20 million deadweight tons on order, even though it is turning out large tankers in as little as two months.

Cheap labor is the usual explanation given for Japan's lead in this field, plus the advantage of ultramodern yards built to replace facilities destroyed in World War II.

An American visited Japan recently and has come back to explode these "myths."

According to Al Zeien, operations manager for General Dynamics Corporation's Quincy Division, Japanese shipbuilding facilities suffered relatively little war damage. And it is not low wages but individual productivity, achieved through streamlined production control methods and automation, that is the major factor in low costs.

"The major lesson learned from the trip to Japan," says Zeien, "is that winners are winners because they have a sense of purpose. Japanese shipbuilders have that sense and, I believe, so do we."

Retard Strain On The Heart

High Blood Pressure Can Be Controlled

By Robert W. Wilkins, M.D.
Past President,
American Heart Association
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dr. Robert Wilkins

As recently as five years ago, I would have been hesitant to state categorically that one could "control" high blood pressure. Now that we have 15 years of clinical experience, rather than only 10, we know that pressure-lowering drugs do work. They do prolong life — mainly by lessening the strain on the heart and blood vessels and so decreasing the risk of heart attacks.

High blood pressure — especially in combination with other risk factors covered in this series, is controllable in almost all instances.

One must remember that drugs should be used to control blood pressure only after a thorough search for any primary remediable cause has been made and has revealed no such cause.

If a cause is found, such as a diseased kidney, a tumor of the adrenal gland or a constricted blood vessel that may be corrected surgically, it is necessary to operate to remove that cause. But in 85 to 90 per cent of cases of high blood pressure, no such underlying cause is found and so the diagnosis becomes one of primary or essential hypertension.

"Essential hypertension" means that the pressure of the blood which the heart pumps into the arteries is too high. For some unknown reason it starts to go up, usually at about the age of 30. While a single cause cannot be found, there are a number of predisposing or aggravating factors known to raise the pressure in essential hypertension. They fall into five main groups:

Familial. Essential hypertension tends to appear in certain families, and if one's parents and close relatives have it, one is more likely to develop it.

Nervous and emotional stress. These are known to aggravate anyone's blood pressure, but in essential hypertension the patient appears abnormally reactive to such irritations.

A high salt (sodium) diet. This always seems to aggravate hypertensive tendency.

Kidney disease. As already mentioned, if severe enough, this may cause hypertension, but apparently even mild kidney diseases may aggravate blood pressure in an essentially hypertensive person.

Just as primary tumors of the adrenal gland may cause hypertension in anyone, so even normal adrenal activity if stimulated by some of the factors mentioned above seems to aggravate an existing hypertensive tendency.

Any physician taking care of a patient with high blood pressure will think about each of these factors and try to do what he can about them. While he can't do anything about a hypertensive patient's family, he can and does try to lessen the nervous irritations to which the patient seems to be sensitive.

Similarly, he usually tries to cut down on excessive salt (sodium) in the diet. He also tries to treat any kidney disease that is treatable, and to lessen the likelihood of worsening of such disease.

He then tries the patient on blood pressure - lowering drugs usually cautiously at first, in small does and in various combinations, to see if they will moderate the pressure without causing any symptoms.

Considerable experience on the part of the doctor and of the patient is often necessary before a really satisfactory schedule of drugs is achieved. Persistence is the main requisite for success. Success means a lowering of the pressure to only mildly high levels, without causing any symptoms.

If blood pressure is being properly controlled, not only is the pressure lower, but also the patient should feel more normal (he may not feel quite as "peppy" — but he will feel more like a normal person). In addition, he should have a better life expectancy so far as the danger of heart strain or heart attack is concerned.

Finally, controlling high blood pressure is only the fifth step and it is aided by taking all of the other steps previously discussed in this series — proper diet, stopping smoking, maintaining normal weight and regular exercise. Each of these along with blood pressure control should assure the patient a full life expectancy. For men this is now up to the age of 72.

By contrast, life expectancy in untreated high blood pressure cases, combined with certain other uncorrected risk factors, is only age 52. Are these 20 extra years from 52 to 72 worth the effort? Only the patient can answer this question.

But the time to answer by taking these five steps is before age 52, and preferably even before age 30.

(End Series.)

Washington Merry-Go-Round

CIA Money to Labor Biggest Subsidy

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Revelation that the Central Intelligence Agency has paid almost $1 million to the Newspaper Guild in six years gave the public a look at only the above-water part of the CIA-AFL-CIO iceberg. The rest of the CIA money paid to organized labor, estimated at around $100 million a year, is probably the biggest fund dished out by Central Intelligence to anyone.

This payment and the foreign policy which goes with it are the chief bone of contention between AFL-CIO President George Meany and AFL-CIO Vice President Walter Reuther. It has come close to splitting the powerful AFL-CIO combine into two separate units after years of negotiating to put them together.

The huge CIA subsidy to organized labor chiefly goes to the following unions and union affiliates:

— Jay Lovestone, sometimes called Meany's minister of foreign affairs, a Lithuanian immigrant who became Secretary General of the American Communist Party, then turned strongly anti-Communist. Lovestone takes orders from Cord Meyer of the CIA. No CIA money for labor is spent without Lovestone's approval, and few labor attaches are appointed to American embassies abroad without his ok.

— The International Oil Workers Union, which has handled sizeable amounts of CIA money, especially in Indonesia.

— The Food and Restaurant Workers Secretariat, which embraces the food, hotel and brewery workers.

— The PTT Secretariat for the postal, telegraph and telephone unions, all working closely with Joe Bierne, President of the Communications Workers of America.

— Irving Brown, Lovestone's No. 1 ambassador in Europe, who operates largely through the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

— The American Institute for Free Labor Development — or AIFLD — with offices on "K" Street in Washington. It spends millions in Latin America.

— The African-American Labor Center (AALC) which spends CIA money in Africa.

— The Inter-American Regional Labor Organization — or ORIT — which also operates in Latin America. Its parent, the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions is too liberal for Lovestone, but ORIT takes direction from Lovestone and with it takes CIA money.

No Accounting

Some of these groups have done good work in combating Communist labor influences and in spreading Free Trade Unionism. But the difference between their work and the work of Arthur Goldberg with European labor during the war was that Goldberg's was openly associated with the OSS, a counter - intelligence organization, while the affiliation between organized labor and the CIA is highly secret and carried on through dummy foundations.

Furthermore, there is no competent committee of Congress with knowledge of American policy which rides herd on the huge expenditure of government money to organized labor. Thus you frequently find Meany and Lovestone following policies directly opposite to those of the United States. Meany, for instance, once called the late Premier Nehru of India an "ally of Communism."

Finally, there is no government accounting of these funds on behalf of the taxpayer. Unlike other agencies, these secret CIA funds do not have to be audited by the General Accounting Office. There is no way for the public or the General Accounting Office to know that Irving Brown in Europe paid $1 million to corrupt elements in the French Longshoremen's Union at Marseilles to get them to unload Marshall Plan goods in 1948, and that heavy payments continued to the French Longshoremen for an indefinite period afterward.

The Reuther faction of the AFL - CIO argues privately that the acceptance of CIA money puts organized labor on the same boat as the government trade unions of Communist Eastern Europe and Fascist Spain. Yet Meany, while accepting U. S. government subsidies, boycotts Soviet, Polish and other Communist unions even though they are becoming more independent and even though it's been the policy of the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations to build bridges between East and West.

Biggest spender of CIA money is AIFLD, composed not only of the Meany-Lovestone faction in the AFL-CIO, but Peter Grace of the Grace Steamship Line, Juan Trippe of Pan American Airways, and Charles Brinckerhoff of Anaconda Copper. To this partnership, labor is supposed to put up $200,000 and business $280,000. However, since labor share is raised on a collection basis, some unions don't come across.

Central Intelligence not only makes up the difference, but adds several million dollars besides — all through dummy foundations. The AIFLD then puts up the money for housing projects in the Dominican Republic, Argentina, Costa Rica, Guyana, Mexico and Honduras, a bank in Peru, and training programs all over Latin America. These are laudable programs. However, they are supposed to be the work of the Alliance for Progress, not the super - spy agency of the United States.

In brief, the CIA's cooperation with labor has come to be one way of getting around congressional appropriations for foreign aid, and also using funds to back dictatorships in Latin America.

The World Today

Romney Personality Great; Skimpy Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has finished a seven-day western speaking trip that still leaves him looking skimpy on new ideas or even positive ones on the war in Vietnam.

But when his tour was over — a tour obviously calculated to see what kind of reaction he got from Republican voters — he left little doubt he was satisfied or that he wanted his party's presidential nomination.

As usual, the liking for Romney seems more rooted in his personality than any ideas he had to offer. On Vietnam, in particular, his ideas were, and still are, practically zero.

Last July at the governors' conference in Los Angeles he was asked to express himself on Vietnam and then proceeded to ramble, weave and stumble until the result was undecipherable.

At that time he wound up by saying "there are no simple answers" and admitting "I have failed to take a clear-cut position one way or the other ... ah, I just ... the President hasn't, either. If he hasn't, I don't see why a governor should."

After that it was reported Romney and his advisers thought that before he started talking again in the field of foreign affairs, especially Vietnam, he ought to bone up on the problems. He remained quiet on them a long time.

But he started again on this trip, attacking President Johnson's handling of the war as "clumsy, ill-timed and poorly coordinated." He didn't say how but he did say it was a mistake to get involved in a land war in Asia.

Then he added: "But, since we're still there, we have to see it through." He did not criticize Johnson for resuming the bombing of North Vietnam but later he accused the Johnson administration of "expediency" in handling the war.

The day after that he ducked a question which tried to pin him down. He was asked how the administration was being politically expedient in Vietnam and would he give an example.

He said "No, I will not." Asked why he would not, he replied "Because I choose not to." Then he was asked, "Do you mean you are making a charge without substantiating it?" Romney answered "At this point, yes."

Just a few days before he started his trip through western states on Feb. 17, two public opinion polls — Gallup and Harris — gave conflicting reports on how Republican voters felt about him as a presidential prospect.

Gallup said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was their top choice as the best candidate. Harris said Republicans and independents preferred Romney over Nixon.

The enthusiastic response Romney got around the country after he won a third term as governor last November was enough to put presidential notions in any politician's head but Romney would not admit he was a candidate.

Then the trip began, with Romney still describing himself as a noncandidate and saying he had not made up his mind about his political future.

He got a good reaction and midway through the trip a Romney for President Committee was formed to sound out Republican sentiment nationally about his running in 1968.

The committee, with headquarters in Washington, will be headed by Leonard W. Hall, former chairman of the GOP National Committee and campaign manager for Nixon when the latter tried for the presidency in 1960.

At trip's end Romney was asked if he thought his chances for the nomination now looked good enough for him to try for it. He said, "Well, favorable enough to keep up the hot courtship."

This was more positive, although not fully positive, than he had been before.

Hal Boyle's Column

No Freedom Compares To That Found In Mid-Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —There is no freedom like middle-aged freedom.

Just a few years ago people used to hate reaching their 40th birthday. They'd even try to hide the fact from themselves and the rest of the world.

They felt that merely being 40 had a sound of senility to it, as if their life had been put on the shelf. They silently mourned the passing of their youth.

Well sir, today that is an old-fashioned view. People have awakened to the discovery that 40 can be an exit from slavery, a milestone on the path of true human liberty. Far from being a disgrace, it is a condition of dignity and has certain welcome advantages and privileges.

For example:

You are too old to have to study algebra but too young yet to have to learn how to fill out a government medicare form.

The chairman of the board of your firm decides you are now dry enough behind the ears to be considered as possible executive timber.

You are now getting wise enough not to eat the kind of foods that upset your stomach.

On the other hand, if you don't want to accept a dinner invitation, your wife can always phone the hostess and explain, "Sorry, we won't be able to make it. You know Henry's gall bladder—it's been acting up again."

Any company is glad to issue you a credit card, figuring that by now you have reached the age of responsibility.

You can express your views on national and international politics without being regarded as a smart aleck young whippersnapper.

That touch of gray at your temples makes you look more distinguished, and helps bring out the hidden character lurking behind your baggy eyes.

The pretty girls at the office now think you are "harmless"—and, boy, that's where they make their mistake! There is no devil with the ladies like a middle-aged devil.

Barbers and taxicab drivers no longer try to regale you with risque jokes which were old even when you were in high school. They realize your mind is on grave and important matters.

Your wife now takes it for granted that you love her, and no longer demands that you explain why.

There is no law on earth that can compel you to stay up after midnight—unless you really want to.

All the recurrent and annoying emergencies that used to clutter your life begin to fade. You begin to quit wasting your energy doing unnecessary things.

Convinced at last that you can't refashion the world single-handed, you are at liberty to start harvesting the real glories of this earth with a quiet eye and a more understanding heart.

Yes, there's no freedom like middle-aged freedom. The wonder is that there are still so many people left who don't want to be that free.

Letter To The Editor

LARRY C. MELTON (Minister of Education, East Sedalia Baptist Church.)

The article in the paper regarding the petition being circulated against Chief Miller has stirred a great deal of interest in our area. We appreciate the article which informs the Sedalia community that there are those who are trying to undermine the stand Chief Miller is taking against prostitution and his proposals to regulate gambling in our city. We only hope he will continue to seek approval by City Council. I personally detest this action that is circulating, but it is evident that those elements are scared and are making a futile attempt to confuse our citizens. I only hope we will all stand behind Chief Miller and his attempts to make a better community out of Sedalia.

The term "single suit play" applies when you must concentrate on one suit only. Your correct single suit play depends on the exact cards you hold and on the number of tricks in the suit you need.

South looked over dummy carefully and decided that he had very little chance to get more than four tricks out of spades, hearts and diamonds. Therefore it was up to him to try for five tricks in the club suit.

He won the first spade in his own hand and led a club toward dummy. West played the six and South played dummy's ten. When this held and both opponents followed to the ace. South had his five club tricks.

This play would not have been the best way to go after five club tricks if South had held the ten of clubs. In that case the normal play of ace-king-queen would have been correct. The reason the play was correct in this case is because South gets no value out of the ten of clubs in dummy unless he takes that first-round finesse. The play of the ace-king-queen produces five tricks only if clubs break 3 - 3. They break this way only 35.5 per cent of the time. The ten spot finesse produces five tricks any time West starts with Jx; Jxx or Jxxx in clubs. This happens 42 per cent of the time and a 42 per cent chance is a good deal better than a 35.5 per cent chance.

Suppose that South needs only four club tricks. How should he play? He should play exactly the same way. He can't win four tricks against five or six to the jack in the East hand. The first round finesse guards against five or six to the jack in the West hand and only costs that fourth trick against a singleton jack held by East.

Code for New, Police, Bar

NEW YORK (AP) — A committee of the Bar of the City of New York said Thursday the claim of news media that prejudicial pretrial news coverage emanated largely from law enforcement agencies and the judicial establishment "rests in a solid basis of fact."

It added that "the judicial establishment has not done what it should have done to correct these abuses."

The committee report suggested codes of conduct for police and a new code of ethics for lawyers.

But the group, headed by U.S. Circuit Judge Harold R. Medina, also asserted:

"One of the conclusions reached by this committee is that because of the principles embedded in the First Amendment, the conduct of the press is largely beyond control of the courts and the judges. But the autonomy which the Constitution guarantees the news media carries with it the responsibility for putting their own house in order.

"Thus the most helpful step which can be taken to promote impartial trials is for the news media to adopt voluntary codes covering all aspects of crime reporting. Hopefully, in taking this step, the press will accept, and will be offered, the advice and cooperation of all bar associations. The problems in this area vary somewhat in the different localities and there may not be any one 'best' code. Rather, the local bar working with the local news media may devise the code which best suits the needs of their community."

The report was more than three years in the making and covers 99 pages.

Judge Medina has been a federal judge since 1947 when he was appointed to the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. He gained fame in 1949 when he presided over the nine-month trial of 11 Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by violence. He subsequently was appointed to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, resigned on his 70th birthday but returned on special assignments.

The report was one of a series which have been made by bar and press groups since the Warren report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy charged the American press with "irresponsibility and lack of self discipline." Following that report the Supreme Court ruled that "virulent publicity" surrounded the first murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard. At his recent second trial, he was acquitted.

In discussing a police code, the Medina committee suggested that "a member of the police agency shall be designated as the information officer responsible for the dissemination of all information to the news media. It will be the responsibility of the information officer to supervise the enforcement of these regulations and to solicit and encourage full cooperation of news media. No member of the police agency may furnish any information to news media without prior approval by the information officer. No interviews shall be permitted with investigating or arresting officers."

"Wherever feasible the information officer will encourage news media to enter into pool arrangements so as to reduce confusion and interference with the orderly processes of law enforcement. It shall be a prime responsibility of the information officer to insure a calm and orderly atmosphere during the dissemination of information to news media," it said.

In discussing recommendation for a new canon on ethics for lawyers, the committee said:

"It is unprofessional for a lawyer publicly to make, or sanction the publication or broadcast of, an out-of-court statement or disclosure of fact or opinion regarding a pending or anticipated civil action or proceeding or criminal prosecution.

"It is therefore the ethical responsibility of lawyers to refrain from the public issuance of statements or other disclosures relating to such action, proceeding, or prosecution, which concern:

"1. The merits of the claims of a plaintiff or defendant in a civil action or proceeding, or the guilt or innocence of a defendant in a criminal prosecution;

"2. The existence or contents of a party's confession, admission or other pretrial declaration;

"3. Testimony or other evidence to be offered at trial;

"4. Matters of fact bearing upon the cause, which will be offered in evidence at trial;

"5. The credibility or reliability of witnesses, or the probative force of other evidence offered or to be offered at trial;

"6. Testimony or other evidence which has been excluded by the court;

"7. The conduct, reputation or criminal record of any party or witness;

"8. The rulings or decisions of the court during the litigation.

"9. Any other matter which may tend to interfere with a fair trial, or may otherwise tend to prejudice the due administration of justice."

"It is the duty of a lawyer engaged in a civil action or proceedings or a criminal prosecution to attempt to restrain his client and witnesses from making any out-of-court statement or disclosure of fact or opinion proscribed by this canon.

"The foregoing, however, shall not be deemed to restrict the issuance of a brief statement by a lawyer concerning:

"1. His client's intention to plead not guilty in a pending criminal prosecution, or to defend a pending civil action or proceeding;

"2. The identity of the defendant in a pending criminal prosecution or the fact, the time and the place of his arrest, or the charge or charges against him;

"3. The identity of the parties to pending civil action or proceeding, the claim asserted and the amount in controversy.

In its discussion of "the courts straining power of contempt, and the judges" and the restraining power of contempt, the committee observed "with respect to the police and the press in the entire pretrial period we think it unwise and detrimental to ths public interest to give such contempt powers to the courts and the judges. Moreover, we think that such proceeding and the court rules, legislation or what not else authorizing such contempt proceedings might well be held to be a violation of the First Amendment guarantees of free press and free speech. Furthermore, as to the police, we find no authority inherent in the courts or the judges to discipline them for alleged breach of their duties as police officers."

In its discussion of a police code, the committee made these recommendations:

"Concerning the defendant:

"1. The release of information concerning the defendant shall be limited to his same, age, occupation, marital status and personal data not related to the crime or the character of the defendant. His criminal record, prior medical and psychiatric history, or military disciplinary record, if any, shall not be released. No other information that is clearly prejudicial to the defendant shall be released.

"2. No statement of any nature made by the defendant, or the substance thereof, shall be released. No reference shall be made to any test taken by the defendant or that he has refused to take.

"3. The announcement of the arrest of the defendant may include, in addition to the information authorized in paragraph 1, the time, place, and manner of apprehension, as well as the text or summary of the charge, information or indictment. No comments shall be made relating to his guilt or innocence.

"4. News media shall not be permitted to interview the defendant with or without his attorney's consent while he is in police custody.

"5. News media shall not be permitted to photograph or televise the defendant while he is in police custody and in other than a public place. This prohibition extends to such instances as where he is in a lockup or dewhere he is being processed ('booked') following arrest, lhre he is in a lockup or detention facility, or where he is at hospital bedside for identification purposes. The defendant shall be escorted through public places as expeditiously as possible. While the news media shall not be prevented from photographing or televising the defendant in a public place, he shall not be halted or posed for their convenience.

"6. Where the defendant is still at large, and it appears that he is a fugitive from justice, additional information that may reasonably and directly aid in effecting his apprehension, including his photograph, may be released"

The committee recommended concerning the crime, the investigation and the arrest:

"1. A general description of the crime shall be made available to the news media. Gruesome or sordid aspects which tend unduly to inflame public emotions shall not be released. Witnesses shall not be identified by name or otherwise, nor shall any comment be made concerning their credibility, their testimony or their identification of the defendant.

"2. Wherever possible, the taking of photographs of maimed or deceased victims shall not be permitted.

"3. No comment on the apparent motivation or character of the perpetrator shall be made.

"4. No information concerning scientific evidence such as laboratory or ballistics tests or fingerprints shall be released.

"5. At the time of arrest, in addition to the information which may be released concerning the defendant, the announcement may include the identity of the investigating and arresting officers, and the time duration of the investigation."

The committee said, "We conclude this final report with a feeling of optimism. At last the community at large as well as the courts and the judges, the lawyers and the bar associations and every segment of the news media, has been alerted to the dangers of prejudicial publicity.

"All must now recognize the 'bedlam' and the 'carnival' and 'Roman holiday' aspects of sensational criminal trials are disgrace to American justice. The continuing efforts by all concerned to improve the situation are most encouraging."

Producer Up-Stages Stars

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The Variety hour, so often a predictable bore, took a giant step Thursday night with ABC's "C'-Est La Vie."

In the hour, taped in Paris, it may have been the first time in the careers of either Maurice Chevalier and Diahann Carroll that they were successfully upstaged by production values, staging and camerawork. Good as both were, the real star of the show was its director, Jean-Christophe Averty.

The program sparkled with innovation and imagination. Averty used his big white stage like a canvas, sometimes breaking it with straight lines, sometimes with hollow block inside of which were his dancers and stars.

Miss Carroll and Chevalier serenely sang their charming ways through all this inventive background. In one number, Miss Carroll sang "Some of These Days" in a forest of blinking spotlights of various colors.

If the program had one fault it was that the backgrounds were often so busy, so unusual and so attention-getting that the viewer's attention strayed from the principals in the center of things.

The packaging firm of Goodson and Todman, soon to be out of evening game shows when "To Tell The Truth" and "What's My Line?" disappear, have a new daytime entry, "Snap Judgment" arriving in NBC's lineup on April 13.

It will replace the feeble entry, "Reach For The Stars," out of Merv Griffin's production shop, that managed to survive only three months.

Ed McMahon, Johnny Carson's late evening man Friday, will be host on the program which appears to have been inspired by psychologist's word-association tests on one hand and Goodson-Todman's own "Match Game" on the other.

Studio contestants will attempt to react to a series of words with words that they hope will be chosen by their celebrity team mates.

Love Letter Is Part Of Testimony

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "But I love you and I want to marry you."

This was part of a letter read in court by William H. Brown, who claims he never promised to marry a dark-haired German beauty who is suing him for breach of promise.

The letter was read by Brown Thursday after the millionaire Arizona rancher was called by the attorney for Beate Leber as an adverse witness.

The letter was signed: "Good-by Iglo. Your future husband Bill."

Mrs. Leber, 34, of Heidelberg, Germany, is suing Brown, heir to a Pittsburgh, Pa., coal fortune, for $2.5 million of his $5.6 million estate.

Brown, 65, rancher, yachtsman and sports car racing enthusiast, contends that he paid Mrs. Leber's husband $39,000 to lease her for a year.

During the first two days of the U.S. District Court trial, Brown has been reading letters, cablegrams and post cards to the Lebers from cities throughout Europe and the United States.

So far, 72 documents have been read, some of which tell of a three-week visit Mrs. Leber made to Brown's ranch near the Mexican border.

Brown said he asked Mrs. Leber, whom he met at a nudist resort in northern Germany, to be his mistress while they were at the Intercontinental hotel in spring of 1965.

In one letter dated July 28, 1965 Brown called himself an "irascible, grouchy old man with a terrible temper."

Ryun Pointed For Race In Which He Set New Record

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas ate sauerkraut, wieners and onion soup at his dormitory before setting an indoor world record of 1:48.3 in the half-mile Thursday night.

Maybe that ought to be a prescribed pre-meet meal for middle distance runners.

The 19-year-old Jayhawk sophomore admitted he was pointing for the race, the only one he ran in a dual meet with Oklahoma State.

"I cut down in my training a little this week," Ryun said. "This was the last meet for a long time that I'll have only one race. Next week I'll be working hard right up to the Big Eight meet."

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile at 3:51.3, has a pending world mark of 1:44.9 in the outdoor half-mile. All indoor marks are unofficial because of widely varying conditions.

He broke the indoor mark of 1:49 set last Saturday by ex-Oklahoma State star Tom Von Ruden of the Long Beach 49ers in the Mason-Dixon games at Louisville, Ky., on an eight-lap board track, considered possibly the best in the nation.

Ryun's race was on the dirt, unbanked Allen Fieldhouse layout, also eight-laps to the mile. His 220 times were 26.0, 27.0, 27.5 and 27.8. Before the race, Ryun told teammate Mike Sheahon:

"I want to run a real good first quarter, then see what happens."

Sheahon asked Ryun how fast he wanted to run the first quarter.

"About 53 54 seconds," Ryun replied. Sheahon couldn't believe his ears.

"No I mean the first quarter, not the last," Sheahon said.

Ryun said he meant 53 for the first quarter. As it turned out, that was his exact first quarter time — 53.0. Ryun also told Jimmy Metcalf of OSU before the race, "I'm going to try for a real good one."

At the first turn, Ryun led Metcalf by three yards and at the 440 mark he led by five yards. Then Metcalf faded.

In the Big Eight indoor championships at Kansas City March 3-4, Ryun will run the mile and one other race—either the 880, 1,000 or two-mile. He might finish with a leg in the mile relay, if the meet title is on the line.

Ryun was joined by two double winners, Lee Adams and Gary Ard, in leading Kansas past Oklahoma State 85-33. Adams won the 60-yard low hurdles in 6.7 seconds, missing his own world indoor mark of 6.6, and the 60 highs in 7.3. Ard took the long jump in 23-11¾, the 440 in 50.3.

Adams also was second to KU's Ben Olison in the 60-yard dash. Oklahoma State was led by Chris McCubbins, who won the mile in a career indoor best of 4:11.3 and took the two-mile in 9:11.8.

Oklahoma State and Oklahoma will compete in the state federation meet at Norman Saturday, which has drawn more than 300 entries.

Nebraska regains the services of Charlie Greene, world indoor record holder in the 60-yard dash, for a triangular meet with potent New Mexico and Iowa State at Lincoln Saturday. Missouri, Kansas State and Arkansas will compete in a triangular meet at Columbia Saturday night. Air Force is at Colorado.

The field for the Big Eight meet is one of the best in history. Listings by the league office shows Ryun leads the league in four events—the 880, mile in 4:02.6, 1,000 in 2:09.9 and two-mile in 8:44.2.

He can run in only two of them, however. McCubbins has two runner-up times with his 4:11.3 mile and 8:51.6 two-mile. For the first time ever at this stage, the league has four long jumpers over 24 feet, with Ard 24-5¼, Ken Gaines of Kansas 24-5, Oklahoma's Mike Gregory 24-3¾, and Missouri's Gary Rainwater 24-3½.

George Byers, Kansas sophomore who ran 6.8 and 7.3 runner-up times Thursday, leads leads the field in the highs with a 7.2. He also held the previous world mark of 6.7 in the lows, along with Nebraska's Ray Harvey and more than 20 other runners.

Colavito Has Message For Gabe Paul

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rocky Colavito has a message for Gabe Paul:

Don't write or wire — phone.

The Rock sits at home in Temple, Pa., unhappy and unsigned as the Cleveland Indians begin spring training in Tucson, Ariz. A telegram from General Manager Paul remains unanswered. Reportedly, Paul wants Colavito to take a 25 per cent pay cut.

"The least he could have done," Rocky grumbled, "was to give me the courtesy of calling on the phone as he promised last week. But, no. I figure he's just giving me the old business about this is it, take it or leave it.

"I'm not buying. I'm still here and I plan to be here for a while.

The veteran slugger hit only .238 last season, but had 30 home runs. He drove in 72 runs in 151 games.

There were those who did come to terms with their clubs Thursday.

Billy McCool, Tommy Harper, Tommy Helms, Chico Ruiz and Don Pavletich of the Cincinnati Reds signed as did Pittsburgh Pirate infielders Bob Robertson and Luther Quinn.

Steve Whitaker, rightfielder for the Yankees, returned his signed contract, leaving Elston Howard as the lone New York holdout.

Hank Aaron, previously announced to be in the fold, formally signed a contract with Atlanta, that gives him a salary of around $100,000. Another Brave signee was pitcher Ken Johnson. Only Joe Torre is unsigned among the Braves.

And Sonny Siebert, far apart from the Cleveland Indians earlier in the week, signed early in the day.

Chilhowee Ousted From Tournament

Chilhowee was eliminated on Thursday night by Ballard, in the Class S Regionals being held in Montrose, 48-37.

Chilhowee got off to a first quarter lead 13-11, then fell behind at the half, 26-25. The third period Ballard continued to increase their lead as they outscored Chilhowee in the quarter, 14-10. The fourth period was a low scoring effort by both sides, with Ballard scoring 8 points, and Chilhowee 2. Thus moving Ballard into the semi-finals.

Randy Grimes was the high scorer of the game with 17 points for Ballard. Bob Phillips had 11 points for Chilhowee.

Scores by quarters:

Ballard	11	15	14	8—48
Chilhowee	13	12	10	2—37

Individual scoring: Chilhowee; Phillips, 11, Marksberry, 8; McKinzie, 8; E. Courtney, 6; D. Courtney, 2; West, 1; Anstine, 1. Ballard: Grimes 17; Schmetting, 8; Hon, 8; M. Grimes, 7; Mcelwain, 3; Barland, 3; Cumptor, 2.

Celtics Win Three Games, Knicks Don't

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics and the New York Knickerbockers played three National Basketball Association games in three cities within 44 hours. The Celtics won their three; the Knicks didn't.

Both teams faced a grueling schedule. But it was worse for the Knicks — they faced the Celtics twice. New York has lost 17 straight games to Boston; they haven't beaten the Celtics since March 17, 1965.

The marathon began Tuesday night in New York, when the Celtics rolled over the Knicks 143-114. Wednesday night, the scene was Baltimore. In a doubleheader, Boston defeated Baltimore 135-120, but the Chicago Bulls trimmed New York 117-103.

The scene shifted to Boston Thursday for an afternoon match and the Celtics, apparently less weary, topped the Knicks 122-117.

For New York, the string of defeats spelled trouble for their continued grip on third place in the NBA's Eastern Division. They are now only two games ahead of the Cincinnati Royals. The third playoff spot brings $5,000 to the team finishing there, and, as a Celtics spokesman noted, "fourth place finishers shake hands with the management."

The Boston-New York contest Thursday was the only NBA game scheduled.

Larry Siegfried sparked Boston to a big third period surge in Thursday's victory, scoring 15 of his 28 points. Bailey Howell also chipped in with 28 points for Boston, while Walt Bellamy led the Knicks with 27.

Boston won the rough contest at the foul line. Both teams hit for 46 field goals, but Boston cashed 30 of 37 free throws while New York managed only 25 of 38.

Two Leaders Are Closing In On Two Top Marks

NEW YORK (AP) — As college division basketball enters its final week of the regular season, two national statistics leaders are closing in on important marks.

Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem, the scoring leader with a 43.5 average, needs just 42 points to reach 1,000 for the season. He has two more regularly scheduled games and the NCAA College Division Tournament left to play.

Jake Ford of Maryland State could set a free throw accuracy mark. He converted 12 for 12 last week and has missed only six of 97 attempts this season. Ford is averaging .938 from the foul line, compared to the record of .297 set by Jon Hagen of Mankato State in 1963

Frank Stronczek of American International and Arkansas State's John Dickson continue to lead the rebounding and field goal percentage categories.

Stronczek is averaging almost 24 rebounds a game and Dickson has a .691 percentage from the floor.

GETTING UP in the pro basketball world are Jerry Sloan, left, of the Chicago Bulls and Lenny Wilkens of the St. Louis Hawks.

Set To Meet Kansas

Surprise Punch Is Needed For MU Win

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 24 — (Special) — Like a desperate, outclassed fighter Mizzou will have to uncork a surprise punch to deck Kansas in their televised Big Eight basketball game at Lawrence Saturday afternoon

From a personnel standpoint, the Tigers are ill - equipped to surprise anyone, much less the league - leaders in this 1:15 p.m. tipoff. In fact, Coach Bob Vanatta of Missouri will have to depart from his customary lineup, possibly inserting 6-6 Jim Chapman at forward, to combat the Jayhawks' rangy front line.

Kansas, 18-3 overall and 9-1 in conference play, handled Ol' Mizzou, 70-60, in an earlier bout here. However, two of the leading scorers in that one — Tiger Gene Jones (23) and Bob Wilson (17) of Kansas — have tripped up scholasticaly since then. Also lost on grades was M.U.'s seven - foot sophomore, Booker Brown.

Rodger Bohenstiehl, 6-6 K.U. forward, also collected 17 points in that first brush with Missouri, who kept it close until disconcerted by a late, half-court press. Then, two deflections of M.U. passes by Jo Jo White resulted in clinching Jayhawk baskets.

Kansas lost its next outing to Colorado at Boulder, but Coach Ted Owens' crew since has polished off seven straight foes. Missouri has lost four in a row since beating Oklahoma State here.

The Tigers, 3-18 for all games and 1-9 in the league, are in danger of duplicating last year's cellar finish. One notch above is Oklahoma State at 1-8.

Ron Coleman's average is 20, but the slender senior — now Missouri's second - best scorer of all - time — isn't apt to overhaul the 1,338 - point career high of Charlie Henke. With four games left, Coleman has scored 1,211 points.

Missouri returns home against second - place Nebraska here Tuesday.

Probable Starters

Kansas — Ron Franz, (6-7), F; Rodger Bohn'st, (6-6), F; Vernon Vanoy, (6-8), C; Jo Jo White, (6-3), G; Bruce Sloan, (6-5), G.

Missouri—Tom Johnson, (6-4) F; Jim Chapman, (6-6), F; Rich Milling, (6-8), C; Ron Coleman, (6-1), G; Rob Vanatta (6-3), G.

Nebraska — Nate Branch (6-4) F; Tom Baack, (6-5), F; Willie Campbell, (6-5), C; Stuart Lantz, (6-3), G; Ron Simmons, (6-0), G.

Tipoff: MU-KU, 1:15 p.m. Saturday, Allen field house, Lawrence.

MU-NU, 7:35 p.m. Tuesday, Brewer field house, Columbia.

Tournament In Quarter Final Round

Two games were played Thursday night in the quarter finals of the Class S Regionals, being played in Smithton.

In the first game of the evening, the number 2 seeded team in the tournament, Bunceton, after being down 30-26 at the half, fought back in the second half to defeat Otterville, 64-54.

High scorer for Bunceton was Bill Dicus with 24 points. Bishop was the high scorer for Otterville with 20 points.

In the final game of the evening, unseeded New Franklin upset the number 3 seeded team in the tournament, Pilot Grove, 71-65.

New Franklin had a one point lead at the half, then used a big third quarter to increase their lead to seven points, then fought to hold on to it in the final period, to move into the semi-finals.

Dick Lang was the high scorer for New Franklin, as he poured in 28 points. Lammers had 17 points for Pilot Grove.

In semi-final action scheduled for Friday night, in the upper bracket, Stover meets University High of Columbia, at 7 p.m. followed at 8:30 by Bunceton and New Franklin.

Scores by quarters:

New Franklin	13	21	18	19—71
Pilot Grove	15	18	12	20—65
Bunceton	11	15	23	15—64
Otterville	12	18	10	14—54

Forgotten Team Is Back As Defender

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Western, the forgotten team in college basketball, is back to defend its national championship in the NCAA postseason tournament and the Miners from El Paso aren't conceding anything to any team.

"The boys have been pointing for this all year," Don Haskins, the Miners' coach, said today after the NCAA had filled its 23-team field for the championship tourney opening March 11.

Starting one hour after the NCAA issued its at-large invitations Thursday, the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament, the other major postseason tourney, landed seven teams. The 14-team NIT opens March 9 in New York.

Named to the NCAA, along with Texas Western, were Boston College, St. John's of New York, Virginia Tech, Houston, Dayton, Seattle, New Mexico State and the champion of the Ivy League, either Princeton or Cornell.

Syracuse, Providence and Utah State, three of the country's top independents, were tapped for the NIT along with Marquette, Memphis State, Rutgers and St. Peter's of New Jersey.

Louisville, Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified automatically for the NCAA as conference champions. Eleven other conference champions complete the NCAA field. At present they shape up as Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Indiana, Kansas, U. of Pacific, Brigham Young, Southern Methodist, Toledo, Temple and unbeaten UCLA, the country's No. 1 team.

Haskins didn't mention the Bruins, but he obviously had UCLA in mind when he said "the boys have been pointing for this all year, a chance to go back." Hardly anyone expected the Miners to upset Kentucky for the 1966 national championship, but they did. Haskins hopes his boys can go all the way again although UCLA, with its super-sophomore, Lew Alcindor, is favored.

A Saturday afternoon doubleheader at Blacksburg, Va. opens the NCAA tourney March 11. That night the first round will be completed with a single game at Kingston, R.I., and doubleheaders at Lexington, Ky. and Fort Collins, Colo.

The NCAA announced these pairings:

At Blacksburg — Southern Conference champion, probably West Virginia, vs. Ivy League champion, Princeton or Cornell, and St. John's, N.Y. vs. Middle Atlantic Conference champion, probably Temple.

At Kingston — Connecticut, the Yankee Conference champ, vs. Boston College.

At Lexington, Ky. — Virginia Tech vs. Mid-American Conference champion, probably Toledo, and Dayton vs. Western Kentucky, the Ohio Valley Conference winner.

At Fort Collins, Colo. — Houston vs. New Mexico State and Texas Western vs. Seattle.

A scheduled doubleheader at Fort Worth, Tex. was canceled when the field was cut from 25 to 23.

The winners of March 11 advance to the regional finals at College Park, Md., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and Corvallis, Ore. on March 17-18. The March 18 survivors advance to the semifinals and final at Louisville, Ky. March 24-25.

These are the pairings for March 17:

At College Park — winner of Southern Conference vs. Ivy League meets Atlantic Coast Conference winner. Winner of St. John's-Middle Atlantic meets winner of Connecticut-Boston College.

At Evanston, Ill. — winner of Virginia Tech vs. Mid-American meets Big Ten champion. Winner of Dayton-Western Kentucky meets SEC champion, probably Tennessee.

At Lawrence, Kan. — winner of Houston vs. New Mexico State meets Big Eight champion, probably Kansas. Louisville, MVC champion, vs. SWC champion, probably Southern Methodist.

At Corvallis, Ore. — winner of Texas Western vs. Seattle meets WCAC champion, probably U. of Pacific. Pacific-8 champ, probably UCLA, vs. WAC champion, probably Brigham Young.

The NIT opens with a night doubleheader in New York on March 9. Afternoon and night doubleheaders complete the first round on March 11. The quarter-finals are scheduled for March 13-14, the semifinals for March 16 and the championship game for Saturday afternoon, March 18.

Once-beaten Western Kentucky with a 21-game winning streak after an opening defeat to Vanderbilt has the best record of the teams definitely in the NCAA and NIT.

Other records are: Louisville 23-2, Connecticut 17-4, Boston College 16-2, St. John's, 19-3, Virginia Tech 17-4, Houston 20-3, Texas Western 18-5, Dayton 20-4, Seattle 17-6, New Mexico State 14-9, Princeton 20-2, Cornell 18-3.

Syracuse 19-3, St. Peters 18-2, Rutgers 16-6, Providence 17-6, Marquette 16-8, Memphis State 17-7, Utah State 18-4.

Two Games Played In Houstonia

Two games were played Thursday night in the Houstonia Invitational Basketball Tournament. This is the first year for this tournament, which drew 8 town teams from the surrounding area.

In the first game of the evening LaMonte defeated Alma, 110-96. LaMonte led all the way, as they had a half time lead of 57-35. After that, all they had to do was rely on their leading scorer Edmonson to pull them through. Edmonson finished the night with 30 points. High scorer for Alma was Mueller with 23 points.

The second game of the evening Houstonia downed Knob Noster, 103-86. Houstonia had little trouble throughout the game as they lead at the half 38-32, and then outscored Knob Noster in the second half 65-54.

Terry Pummill lead Houstonia in scoring with 22 points. Drover had 22 points for Knob Noster.

The semi-finals will begin Friday night at 7:30.

Scores by quarters:

Houstonia	20	18	37	28—103
Knob Noster	17	15	22	32—86
LaMonte	19	38	24	29—110
Alma	15	22	28	33—98

NFL May Set Format For 'Draft'

HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League was expected to set the date and format of the first common draft today, but the mechanics of the selection process remain an open question.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the owners were "closer to internal agreement" after Thursday's prolonged meeting that ended with a long executive session. Rozelle said he expected the meetings to end today.

Some variation of the American Football League's proposal for separate regular senior draft and redshirt selections appeared likely. It is possible that special exceptions will be made so that a team like Green Bay, with 10 picks in the first five rounds, would not be penalized by action that would have a retroactive effect.

Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager of the world champion Packers, has opposed the two separate drafts because he had made trades last year for choices that he expects to use this season.

The Packers, loaded with talent, often pass up the current crop of collegians and concentrate on the redshirts. A redshirt is a player with remaining collegiate eligibility although his original college class has graduated.

George Halas, veteran owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, reportedly was lined up with Lombardi. However, it would take four negative votes to defeat the two-draft proposal when it comes up for a formal ballot.

Rozelle said unofficial polls had been taken of several variations of the original plans during Thursday's long session. If there are variations from the AFL proposal it would be necessary to contact AFL officials before making any announcement. The draft is expected to be held in mid-March, probably in New York.

Rozelle said it appeared unlikely that any action would be taken here on a proposal to name a new president for the NFL. Rozelle wears two hats as commissioner of pro football under the merger and also commissioner of the NFL. He has hired a firm to conduct a survey of the best administrative setup for pro football, and this survey will not be finished until May.

The NFL's unwritten policy against an owner holding a controlling interest in another sports team was discussed. Many NFL owners are interested in the new soccer leagues and also in pro basketball and hockey ventures.

"There was unanimous sentiment against permitting an owner to have a controlling interest in another sport," said Rozelle. "We are working on guidelines as to just what represents a controlling interest. We will take this up again at our May meeting.

Bill Hundley, the new security chief, reported to the league on his work. Special security people are at work in all NFL cities, and a similar setup is being put in effect in the AFL.

Hawaiian businessmen made an impressive presentation for an NFL franchise in Honolulu by 1972. The Hawaiian people hope to land the Super Bowl for 1972 and plan a 36,000-seat stadium to cost $21.7 million. The stadium would be expanded to an eventual capacity of 46,000, according to Robert Ellis, acting mayor of Honolulu.

Piersall Isn't Type To Retire

HOLTVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Jim Piersall, a 37-year-old outfielder making a bid for his 20th season in organized baseball, just isn't the retiring sort.

So it wasn't surprising Thursday when the California Angels' controversial veteran criticized former teammate Dean Chance and called the trade that sent Chance to Minnesota "the best thing that ever happened to the Angels."

Piersall is working at the Angels' spring training camp as a free agent trying to make the roster. But he took time out to speak as always — rapidly and expansively.

"All I know is we're not going to miss him," said Piersall of Chance, a 26-year-old pitcher who won 74 games in five seasons with the Californians.

"What did Chance win for us last year? Twelve games, that's what he won," said Piersall. "All a couple of our young kids like (Jim) McGlothlin and (Jorge) Rubio have to do is win six each to make up for that, and it should be easy.

"I'm not saying Chance isn't a great pitcher. He may win 25 for the Twins. But he wouldn't have if he'd stayed with us. He would have worn out his welcome. His attitude can hurt a club more than it helps.

"Chance isn't easy to play behind. The things he said and the way he'd just stand there and glare at somebody after an error were upsetting to everybody.

"He never remembers the good plays, the times somebody dove into a fence making a catch for him. He only remembers the errors. He lacks the ability to appreciate."

Americans Own Lead In Golf Tournament

PANAMA (AP) — A pair of Americans took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the Panama Open Golf Championship.

Labron Harris, Jr., a former U.S. Amateur champion, and Richard Whetzle, a young professional from Baltimore, each shot five-under-par 67s in Thursday's opening round.

Harris, who comes from Burneville, Okla., is looking for his first pro victory. He won the amateur crown in 1962.

Tied for second place with opening round 69s were Art Wall, Jr., the ex-Masters champion from Honesdale, Pa., and Ramon Sota of Spain, Bert Weaver of Biloxi, Miss., and Manuel de la Torre of Milwaukee, Wis.

Tulsa One Game Closer To Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tulsa moved one game closer to a National Invitation Tournament bid by beating Bradley 65-62 and NCAA-bound Louisville, the Missouri Valley basketball champion, is ready to finish the league season 13-1, but how about that mad five-team scramble for fourth place.

St. Louis moved into fourth at 5-7 by beating North Texas 73-68 in St. Louis in the other game Thursday night. But a five-way tie for fourth place at 5-9 is still a mathematical possibility.

In that event, every coach could tell the alumni he finished in the first division and be telling the truth.

Tulsa made its Valley record 8-3 and its season standing 17-6 with the victory which wasn't as close as it sounds. Tulsa led by 16 with four minutes left on its home court. A Bradley press closed the gap.

St. Louis plays at Tulsa Saturday and Tulsa could clinch a tie for second place with a victory, providing Wichita, 7-4, loses to Louisville at Wichita.

Cincinnati, 5-8 plays at Drake, 3-9, in the Valley weekly afternoon television game. In the other game, Bradley, 4-8, plays at North Texas, also 4-8.

Dan Spika, North Texas coach, needs only one more victory to assure a full-season record above the break-even .500 mark—a feat NTS has never accomplished in 10 years of Valley membership.

Tulsa is headed for its best season record in 12 years and could surpass the 21-7 record of the 1955 club if it wins in tourney play. That '55 Tulsa team was coached by Clarence Iba, brother of the noted Oklahoma State veteran headman, Hank Iba. New Valley member Memphis State, 17-7, coached by Hank's son, Moe Iba, accepted an NIT bid Thursday and will meet Villanova at Philadelphia tonight in its last regular season game.

16 Regional Class L Tourneys Next Week

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Sixteen regional Class L high school tournaments will be held in Missouri next week, with winners slated to take part in the state tournament the following week.

Central High School of Kansas City (18-0) is the defending state champion and is seeded fourth in the regional at Kansas City. Parkview of Springfield (17-4), defeated by Central for the title last year, is seeded second in the regional at Springfield.

Petitions At College Dismissed

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Petitions urging the University of Illinois to fight for retention of three coaches, or withdraw from the Big Ten if their dismissals were demanded, reportedly swept the state Friday.

The petitions rode the wake of University President David D. Henry's declaration Thursday that Illinois will appeal to conference faculty representatives in Chicago next week as edict of Big Ten athletic directors.

The directors ordered Illinois to fire football coach Pete Elliot, basketball coach Harry Combes and his assistant, Howard Braun, or else show cause why the university's membership in the conference should not be suspended or terminated.

Dr. Henry said that he considered this too harsh and will urge the prerogative of appeal.

The university penalized itself by placing Elliott and Combes on probation and declaring 12 athletes ineligible in football and basketball after disclosure in December of irregular financial assistance from a $21,000 slush funds.

The entire Illinois football squad of 32 players signed a petition Thursday urging Dr. Henry's full support behind retention of Elliott.

The squad meeting was called by cocaptains Ken Kmiec of Chicago and Ron Bess of Bloomington, Ill. The petition read:

"We, the undersigned of the University of Illinois football team, request that President Henry and faculty athletic representative Less Bryan, in the face of the statement of Mr. William Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten, vigorously support the retention of Pete Elliott as head football coach.

"While we are aware that a violation of the athletic code has occurred, we feel strongly that the dismissal of Coach Elliott is an unrealistically and unreasonably severe penalty, reflecting undeserved discredit not only upon Coach Elliott but also upon the University of Illinois."

Kmiec and Bess said they have an appointment with Dr. Henry Friday to present the petition.

Another petition, to be given statewide circulation, was started in Champaign by several prominent alumni businessmen, including star end Bob Castelo of 1939 and basketball captain Bob Riegel of 1937.

Several thousand signatures are expected for the petition. It suggests to Dr. Henry that the university has shown good faith in penalizing itself and urges that Illinois withdraw from the conference if the Big Ten does not ease the severity of the athletic director's edict.

Other support for the three coached gained momentum. Followers planned to run ads in Urbana-Champaign newspapers requesting readers to fill out coupons backing retention of the coaches. They were to be sent to a post office box and then presented to Dr. Henry.

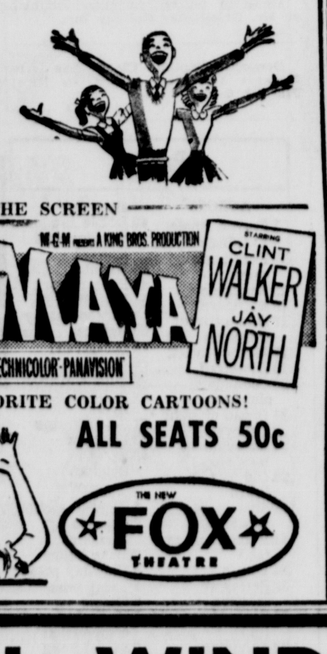

Glasgow Injured In High Hurdles Race

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Jeff Glasgow of Oklahoma State broke his right wrist in a fall during a high hurdles race Thursday night and was admitted to the Kansas student hospital to have it set.

Glasgow will fly to his home in Oklahoma City today and may have to make the trip in his track uniform. The OSU team stopped at Emporia, Kan., donned their uniforms at a motel and left their street clothes to be picked up on the return trip.

TV NOTEBOOK

By Ned Lindstrom

We are approaching the time of year when the lady of the house is apt to go around loaded down with brush, broom, mop and vacuum cleaner in a sudden burst of spring cleaning frenzy. Inasmuch as all electronic equipment is affected by dust accumulation, this might be a logical time to pass on a helpful hint before the cleaning energy is directed at a radio or television receiver.

In a radio, dust often accumulates between the plates of the tuning capacitor and as a result provides some startling noise effect as different stations are tuned in. In the TV receiver, dust in the high voltage circuit can react to the point where arcing and other discharging will result in a streaked picture and distorted sound.

The simple solution, of course, is to get rid of the dust. This is where the average housewife is likely to grab the vacuum cleaner and proceed to draw it out. Might we suggest, ladies, that you use the vacuum cleaner as a blower? A small hair dryer may do the job, also, although it doesn't have quite the power of the vacuum cleaner. Better yet, call your TV repairman and let him do the job for you, as there are many delicate parts that could be damaged.

Depend on our expert repair man to tell you honestly whether you need a new set or adjustments to the present set. Call —

Johnson Certifies New Rule

Succession For Presidency Now Defined

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson hailed Thursday the end of 180 years of uncertainty over how to keep the government functioning when the president becomes disabled.

He spoke at a White House ceremony in which he witnessed the certification of the 25th Amendment to the Constitution, establishing procedures for dealing with presidential disability and for filling a vacancy in the office of vice president.

Johnson recalled that the founding fathers, in the closing days of the Constitutional Convention, debated the question of presidential disability. He said John Dickinson of Delaware asked, "What is the extent of the term 'disability' and who is to be the judge of it?"

"No one replied," Johnson said. "It is hard to believe that until last week, the Constitution provided no clear answer. Now, at last, the 25th Amendment clarifies the crucial clause that provides for succession to the presidency and for filling a vice-presidential vacancy."

Leaders of Congress, members of the Cabinet, and other high federal and state officials gathered in the East Room for the ceremony.

Lawson Knott, administrator of the General Services Administration, the government's housekeeping agency, certified that the required three-fourths of the states had ratified the amendment. Then Johnson signed the document as a witness.

The amendment actually became part of the Constitution on Feb. 10 when Nevada became the 38th state to ratify it. But there had to be the certification of this act and Johnson made a big occasion out of it, praising members of Congress, leaders of bar associations, and all other individuals and organizations who helped steer the amendment through Congress and the states.

Holding Two For Military Authorities

Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Thursday two men being held here were reported by Ft. Leonard Wood authorities as being away from the post without leave. Fairfax added that authorities from the Army training center are coming to Sedalia to return the pair to Ft. Leonard Wood.

Held here are Kenneth Brown, 23, Mitchell, S.D., and Alvin Parker, 20, Decatur, Neb.

They were apprehended Wednesday night by Highway Patrolmen Pete Stohr and Charles Pieper after a car rtported-ly driven by Brown, passed through a "radar trap" at a high rate of speed. A two-mile chase followed, the trooper said, before the men were taken into custody.

The car, a 1956 Chevrolet, had been reported stolen from Ft. Leonard Wood earlier the same day. Sheriff Fairfax said his information indicated the owner of the car did not press charges against the two men.

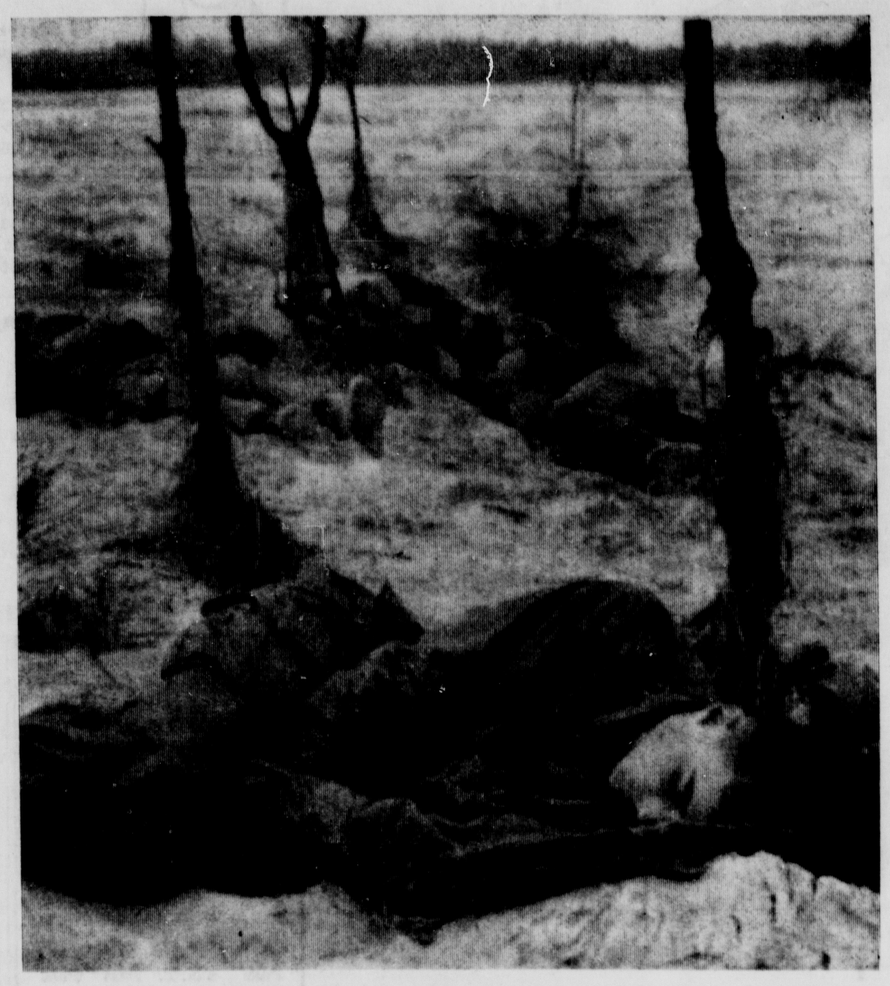

Liquor Law Repealed

WARSAW (AP) — The City Council of Wolow in southwestern Poland repealed a five-year-old liquor prohibition law, Kurier Polski reported, because the dry spell did not cut drinking and revenue went to bootleggers instead of government shops and bars.

Workers Agree To Return

Effects From Strike Will Linger, Slow Production

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat walkout that shut down much of General Motor's auto output ended Thursday, but its effects will linger in idle plants and slowed production.

Rebellious workers who had refused earlier orders to return to work agreed under pressure from United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther to go back to their jobs while a committee takes up their complaints with management at GM's Fisher Body Division plant here.

The end to the eight-day work stoppage came at an hour-long meeting of most of the 2,700 members of United Auto Workers Local 549. Local President Robert Hall explained the agreement reached in a showdown Wednesday night in Detroit with Reuther and the UAW Executive Board.

The estimated 2,500 union members at the meeting then agreed — without a vote — to return to work. Several said the return expressed confidence in local leadership.

General Motors said it would require some time to return to normal operations because of a six-day lapse in the supply of body components from this plant, which makes parts for 90 per cent of GM's cars.

GM said the shutdown here led to layoffs of 174,200 auto workers in 74 of its plants around the country.

"Layoffs will continue. Plants are still going down," GM's Detroit headquarters said, noting that, "We are making every effort to reschedule production and get idled employes back to work as quickly as possible.

"Even if they — the Mansfield plant — start shipping tonight," the company said, "it's going to be some time before we make up the backlog."

With more than half of their union members employed by the nation's largest carmaker laid off, Reuther and his board had threatened to take over the Mansfield local to end the work stoppage.

The walkout grew out of a dispute over sending of some work to another GM plant. The international union agreed to help set up meetings to discuss the local complaint.

Following Death Of Ferrie

Fear Created For People In Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— David W. Ferrie's death created fear Thursday among some people who claimed to have information relating to Ferrie or Lee Harvey Oswald in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Ferrie, labeled by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison as a prime informant in his investigation of the assassination, was found dead in bed Wednesday. A preliminary autopsy report attributed death to a brain hemorrhage. A coroner's report Thursday ruled out murder, leaving suicide, natural causes or accidental death as possibilities.

A woman who was about to give The Associated Press details she said related to Oswald's activities in New Orleans was frightened into silence. She warily greeted a reporter at her home.

"You see that," she said, directing attention to a snubnosed .38 caliber revolver placed on a nearby chair. "I don't say anything might happen to me. But I just won't talk to you. I have nothing more to say."

Another person on the periphery of the case, David Lewis, a bus station baggage clerk, dropped out of sight Wednesday night. Neighbors said the Lewis family had suddenly left town. Lewis had told newsmen he feared for the safety of his wife and four children because of his knowledge of a possible conspiracy to kill Kennedy.

However, Lewis appeared at the district attorney's office Thursday.

Before going into Garrison's office he said: "I'm not worried about myself, but I am about my family. Maybe there has been too much said about me already, but they know my name and know what I look like and they know where I work, so that's it."

A former private investigator, Lewis claims to have known Oswald, the man named by the Warren Commission as Kennedy's assassin.

Coroner Nicholas Chetta ruled out murder as a possible cause of Ferrie's death.

"There is no evidence of any violence," he said. "There is no evidence of murder."

The Orleans Parish coroner said the specific cause of death was an aneurysm—a small sacular aneurysm of a cerebral artery. He said such aneurysms frequently rupture, spilling blood into the brain. He likened this to the failure of an inner tube with a weak spot.

A large quantity of pills for vascular disease was found in Ferrie's apartment. But the coroner said even an overdose of these could not cause an aneurysm.

Chetta first fixed the time of death as Tuesday evening. After talking Thursday with George Lardner Jr., Washington Post reporter who said he left Ferrie at 4 a.m. Wednesday, the coroner said he could not "rule out the possibility Ferrie might have died as late as 4 a.m."

The coroner said the death would remain unclassified until a toxicological report was completed in about a week.

Garrison termed the death an apparent suicide. Chetta said there was nothing to indicate a

Study Shows Long Range Hiway Need

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A long range study released Thursday shows Missouri needs street and highway improvements costing $5.6 billion between now and 1985 but will have only $2.3 billion to meet these needs on the basis of present revenue.

M. J. Snider, chief highway engineer, said no recommendations are being made on how to make up the $3.3 billion deificit.

The study was made at the request of the American Association of State Highway Officials to set up a long range program after completion of the 41,000-mile interstate system, now estimated for 1975.

Here's a breakdown on the needs for different types of roads:

Interstate system, 1,119 miles —about 493 miles will need improvements estimated to cost $16.9 million.

Aerterial, 10,452 miles—arterials, including ultimate freeways, will need improvements on 9,172 miles at a cost of $3.963 billion.

Collector routes, 15,625 miles —improvements will be needed on 15,250 miles at a cost of $829 million.

Local roads 91,162 miles—improvements will be needed on 86,392 miles at a cost of $821 million.

Snider said recommendations for acquiring the extra money needed will not be made for some time.

Grandstand Funds Approved By Hearnes

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes signed today an emergency appropriation bill carrying an estimated $8,320,000—the first bill passed and signed this year.

The compromise version worked out by a Senate-House conference committee sailed through both houses with practically no opposition.

The governor made no changes in the final version of the bill.

Included in the appropriations are funds for the construction of a new grandstand at the Missouri State Fairgrounds in Sedalia.

Most Massive Offensive Of War Carried Out By The US

Infantrymen Deployed To Form Horseshoe Trap

SAIGON (AP) — About 45,000 U. S. troops and scores of jet bombers hammered Thursday against light sniper fire in the Viet Cong's main bailiwick, the jungled War Zone C, in the most massive offensive of the Vietnam war.

Infantrymen deployed to form a huge horseshoe-shaped trap, which American officers hoped would catch the Viet Cong's political leadership as well as hard-core military units that have ranged the area for 20 years.

More than 10 per cent of all the American servicemen in Vietnam were directly committed to the drive, centered 60 miles northwest of Saigon and encompassing a 250-square-mile area of Tay Ninh Province adjacent to neutralist Cambodia's frontier.

The drive, called Operation Junction City, was launched in secret before dawn Wednesday with the first American combat parachute jump since the Korean War. The biggest previous offensive in Vietnam was Operation Cedar Falls, in which 30,000 Americans combed the Viet Cong's Iron Triangle north of Saigon in January.

The full scope of the new operation, the third in four months within War Zone C, came to light on a day that also saw:

— Disclosure that more American and Communist troops were killed in combat last week than in any week snice the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley Nov. 14-20, 1965. U.S. headquarters said 172 Americans and 2,029 of the enemy were killed, compared to the record for the 1965 period, 240 Americans and 2,262 Communists.

— Return of two U.S. soldiers who the Viet Cong announced were released Feb. 7. Reported in fair condition though suffering from malnutrition, Sgt. Sammie N. Womack of Farmville, Va., and Pfc. Charles Earle Crafts of North Jay, Maine, showed up at an American post 35 miles north of Saigon. A spokesman said both were taken immediately to a medical facility for treatment.

— A report by U.S. headquarters of a single-day record of 575 sorties by American tactical bombers over South Vietnam Wednesday, including War Zone C strikes. The previous high for such single combat flights was 565 on Feb. 5. Other planes flew 79 missions over North Vietnam. Pilots said they destroyed three storage buldings and set several fires at the Vinh Yen ammunition depot, 80 miles west of Hanoi.

Seating Of Powell Is Now Urged

Would Be Censured And Required To Repay $40,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—A select House committee accused Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Thursday of "gross misconduct" and recommended that he be seated, censured and required to pay $40,000.

The money would be for funds the committee said Powell has "wrongfully and willfully appropriated" over the past three years.

In a report signed by all nine members, the committee also proposed that the controversial New York Democrat be shorn of his entire 22 years of House seniority.

The committee's report will be laid before the House next Wednesday. If approved, it would require Powell to take the oath of office by March 13 or else his seat would be declared vacant.

The committee found that Powell meets constitutional qualifications of age, citizenship, and inhabitancy in New York and therefore is entitled to the seat from which he has been barred since Jan. 10, when the House voted 364 to 64 to require him to stand aside pending an investigation of charges that he misused government travel funds.

The report said Powell's refusal to cooperate with the select committee was "contemptuous and was conduct unworthy of a member."

Although all members signed the report, a statement noted that Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., "feels strongly that Mr. Powell should not be a member of the House," and that Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., "believes that punishment of Mr. Powell beyond severe censure is improper."

The committee recommended that the House direct the clerk of the House to drop from Powell's payroll his secretary and

LBJ In Agreement

Panel Endorses CIA Subsidizing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House study panel endorses the Central Intelligence Agency's much-criticized subsidizing of various private organizations, and President Johnson agrees with the group's findings.

At Johnson's direction, the White House made public Thursday a preliminary report on a review of this controversial facet of CIA operations. Press secretary George Christian emphasized that Johnson agrees with the interim conclusions.

The report, submitted in letter form and dated Wednesday, came from Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, who is conducting the review along with CIA Director Richard Helms, and John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare.

CIA's role was defended on two grounds:

—"It did not act on its own initiative, but in accordance with national policies established by the National Security Council in 1952 through 1954."

—"The support provided by the Central Intelligence Agency enabled many farsighted and courageous Americans to serve their country in times of challenge and danger to the United States and the free world."

Katzenbach told Johnson he expects a final report, to include recommendations, will be ready early next month.

His letter indicates the study which he is heading, at Johnson's direction, is somewhat broader than had previously been announced. He spoke of "our inquiry into the relations of government agencies and private organizations operating abroad."

Katzenback last week said simply that the panel was looking into the relations between the CIA and the educational organizations.

In his letter to Johnson, Katzenbach said the CIA "has been, and continues to be, indispensible to the security of this nation."

"It is vitally important that the current controversy over its support of certain private organizations not be permitted to obscure the value, or impede the effectiveness, of competent and dedicated career officials serving this country," he went on.

The White House still declines to say whether Johnson had personal knowledge of the CIA's financing of such groups as the National Student Association prior to a recent discussion of the situation by one of his assistants, Douglas S. Cater, Jr.

Senate Gets New Slant To Problems

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Senate got a new approach Thursday to the salary problems plaguing the legislature.

It was proposed by Sen. Edward Stone, R-Chesterfield, a businessman serving his first term.

He said in his first few weeks in the Senate, he had noted a deluge of salary bills and it seemed a rather helter-skelter way to run a billion dollar-plus government that employs more than 40,000 people.

He said the state needs an organized comprehensive salary plan, like any big business.

So he proposed a special study of a uniform pay plan, job classifications under the merit system and a continuing job evaluation program under the state personnel advisory (merit system) board.

Stone's bill hit the Senate while it was considering a broad pay increase bill that runs from the governor down to probate and magistrate judges.

Up for amendment and debate was a substitute by Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, who upset things by gaining voice vote adoption of an amendment that would require judges to pay part of the cost of their scot-free retirement plan on an actuarial basis.

Then Sen. Albert M Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, who is sponsoring a Senate committee version of the pay bill, laid it over until Monday.

Meanwhile the Senate Roads and Highways Committee approved a bill to use the tax on aviation gasoline for an airport construction fund and another to increase the salary of the chief state highway engineer from $19,500 to $25,000, taking off the statutory limits on other department employes.

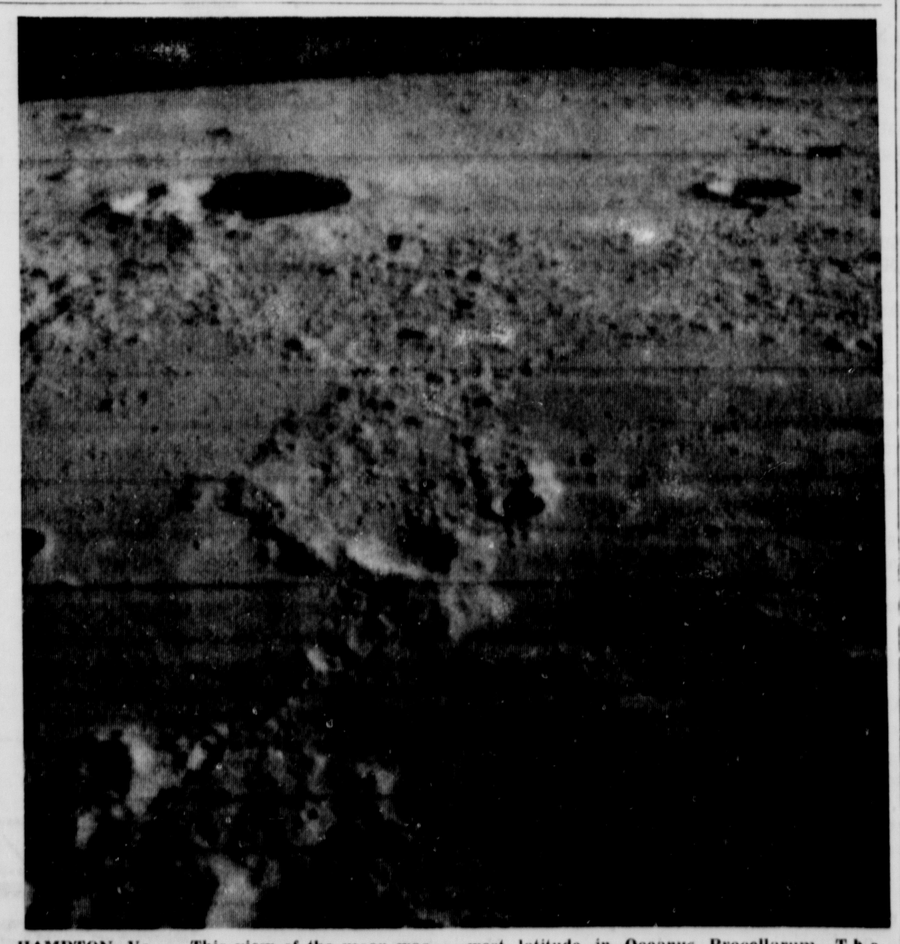

Earlier the Senate advanced to position for passage a multi-state tax compact bill which Spradling said could prevent the state from losing up to $50 million a year in revenue.

He said it was intended to beat back the federal threat to invade the fields of state sales, use and income taxes, as proposed in legislation pending in Congress.

The first bill of the session was signed into law by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Thursday.

It carries $8,320,000 in emergency appropriations to keep state agencies going until the new fiscal year starts July 1. The governor made no changes in the compromise version adopted by the House and Senate.

Both houses adjourned before noon until Monday afternoon.

GM Operations To Be Affected In Strike

KANSAS CITY (AP)—General Motors operations in the Kansas City area still will be affected Monday by this week's strike of United Auto Workers at Mansfield, Ohio, a GM spokesman said.

James Hughes, regional public relations manager, said there will be no work Monday at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants at Leeds, at the GM assembly division plant at Fairfax and at the Delco battery plant at Olathe.

The Chevrolet and Fisher plants will work two full shifts Friday. The workers at Fairfax and Olathe were idle Thursday and will not work Friday or Monday.

The plants employ about 8,500.

The Mansfield strikers started back to work Thursday on orders from the UAW's national officers. They produce key parts for about 80 per cent of General Motors cars.

Dilemma: Who's to Blame?

Persons who do not have emotional stability enough to cope with the vexatious problems of modern society, resort to all sorts of methods to escape this so-called vale of tears.

It is tragic when older persons decide life is not worth living and so end it all, but moreso when youngsters do not have the mental capacity to adjust to life's vicissitudes.

Sometimes it seems the depressing behavior of youth is not only inexplicable but contrary, to say the least. For instance, we have just read about a 17-year-old boy in Wisconsin who decided life without a driver's license wasn't worth living. So he killed himself.

Then there is the 18-year-old Jefferson City boy who had a driver's license, who wanted to live but took an odd way to demonstrate his desire. You know what he did? He tried to see how far he could jump his Mustang sedan using a railroad crossing near Mexico, Mo., as a ramp. He took a 60-foot airborne jump followed by a 255-foot skid and roll which landed him in the hospital and also in the toils of the Highway Patrol. One might class this as an attempt at involuntary suicide. All the victim received was a broken nose and a summons for failure to keep his car under control.

This boy probably won't lose his license. But what if he did? Can a driver's license be so important that youth can't stand to live without it?

The Wisconsin boy didn't think so. He lost his license because he had received three traffic tickets. The last one, for speeding, was the crusher. He wrote a "Dear Mom and Dad" note and pulled the trigger.

"Without a license," he wrote, "I don't have my car, job or social life. So I think it is better to end it all right now."

First impulse of observers of this tragic ending is to conclude that any kid who would do such a thing was not mentally competent and probably never should have had a license issued to him anyway.

Many youthful drivers continually challenge authorities to take away their driver's license by dare-devil antics behind the wheel. But can they take it, if they lose?

Who's to blame for the distorted behavior described above? Is it the parents? The school? The traffic police and courts? The government? The car manufacturers with their seductive emphasis on speed and varoomph?

Or is it society in general, or the tempo of the times?

Whoever is to blame, the whole thing has gone too far and the situation is tragically out of hand.

If everybody is as sick at heart as they must be over the senseless slaughter and bone-crushing of kids in automobiles, what would be wrong with getting them together for some real cooperative action to reduce the number of accidents.

But what kind of action?

The dilemma seems to resolve itself into which is the lesser of two evils: tolerate the kids in their excessive liberties with a driver's license and the family car until they kill themselves and others; or take away their driving privileges and let them commit suicide solo fashion?

It's a tough problem to tackle in an age when personal discipline is no longer a status symbol among the young. Or the old, either, for that matter.

Tycoon's Tax Debt Sliced to a Splinter

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Here are more facts on the manner in which the handsome Greek shipping tycoon, Stavros Spiros Niarchos, settled a $25 million U. S. tax debt for less than 6 cents on the dollar.

Niarchos had married shy Charlotte Ford in December, 1965, after a whirlwind international romance and after divorcing his first wife in Mexico. His first wife was the daughter of another fabulously wealthy Greek shipowner, Livanos, and the sister of Aristotle Onassis, owner of Greek Shipping, Olympic Airways and, in latter years, the husband of opera singer Maria Callas.

Niarchos was 56 when he married Charlotte Ford in Mexico. She was 24. Mexico was as close as he would risk coming to the United States with the huge tax delinquency hanging over his head.

One of Charlotte's friends was Lynda Bird Johnson who, on her visits to New York City, often stayed with Charlotte. During one visit, Charlotte herself had occasionally dated. His name: George Hamilton.

Charlotte had campaigned actively for Lynda's father during the 1964 presidential campaign and served as co-hostess at two high-society soirees to raise campaign funds for LBJ.

It was about the time Charlotte fell under the romantic spell of Niarchos that Lynda began dating Hamilton steadily. After the marriage, Niarchos and his new bride flew to St. Moritz, the Swiss winter resort, where it was reported Niarchos spent more time with his children by a previous wife than he did with Charlotte. But when she returned to the United States to have a baby, reportedly at the instance of her father, Henry Ford II, Niarchos wanted to be on hand for the blessed event.

Suddenly, the Justice Department announced it had obtained a $16,582,000 tax judgment against six Niarchos-owned companies that had finagled an estimated $40 million out of the U. S. in one of the biggest shipping maneuvers of all time. Plus penalties, the $16,582,000 came to a total of $25 million. Niarchos had been indicted, but the indictments had been dropped in 1954 during the Eisenhower administration.

The Justice Department's explanation for the settlement was: "Both of these defendants (Niarchos and an associate) are fugitives from justice, and the government believes that there is no expectation of these defendants ever returning to the United States while these indictments are pending."

Golden Greek Returns

For ten years the Golden Greek had stayed out of Uncle Sam's reach. But when the tax judgment was announced April 26, 1966, Assistant U. S. Attorney Laurence Vogel in New York went out of his way to add: "There is absolutely no tax claim against Mr. Niarchos personally."

A few hours later, Niarchos returned to this country for the first time in more than a decade. The accommodating Justice Department had made the deal just in time for him to reach his wife's bedside before the birth of their daughter. The settlement was finalized on April 26; Niarchos arrived in New York City the following day.

But there was one fact which the Justice Department did not announce.

With penalties, Niarchos's tax liability added up to a cool $25 million, and the Justice Department's announcement gave the impression that the full amount would be collected.

What wasn't mentioned was the fact that Niarchos's companies had secretly settled for a mere $1,468,002 and that the rest of the tax debt had been written off as uncollectible.

It had been also agreed that Niarchos could enter the country free of personal liability.

Small taxpayers, who have had their paychecks attached to pay back taxes, may get the impression that it helps to have friends in high places. They are right.

Bobby For President

A political action group, calling itself "Citizens for Kennedy - Fulbright," has written to Democratic leaders around the country urging them to dump President Johnson in favor of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D - N. Y., in 1968.

The group, which has its headquarters in New York City, claims Kennedy has not tried to discourage them.

"We believe a more attractive candidate is both necessary and available," the Citizens Group wrote in a letter dated February 7. "That candidate is Robert F. Kennedy, a man who could unify and inspire the Roosevelt coalition of forces that have led us to so many past victories.

"Not only would Senator Kennedy make a stranger and more charismatic candidate than Johnson, he would also make a better party leader, a party leader more attuned to your needs. He has, does and would oppose siphoning off your funds into national party coffers.

"To convince Johnson to step aside and to convince RFK that he has the party's support, we need your help. We hope to be hearing from you. We hope that you will give us the benefit of your opinions—even if you think Johnson should be renominated. But most of all we hope you will encourage Robert Kennedy—and, incidentally, Lyndon Johnson, to consider his obligation to the party and to its future."

The letter is signed by Dr. Martin Shepard, who heads the Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright. Already, he claims to have received several pro-Kennedy responses. The names will be turned over as a nucleus for a national RFK political organization.

Two Major Bills Up For Debate

By LARRY HALL
Associated Press Writer

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Two of the administration's major bills come up for debate next week as the Missouri legislature moves into mid-session.

At the top of the list in the House is Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' controversial "shared time" proposal.

It is a plan to let private and parochial students who are handicapped or educationally deprived attend special courses in public schools.

It has aroused the usual cries from opponents that it would violate traditional separation of church and state but is considered to have a better chance this time — partly because its sponsor is Rep. James I. Spainhower, D-Marshall, a Christian Church minister and chairman of the House Education Committee.

On the Senate side, the governor's proposal for a toll turnpike authority is ready for debate and has considerable backing. The Missouri Highway Commission, always opposed to toll roads in the past, is for the plan this time.

The commission's argument is that because of the federal cutback in highway aid funds, there is no other way to build necessary high type roads in rural areas.

Hearnes and Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas plan to discuss the possibilities of a toll turnpike running south from Kansas City along the state line in Kansas City Tuesday.

Both the Kansas and Missouri legislatures are considering toll road plans.

Also ready for consideration in the Senate is a substitute bill by Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, that covers pay raises for the governor and all other elected state officials, including Supreme Court and other judges.

Vanlandingham's bill would raise the governor's pay from $15,000 to $40,000, as in the original bill sponsored by Sen. Albert M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, but it offers lesser increases for other officials than in the Spradling bill. Spradling said he wanted no part of the Vanlandingham proposal.

As an indication of how the legislature is moving, 487 bills already have been introduced in the House and 272 in the Senate, plus numerous proposed constitutional amendments. That's a total of 869.

Those in the know freely predict that total this year will be around 1,400 or more bills, compared with 1,157 two years ago.

In the 1965 regular session, the Legislative Research Committee staff had 1,320 requests for bills to be drafted. This year the load is about 10 per cent heavier.

The staff has received almost 1,100 requests already and William R. Nelson, research committee research director, predicts the number will probably reach 1,500, although not all will be introduced.

No cutoff time for bill introduction has been announced in either house but it will probably will be around March 15 in the Senate and perhaps later in the House.

Usually only about a third or a fourth of those introduced stand a chance of becoming law. Many are introduced just to please constitutents. Others are dropped by the wayside because of duplication bills in the House and the Senate.

And many, many others get lost in the last minute crisis.

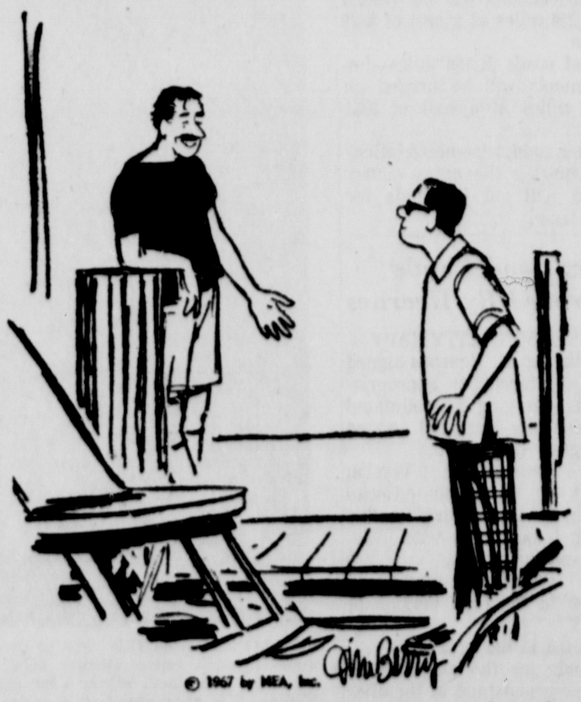

Even though both houses are moving along at mid-session pace, the last minute jam is expected to be worse than ever when midnight June 30 rolls around this time—the automatic date for considering bills.

Not Yet Spring

The pink of the early morning,
As day started to unfold,
Chased away the grayness
And turned tree branches gold;
One lone perky robin
At the first sign of dawn
Was out to get his breakfast
Pecking away at the lawn,
Then finally there came starlings,
One, then two, then three
The robin stopped his pecking
And turned around to see
Who had joined him at breakfast,
A starling darted near,
But the robin went back to his pecking
Without a bit of fear,
The redbirds from the cedar,
With feathered coat so bright,
Flew to the higher branches
From where they'd been all night;
Suddenly there was a lot of noise,
And I saw a streak of blue
As up into a barren tree
Three brilliant bluejays flew;
The birds were there, 'twas a lovely day,
But they knew it wasn't spring
For they flew and walked and pecked the ground
But I didn't hear them sing.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Drugs For Control Of High Blood Pressure

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Are there any procedures that can reduce a blood pressure of 200 very rapidly? Would they require hospitalization?

A — Many drugs are used to control high blood pressure. One of the quickest and safest is diazoxide. Hospitalization is not essential but is highly desirable because the best results require close medical supervision.

Other procedures that have been used successfully in selected patients include cutting the roots of sympathetic nerves in the lower back where they emerge from the spinal column and the implantation under the skin of a miniature battery with its electrodes attached to the carotid sinus nerve in the neck.

Q — I'm 61 and have high blood pressure. My doctor is giving me Aldomet and Diuril. Is it harmful to take these drugs indefinitely?

A — Methyldopa (Aldomet) and chlorothiazide (Diuril) in the usually prescribed dosage are safe when taken under medical supervision, including periodic blood counts. If, for any reason, it becomes necessary to discontinue either drug, your doctor can give you other drugs that will keep your blood pressure within normal limits.

Q — How serious is a blood pressure of 250 over 184?

A — The lower (diastolic) reading is the one to watch. Any reading of over 100 is dangerously high. Measures to reduce it should be started at once and kept up indefinitely.

Q — What is meant by hypertensive arteriosclerosis? My blood pressure is 145 over 70.

A — The term means hardening of the arteries associated with high blood pressure but a blood pressure of 145 over 70 in an adult is well within the normal range.

Q — How safe is Parnate? Can it be taken for a long period?

A — The tranquilizer, tranylcypromine (Parnate), should not be taken by anyone who is over 60 or anyone who has high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, stroke, epilepsy or liver disease. Anyone who is taking this drug must avoid eating pickled herring or cheese, drinking alcohol or taking other drugs because such actions lead to severe poisoning. Within these limits the drug may be taken under medical supervision as long as your doctor discovers no contraindications.

When you miss both the queen and jack of a suit, you don't really go after all the tricks if your hand and dummy don't hold as many as nine cards in it. Of course, you will accept all the tricks if things go just right but, in general, your plan of action is to avoid losing tricks to both those cards if you possibly can.

With 18 points, North is justified in jumping all the way to six no-trump without checking for aces. He knows that the partnership holds more than 32 high card points so that two aces can't be missing.

Of course, North might check to see if South holds four spades but this time there is no 4-4 spade fit and six no-trump is the correct final contract.

When South looks over dummy, he counts 11 top tricks. He is sure of a twelfth if the clubs break 3-2. There also is a possible squeeze if one opponent holds four clubs and four spades.

In any event, South should start by playing clubs, so he leads out dummy's ace of clubs at trick two. Assuming that both opponents follow with low cards, South leads a club from dummy and if East plays low it is up to South to play his ten spot.

This is an example of a play that can't possibly lose a trick but may mean the difference between making the slam and going down.

The defenders have played three small clubs so that the only clubs left are the queen and jack. If West holds both of them, he must make a club trick. It doesn't hurt to let him make it right away. If West holds one of them, it also won't hurt to give it to him. South can pick up the other one from East any time. Only when East holds both is the ten spot play essential. This isn't likely, but it can happen and any successful declarer should guard against that chance.

Democrat Pick-ups

Little girls are always proud of their purses and usually there is a little money in them too.

One day a little ten year old girl was doing some shopping, maybe window shopping, in downtown Sedalia, when, for some reason she laid her purse on the sidewalk and when she was through doing whatever needed both hands she simply walked off and left it. She never thought of it until on the way home and so, of course, she had to be taken back to town to find the purse.

She knew just where she had left it. On the sidewalk in front of Flowers but when she reached the spot it was gone. She was practically heart broken, but there was one slim chance that somebody had found it and took in the store. And so she went in to inquire. Sure enough some honest person saw it there, picked it up and left it in the store.

So the little girl went home delighted and very grateful to the person who was honest enough and thoughtful enough to pick it up and leave it where it would be safe — for they knew some little girl would be looking for her purse.—H. L.

Why Is Court News Printed?

Recently a Warsaw man wrote that he reads this column regularly but doesn't always agree with what is written here. That suits us just fine, just so he reads it and thinks about it if there is enough stimulation to do the latter.

Certainly it is a truism newspapers can't please the public all the time. Some days it seems we can't please anybody. In this we have other newspaper company on those "blue" days.

Concerning this, there is a subject about which we would like to expound but decided a second party's opinion may be more effective.

Publication of court news seldom pleases any of the people mentioned. Please leave my name out, is a frequent plea.

So, let's listen to what Paul Fugleberg of the Flathead (Mont.) Courier has to say about his policy in this matter. Here is a part of it to which we subscribe:

"We do not publish court news because of its readership appeal, nor in an attempt to embarrass anyone, nor to 'spice up' the inside pages. We've been accused of all of these.

"We publish the court news because we feel that it is one of the obligations that a newspaper has to its community.

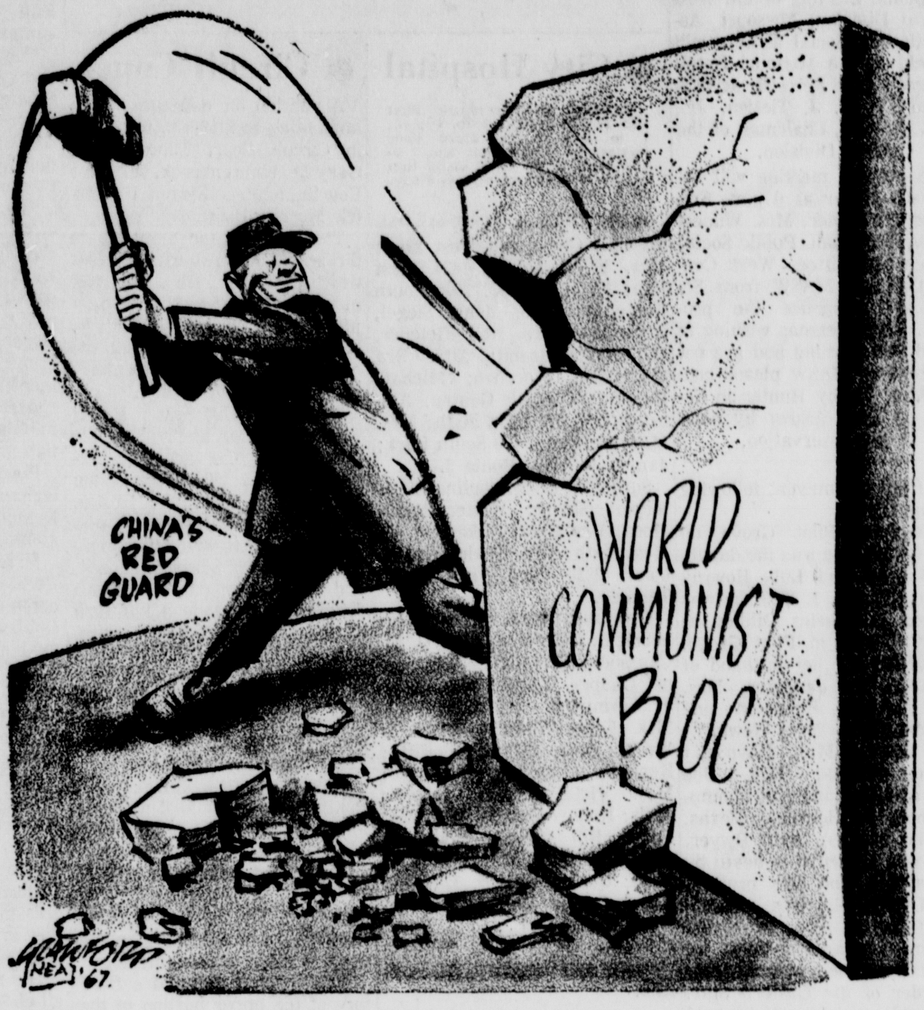

"Publication of police and court news serves several purposes — it shows whether or not the police department, Sheriff's office or Highway Patrol are enforcing the laws — to what extent and how impartially; it shows whether or not the judges are conducting their courts in a fair and just manner; it serves as warnings to the citizenry that names of persons convicted of violations will be publicized, thereby acting somewhat as a deterrent to some people; and in some cases, publication of police news may even alert some parents or other citizens to situations of which they may not have been aware.

"For instance, Joe Doakes, fined $100 for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Joe Doakes may be a person you've noticed being friendly to neighborhood kids but you hadn't particularly given it any thought.

"Or Jo Schmo, fined $50 for reckless driving — why Joe Schmo drove your kids to the basketball game last week.

"Extreme cases, yes, but they have happened elsewhere. And they could happen here, and who would know—until maybe too late—unless police news is published?"

Making Little Ones Out of Big Ones

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Some Precedents In House Expulsions

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Debating behind closed doors, the special committee investigating Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem divided into three viewpoints. They are:

1. Rep. John Conyers, Detroit Democrat, an able young Negro lawyer, made an impassioned plea for leniency for Powell. He pointed out that Powell is a broken man, personally confused and following bad advice; that there is no use breaking him further. Even his lawyers who had come to Washington to defend Powell, Conyers said, were unable to get in touch with him in the Bahamas. There are few telephones and nothing to do but pick up pebbles on the beach.

2. Republican members, together with Chairman Manny Celler of Brooklyn and several other Democrats, favor seating Powell but assessing him with a tough fine in the form of a requirement that he pay back around $35,000 of misspent government funds.

Significantly, the Republicans have made an about-switch from their previous tough anti-Powell position. Originally they voted unanimously in the House against Powell taking his seat. However, Negro sentiment for Powell has been strong, and Republican members of the special committee have now reserved the right to confer with their leadership.

3. Two members of the committee — ex-Sen. and now Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., and Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn. — believe that Congress, under the constitution, has no power to deny Powell his seat, though it does have the power to expel him. They lean toward seating Powell, then letting the full House vote to expel him. This would require a two-thirds vote.

History Of Expulsions

The committee has dug back into the early history of the United States and reviewed all the cases where congressmen have either been expelled or refused their seats. The cases range from Rep. Victor Berger, the socialist congressman from Wisconsin who was denied his seat in 1919 because he had been pro-German during World War I, to the case of Brigham Roberts, a Mormon from Utah who was denied his seat in 1900 because he believed in bigamy.

In few cases, however, has the House expelled a member for personal conduct. In 1798, when Roger Griswold of Connecticut taunted Matthew Lyon of Vermont and Kentucky regarding his Army record, Lyon spat in his face. During the debate as to whether Lyon should be expelled, Griswold assaulted Lyon with a cane while Lyon was seated in the House of Representatives. Lyon then picked up a pair of tongs from the fireplace. A special committee recommended that both men be expelled, but after they promised to keep the peace they were permitted to remain.

Another case, dating back to the 25th Congress in 1833, involved a duel between William J. Graves of Kentucky, who had killed another member of the House in a duel. After considerable debate as to whether the duel was justified and who had been insulted, Congress voted to table the entire matter.

Bigamy And Expulsion

The most thorough debate of all, however, involved Rep. Roberts of Utah, a Mormon, elected in 1899 to the 56th Congress. Although eventually the House voted not to seat Roberts because he had more than one wife, the minority in this case made a most convincing argument that he should be seated and then expelled. This is now considered the law.

The argument was based on the same theory put forward by Rep. Powell's lawyers, that the House cannot refuse a seat to a member as long as he is constitutionally elected.

Research in this case dated back to the constitutional debates in 1787 in which the founding fathers made it clear that they did not want members of each House restricted as to their qualifications to hold office other than that they had been citizens for seven years, were 25 years old, and residents of their state.

When it was proposed to permit the House to establish qualifications in regard to property, Madison opposed this "As vesting an improper and dangerous power in the legislature. The qualifications of elector and elected were fundamental articles in a Republican government and ought to be fixed by the constitution." Madison said. "If the legislature could regulate those of either, it can by degrees subvert the constitution.

"A republic may be converted into an aristocracy or oligarchy as well by limiting the number capable of being elected as the number authorized to elect."

Madison further observed, "The British Parliament possessed the power of regulating the qualifications both of the electors and the elected, and the abuse they had made of it was a lesson worthy of our attention. They had made changes in both cases, subservient to their own views of political or religious parties." John Dickinson of Pennsylvania also opposed "any recitals of qualifications in the constitution," while Alexander Hamilton moved regarding the question of citizenship "that the section be so altered as to require merely citizenship and inhabitancy."

The founding fathers made it quite clear, in brief, that they wanted no restrictions on the right of a representative to hold a seat in the House other than that he be 25 years old, a citizen of the United States for seven years, and a resident of the state in which he shall be chosen.

This is exactly what Powell's attorneys have contended.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Taxpayers of Pettis county will be happy to know that the Pettis County Court will reduce the county tax levy from 51 cents to 44 cents on the $100 valuation this year. The reduction is possible because the court house bonds will be paid off in the amount of $350,000 over a period from 1924 to 1943. The combined levies of school, county, road and state last year were: $2.13 on the $100 valuation.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The new school at Otterville, completed at a cost of $35,000 has been epened for school use. It is a modern two-story brick structure with four grade school rooms, a large study room for the high school, three recitation rooms, a laboratory, an office for the superintendent of schools, and a combined auditorium and gymnasium to seat 500 persons. At present there are 75 pupils in the high school and 150 in the grade school. Mrs. Maggie Palmer is principal and J. G. Dull superintendent.

Laziness Abets Heart Disease

Active Man Usually Leads Longer Life

By Paul Dudley White, M.D.
Past President
American Heart Association
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dr. Paul Dudley White

In the strict sense of the term, a heart attack is an event for which the stage has been set by a long-term disease which we call atherosclerosis and which hardens, roughens and narrows the coronary arteries. Many factors contribute to this process, among them physical inactivity.

Where masses of people are concerned, we have excellent documentation that those in active occupations suffer fewer heart attacks than those in sedentary occupations. Desk bound postal clerks, for example, are hit more often than mailmen who trudge many miles each day.

Atherosclerosis, the stage-setting disorder referred to earlier, has clearly been shown to be much more common among people like ourselves everywhere in the world who are physically lazy and prosperously overfed.

This presents a curious paradox — a wealthy and favored people who abuse their prosperity, becoming soft and sluggish.

As many (who shouldn't) see it, the most glaring inadequacy of professional and college athletic programs today is the failure to provide parking close by the stadium. Instead of walking, we ride. Instead of tilling and harvesting the fields, we seat outselves behind glass-topped desks. Instead of hunting and carrying home wild game, we buzz for our secretaries. We are the slaves — not the masters— of our inventions.

We seem to delight in the absurd belief that we must avoid strains, either physical or mental. We have a dread of climbing stairs. We avoid hard physical labor. We forget that man evolved — over tens of thousands of years — as a creature whose survival or nonsurvival depended as much on physical activity as on mental alertness.

Partly as a result of the lack of regular exercise, and also as the result of other factors being discussed in this series, man now finds himself in the midst of a new kind of epidemic. It has taken the place of the scourges of the Middle Ages, and has even replaced our more recent scourges of diphtheria, pneumonia, meningitis, polio, typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

It is important to note that the new epidemic — disease of the arteries — is one which man himself has helped to bring about by habits of improper diet, obesity, smoking, neglect of high blood pressure, inadequate treatment of diabetes and physical inactivity. To be sure, there are certain factors over which he has no control, among them maleness, age and heredity. But he is paying the penalty of environmental factors as well as heredity.

This does not necessarily have to be the case.

By minimizing all controllable risk factors, man can brighten his chances very considerably.

If you have any doubt about the extent and character of the exercise in which you engage, see your doctor. Follow his recommendations.

Generally, however, it can be stated that the key rules are regularity and exercise vigorous enough to suit the circumstances.

Get rid of the notion that the climbing of stairs is injurious. Actually, walking up stairs is usually good for the heart, as long as you don't place such a strain on it that failure might occur and as long as you do not already have heart disease.

Regular and vigorous use of our leg muscles is essential for an optimal circulation of the blood. The leg muscles are an important and unappreciated accessory pumping mechanism to assist our hearts physically. Also, healthy fatigue of the leg muscles is the best antidote known to man for nervous stress.

You will note that I give more emphasis to the need of exercising the legs than to the arms. This is intentional — the larger the muscle, the greater the advantage in its use. Too, the leg muscles are a greater aid in combating the negative effect of gravity. It follows that any kind of work or exercise which uses the leg muscles is to be preferred — walking, golf, tennis, skiing or cycling.

Another very important reason for regular and vigorous use of the leg muscles is to keep the leg veins clear of clots which sometimes can cause serious pulmonary embolism and even death.

Bizarre Twists In Assassination Probe

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk without evidence is all so far from the efforts of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to prove a plot in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

But there are some bizarre twists.

The Warren Commission concluded Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the killing in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. There have been doubts about this ever since. Up until now Garrison has simply added to them.

He says he has no reason to believe Oswald killed anybody in Dallas that day. Last Saturday, giving no details, he promised five arrests and convictions, though the arrests were "most certainly months away."

Then Wednesday, after David Ferrie, a plane pilot of about 45, had been found dead in his bed in New Orleans, Garrison said he had planned to arrest Ferrie next week.

"Apparently we waited too long," Garrison said, although he called Ferrie "one of history's most important individuals." Ferrie's death was one of the bizarre twists. The other, in Florida, was the start of an investigation into the 2-year-old death of another man.

Garrison referred to Ferrie's death as an "apparent suicide." Coroner Nicholas Chetta said Ferrie died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain but added that further tests were being made.

A note, found in Ferrie's dining room, said: "To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable and on the other hand everything that is loathsome."

But — and this is written after consultation here in Washington with a physician who is an internist — it would have seemed impossible for Ferrie to write the note at all and then walk back to his bedroom after the blood vessel burst.

Yet, if Ferrie wrote the note, intending it as a farewell, how could he have possibly known that as soon as he got back to bed the blood vessel in his brain would burst? Blood vessels are not that obliging.

Ferrie, no stranger to the Kennedy case, was questioned in 1963 shortly after the President's death by both the FBI and Garrison's office and was questioned again in Garrison's office last November.

Each time he was released. He said the FBI first became interested in him when a New Orleans man reported he had served with Oswald in a Civil Air Patrol unit under Ferrie. Oswald lived in New Orleans in the summer of 1963. Ferrie had lived there 15 years.

He repeatedly denied he ever knew Oswald and complained that Garrison had him "pegged as the get-away pilot in an elaborate plot to kill Kennedy." He called this a "big joke."

Pensacola authorities Wednesday began investigating the 1964 death of Thomas Henry Killam, a sometime house painter, who died beside a broken store window with a slashed throat. The police at the time called it a suicide; the coroner called it an accidental death.

But now his brother, Earl Killam, asking that the body be exhumed for further examination, says the dead man feared he was being pursued by "agents" connected with the Kennedy assassination and fled Dallas in December, 1963, saying he knew he would be killed by "agents" he didn't name.

The dead man's wife, Wanda Killam, had been employed several years in a nightclub run by Jack Ruby, who killed Oswald and died last Jan. 3. She said her husband had been employed as a painter by a man who once roomed in a Dallas boarding house with Oswald.

Unless Garrison has a lot more that he hasn't revealed, none of this so far shows any conspiracy.

Rich In Resources

By CYRENE DEAR

LAGOS, NIGERIA — It is a sticky, humid morning in tropical Lagos, Nigeria. Like Washington, D. C., this capital city is a separate district. The government buildings and foreign embassies are here, as well as many local and foreign business organizations.

There is still a great deal of unrest in this West African country on the Gulf of Guinea. About 55 million people live here and the country is the size of Texas plus Oklahoma. It was a British Colony for over a hundred years so the official language is English. Nigeria became independent in 1960, but there have been two military coups since that time.

Christianity has found a great response in this country and many of the leaders have been educated in mission schools. Western dress predominates in the cities.

Nigeria is rich in natural resources and is not dependent upon one or two crops. Peanuts, coca, rubber, cotton, timber, palm products, tin, coal, iron, lead, zinc and oil are found here.

Because of the political instability some American businessmen are discouraged. They say that the country is so corrupt and inflation so general that it is difficult to make any profits. However, the attitude of the American government officials here is that eventually a stable form of independence will be developed because Nigeria has prestige in Africa and in the United States The United States has provided a great deal of technical assistance and financial loans for various development programs. The Peace Corps has sent teachers and agricultural workers. About 1,000 volunteers are expected to serve here by the end of the year.

There is a good radio broadcasting service here. The director is a dynamic, young Christian Nigerian, educated at Brandeis University in Massachusetts There are 18 hours of radio programs with news broadcast every hour. The Associated Press, Reuters and a local wire service are used and broadcasts are made in 12 languages throughout Nigeria. The Voice of America comes over so strongly that it often drowns out local stations. A new television station in Lagos provides five hours of television daily, but as yet there are not many sets except in the cities. Educational programs are broadcast by radio.

American foundations have many interests in Nigeria, particularly the Ford and Rockefeller ones. United States aid created its own development programs in 1962. While there is a feeling of great distress about the killings, riots and political changes, the U. S. policy is to continue in Nigeria and the opinion is that there is a feeling of confidence that this country will solve its problems and carry out its own development plan.

Letter To The Editor

R. GORDON PORTER (Route 1, Warsaw) — I am writing, primarily, to commend you for your policy of publishing letters written to you. It seems that too many papers do not do so unless it is a letter of praise or unless it is regarding a subject which is entirely un-controversial and of no importance. With the present world condition (and it is rapidly growing worse) it is increasingly difficult for the thinking public to be heard above all the clamor of rioters, demonstrators, propaganda, etc., and ironically enough, these are the times when the voice of the public needs to be heard.

The world, today, is in a serious crisis — far more serious than most people seem to realize. This crisis is far more involved than the Viet Nam war. Viet Nam is only one burning tree in a raging forest fire. This fire, even now, is raging within our own beloved country, threatening to destroy it while we sleep. We need more firemen and need them now to put out this fire. Tongues of the flame even now are threatening our very homes. The condition of many countries today where this fire has already burned shows that the only things left in its wake are desolation, death and despair. Still, we sleep and will not waken to the cries of our fellow citizens. We sleep and will not hear their pleas for help.

Our boys are giving their lives in far countries to fight Communism. Yet, far too few of our "patriotic" citizens are willing to even give up a ball game or a movie to study and find out what Communism is all about. They refuse to see that, through infiltration and subversion, this country is rapidly turning into a Socialist State, from which it is only a very short step to actual Communism.

It is not my intention to present a thesis on Communism, although I could do so. My purpose in this letter is simply to point out the urgent need for America to wake up and see what is happening to us. A wise person need only to open his eyes and look around. It is plain for all who will see. This letter is a call to all America. Your country needs help—help to fight this fire that is destroying us from within. You do not need a gun. All you need is a love of your country, a love of God and your fellow man and a clear mind. With these weapons, we can lick the world, so lets use them! ! !

Today's hand illustrates a principle of play that was almost unknown as late as 25 years ago.

This hand was played by Oswald Jacoby at New York's Cavendish Club in 1941. He won the diamond lead and played four rounds of clubs. Then he cashed the ace of spades, went over to dummy with a heart and finessed successfully against East's queen.

His partner, one of the great players of all time, was mighty pleased with the result and asked, "How did you figure out that spade play?"

The answer to the question is that the play was correct. If Jacoby had missed Qxxx in spades instead of QJrx, the correct play would have been to try to drop the queen, but this hand illustrates the principle of restricted choice. When West played the jack, it meant that he had started with either the singleton jack or a doubleton queen-jack. The odds would be slightly in favor of the latter as a matter of plain probability. Specifically, when you miss four of a suit the chance that a specific opponent will hold a specific singleton is .062; the chance that he holds a specific doubleton is .068.

However, we have to go into inverse or compound probability here. If West held the singleton jack, he would have to play it; if he held the doubleton queen-jack, he would have a choice and would be just as likely to play one as the other. At least, a good player will false card about half the time in this situation, hence the .068 chance of doubleton QJ is cut in half and becomes .034 so that the actual odds in favor of the finesse are 62 to 34, or almost two to one.

Of course, if you were playing against a man who always falsecards, you would have a sure thing finesse. He would not play the jack from queen-jack under any circumstances. There may be such players somewhere but we have never found one.

After a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court here Thursday morning, George Evans, charged in a state complaint with felonious assault with intent to do great bodily harm, was bound over to the April term of Circuit Court. He was freed under a $3,000 bond.

The charges followed an incident Dec. 29, 1966, in which Harold Eckhoff, 56, 513 South Osage, was wounded after the discharge of a pistol allegedly held by Evans at the time. Testimony Thursday morning indicated a scuffle between the two men preceded the shots.

Eckhoff was hospitalized for a short time for injuries to both legs and the groin. The incident took place at a service station at Missouri and Benton.

Buddy R. Esser, 423 South New York, and Gerald H. Antoine, 1704 South Montgomery, appeared before Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong Thursday morning and had their preliminary hearing set for March 6. Bond was set at $3,000 for each man.

Both are charged in a state complaint signed by Prosecuting Attorney Henry Keeler with second degree burglary and stealing. Their apprehension followed the discovery of a break-in at the Singer Sewing Machine Co., here early Wednesday morning. About $800 in merchandise was reported missing from the business.

● Circuit Court

A petition for damages which amounting to $150,000, was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Gary M. Wahrenbrock, 907 West Fourth, against Steven Frederick Morris, Route 3.

This petition for damages is the result of a two-car accident which occurred, Dec. 11, 1966, in which seven persons were injured, six seriously, on south U. S. Highway 65, in front of the APCO service station, formerly the Jerry Brown station.

Missouri Highway Patrol Trooper William Southwick, who investigated the accident, reported that a 1966 Buick sedan belonging to Mr. June Brown, mother of Wahrenbrock, who was the driver, had pulled into the station, which was closed, and then pulled out of a south driveway and made a left turn on the highway, heading north, just as the 1965 Pontiac GTO crested a rise in the road. The Pontiac is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitfield, Dresden, grandparents of the driver, Frederick Steven Morris.

According to the Trooper, the Pontiac's front collided with the left front side and left rear door of the Buick, which was knocked south and came to a stop in the south traffic lane headed northwest. The Pontiac went off the highway on the east side and down a slight embankment.

Morris suffered a severe fracture of the jaw, lacerations of the face and legs and a possible back injury.

A petition for damages was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Mervin Oehrke against D. J. Jobe. The petition asks for $450 as a result of a accident involving a 1956 Chrysler and an Angus steer.

The petition states that Oehrke was driving his car south on Grand, Sept 29, 1965, when it struck the steer, belonging to Jobe. The plaintiff states that at the time of the collision, his car was worth $500, after the mishap, the value of the car was $50.

Wheat Futures Prices In Trading Advance

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices advanced up to 5 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Thursday, then fell back a little but closed nearly 3½ cents a bushel higher.

It was the third straight session during which wheat led a general advance of prices and marked an increase of 13½ cents a bushel in wheat prices in one week.

Favorable export notices, good buying support and a report of bad weather for the future of winter wheat crops in Kansas tended to influence wheat prices.

India had agreed to buy 1.2 million bushels of wheat and this set off the advance at the start of the session. Minutes later, India received authorization from Washington to buy another million bushels of wheat and with announcement that Pakistan was seeking 38,000 additional tons of wheat, the bread grain surged ahead in the futures exchange.

At the close, wheat was 2⅜ to 3¼ cents a bushel higher, March $1.76⅞-77; corn was ⅛ to ⅞ higher, March $1.38½-⅓; oats were unchanged to 1⅓ higher, March 73¾-74 cents; rye was ⅞ lower to ¾ higher, March $1.22¼; and soybeans were ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March $2.88⅓-⅞.

The $40,000 which would be deducted from Powell's salary at the rate of $1,000 a month represents two-thirds of the $60,000 which Powell would draw during the next two years as a member of the 90th Congress.

The money is to be used to offset Powell's "civil liability to the United States of America," which the committee said resulted from converting to his own use salary illegally paid his estranged wife and from "improper expenditures of government funds for private purchases" by himself and staff members of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell was chairman of the committee for six years until Democrats deposed him last month.

Mrs. Powell, who lives in Puerto Rico, testified before the committee she received only a small amount of her $20,500 annual salary over the past five years. The pay checks intended for her were deposited in Powell's House bank account by a staff member acting at his direction.

The committee said Powell "wrongfully and willfully appropriated for his own use" more than $4,000 in salary drawn in Mrs. Powell's behalf. Under law, members of a congressman's staff must work either in Washington or the member's home state.

The report also accused Powell of "wrongfully and willfully" appropriating $72 of public funds for air transportation for his son and friends; $124.79 for placing a woman on the staff of the committee to do "domestic work in Bimini, the Bahama Islands; and $461.16 for giving staff receptionist Emma T. Swann airline tickets bought with a committee credit card for vacation trips.

The first man out in the parachute jump Wednesday was Brig. Gen. John R. Deane Jr., San Francisco, commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade. Field guns were parachuted to earth for their support.

Gets Venue Change

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — John Lodwick Jr., former Clay County magistrate judge, received a change of venue Thursday in the $28,000 recovery suit filed against him by Clay County.

Lodwick, who was indicted last spring by a county grand jury on a charge of converting $2,800 in fines to his own use, told Circuit Judge R. Kenneth Elliott that it would be impossible for him to get a fair trial in Clay County. Judge Elliott had the case moved to Saline County Circuit Court.

The county seeks in the civil suit to collect fines, forfeitures and costs which the county alleges were collected by Lodwick while he was magistrate judge, but were never turned over to the county treasurer.

suicide except an unsigned, undated typewritten note saying death was a "sweet prospect." Tests showed that the note, found on the dining room table, was typed on a typewriter in Ferrie's cluttered apartment.

Garrison, who created international headlines by launching his own investigation into the assassination, described Ferrie's death as a temporary setback to his investigation. He said he felt Ferrie was on the brink of producing significant information. Nevertheless, he said, he remained optimistic that his investigation would proceed and produce results.

US Artillery Shells North Across Demilitarized Zone

Operation 'Junction City' Going Well, Reports Say

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. headquarters announced today that American forces have begun shelling North Vietnam with long-range artillery based in South Vietnam for the first time in the war.

An American military spokesman said U.S. artillerymen fired into the demilitarized zone and north of it with 175mm guns, the biggest in Vietnam, which have a range of 20 miles.

The announcement came as about 45,000 American troops pushed behind tanks through jungles of the Communists' war Zone C, 70 miles northwest of Saigon, in the biggest offensive of the war. But they failed to find Communist units of any size.

U.S. troops reported killing 19 Viet Cong so far in the new Operation Junction City, and the Communists responded with at least two mortar shellings of American positions. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light so far.

Though contact with the enemy troops was light, more than a half dozen tanks and other tracked vehicles struck land mines which tore off their tracks. Five U.S. Army helicopters were shot down by enemy ground fire, but U.S. spokesman said all five were lifted from the battle area and casualties totaled three wounded.

The massive assault, launched Wednesday, deployed the U.S. troops in a pincer drive against possibly 10,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers making up the Viet Cong 9th Division and support units.

A U.S. military spokesman said it was "too early in the operation to say" why contact was so light, although he did not rule out the possibility the Communists are attempting to escape across the nearby Cambodian border.

Dies Friday In Hospital After Crash

Find Robert Sheue Trapped In Vehicle On Old Highway 65

A Sedalian trapped inside a wrecked vehicle for about ten hours last night died at Bothwell Hospital at 10:20 a.m. Friday, about three hours after being found. His death is the sixth in Pettis County this year, compared to one for the same period last year on County highways.

Robert Peter Sheue, 56, 2302 Kay Ave., was found inside the wreckage of a 1965 Volkswagon coach by Vernon Horn, Route 4, a farmer passing the scene. Horn stopped traffic to have an ambulance called.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported the accident apparently occurred at 10:30 p.m. Thursday four miles north of Sedalia on an old section of Highway 65, which is no longer used for traffic.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, who investigated the accident scene, said Sheue's car was travelling south along the old highway when it hit a mound of dirt. The dirt was put there to block the roadway, and was piled about four feet high and six feet wide.

Van Winkle said the car went over the mound and landed about 33 feet south of it, coming to rest on its top. Van Winkle added that his investigation indicated Sheue's head was caught in the sterring wheel of the vehicle.

The patrol at first could not determine just when the accident had occurred. Later, however, it was learned from Mrs. Lucy Swope, Route 4, who oper-

Unexpected New Storm Breaks Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm that nobody expected blew out to sea off the coast of Newfoundland today after dumping more than a foot of snow over a wide area of New England and New York.

Snow with high winds continued during the morning in northern and central Maine, but ended before midnight in most other areas.

In Troy, N.Y., Jean Wager, 17, took advantage of a five-inch snow fall and a traffic jam to ski down Main Street to her classes at Catholic Center High School.

About 300 youngsters in Bangor, Maine, for the Eastern Maine High School basketball tournament were marooned. Cots were provided in the gymnasium for the night.

An international goodwill hockey tour from Canada's Prince Edward Island was stranded on the Maine Turnpike near Lewiston when its entire 15-car caravan banged together in a chain reaction pileup.

Two members of the group suffered minor injuries and were taken to Lewiston Hospital. The rest spent the night at a turnpike restaurant.

The 106-mile turnpike was closed overnight due to winds and drifting snow.

Five deaths were attributed to the storm, two in traffic accidents and three men who collapsed while shoveling snow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Boston had said Thursday the storm, moving from the South along the coast, was not expected to produce much snow.

Later, the weatherman said an "explosive deepening" had turned a "series of flurries" into a major storm.

Unification In Support Of Bombing

McNamara Sees No Difference In Several Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, acting with unusual initiative, declared today the administration is absolutely unified in support of the bombing of North Vietnam.

Specifically, the Pentagon chief said there is no difference of opinion between him and Secretary of State Dean Rusk about the need for American air raids on Hanoi's territory.

McNamara first called reporters to his office in an attempt to dispel what he considered an untrue image of division between himself and Rusk. Later he read a statement before television cameras explaining "the apparent divergence of opinion."

"In one sense," McNamara said, "this is amusing to me because in looking back over two years of recommendations to the President on military operations in North Vietnam, I can't recall a single instance when the secretary of state and the secretary of defense have differed on bombing policy and not a single instance when their recommendations have differed on particular bombing targets."

Strangler Breaks Out Of Hospital

BRIDGEWATER, Mass. (AP) — Albert DeSalvo self-styled Boston strangler, escaped from Bridgewater State Hospital today where he has been a mental patient for more than two years.

His absence was discovered at 6:20 a.m., a State Correction Department official said.

The notorious inmate took with him two other mental patients — Fred E. Erickson, 40, Brockton, and George W. Harrison, 33, Westford. Erickson was under life sentence for murder and Harrison was convicted last November for armed robbery.

DeSalvo was described by his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, as "a completely uncontrollable vegetable walking around in a human body." Bailey said DeSalvo admitted the sex slayings of 13 women in eastern Massachusetts between June, 1962 and January, 1964.

Bridgewater is a state mental institution with a section for detention of mentally ill persons with criminal records. It is some 25 miles south of Boston.

State police raced to the hospital area with bloodhounds and fanned out in a wide search through deep snow. Joining the hunt for the three dangerous escapees were hospital guards and local police.

The searchers followed footprints in the snow which led to a wall near a staging used in construction under way at the hospital.

Police said the men apparently moved the staging to a lower section of the wall and climbed over the outer wall.

Hospital Supt. Charles Gaughan said the men were on the second floor of a building which also housed elderly and sick patients.

"It appears they used some instrument or simulated key to open the reinforced wooden cell doors," Gaughan said.

Gaughan said the trio got out of the building down a shaft where an elevator is being installed. He said the men apparently were wearing hospital clothing.

Man Is Held In Death Of Woman In K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Police say they are holding Gus Hart, 34, in connection with the strangulation death of 29-year-old Mrs. Blondell Brown.

Mrs. Brown's body was found Thursday on the floor of her apartment by her daughter, Sharon Brown, 7. A window curtain was twisted around the dead woman's neck.

Police listed Hart's address as the same as Mrs. Brown's.

Romney Not Yet Ready To Say 'Yes'

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan may not be ready to say "yes," he is running for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, but he admits he's not likely to say "no."

During his seven-day western trip, he traveled more than 8,000 miles by air, several hundred miles by bus and car, a half-mile on horseback and 400 yards by dogsled—and ran into the worst weather on his way home.

His plane from Arizona was delayed by a blizzard Thursday night in Chicago and was forced to circle for more than three hours before landing at O'Hare International Airport. He flew to Detroit early today.

At his last stop for a speech, in Mesa, Ariz., Romney ticked off these statistics with obvious pride: 18,500 persons heard him during the trip, he raised $200,000 for the GOP.

"The trip has been well worthwhile," he said.

And had Romney received impressions favorable to his candidacy in 1968?

"Well, favorable enough to keep up the hot courtship," Romney said.

Romney's hot courtship in the last seven days included four new Republican governors—Walter J. Hickel of Alaska, John Williams of Arizona, David Cargo of New Mexico and Don Samuelson of Idaho.

Although he didn't win them all—Samuelson was the most noncommittal—he at least got a hearty reception wherever he went.

India Vote Brings Crisis To Majority

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Mounting returns in India's elections imperiled the ruling Congress party's majority in Parliament today and confronted Prime Minister Indira Gandhi with a crisis that could bring down her government.

With 180 of Parliament's 520 seats decided the Congress party had won 92 only four more than the combined opposition. The Hindu Communal Jan Sangh had 22, the right-wing Swatantra 14, the pro-Peking Communists 10, the Socialists 10, the pro-Moscow Communists 4 and independents and others 28.

In balloting for 3,560 assembly seats in 17 Indian states, Congress party candidates were winning only slightly more than 50 per cent.

As the party which had ruled since India won independence 20 years ago suffered setback after setback, Mrs. Gandhi's chances of continuing as prime minister were in doubt.

The Congress party had lost control of the local legislatures in two of India's 17 states: Kerala, where a powerful Communist-leftist combine was victorious, and in Madras, where the Tamil Dravidra Munnetra Kazhagam won a majority.

The Congress party retained the largest number of seats but lost its majority in three other states—Punjab, Rajasthan and West Bengal. There it must form coalitions to continue to govern.

The Congress party emerged the victor in six states: Mysore, Hariana, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh.

Still undecided were the states of Assam, Bihar, Jammu and Kashmir, Nagaland, Orissa and Uttar Pradesh.

As the votes continued rolling in, seven Cabinet ministers went down in defeat along with top leaders of the Congress party.

Resignations have already come in from Food Minister C.G. Subramaniam, who had been supervising the massive relief program for hungry eastern India, and Railway Minister S.K. Patil.

80-Year-Old Ex-Ruler Is Dead In India

HYDERABAD, India (AP) — The Hyderabad government today announced the death of the Nizam of Hyderabad, 80-year-old former ruler of the princely state and once reputed to be the richest man in the world.

The Nizam had been in failing health for some weeks following an attack of influenza. Police at his palace announced his death on Tuesday night but this was denied 90 minutes later.

Confirmation of his death today followed hours of unusual activity around his heavily guarded, walled palace.

B&O Train Jumps Track; Three Dead

PENNSBORO, W. Va. (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's crack National Limited jumped the tracks in a rural area of northcentral West Virginia today, killing three persons and injuring at least 67 others.

The fast passenger derailed about three miles east of here just before dawn, after all but the last of its four coaches had moved across a trestle spanning the north fork of Hughes River.

A Baltimore and Ohio spokesman said most of those injured were riding in the rear-most coach which dropped off the 75-foot high trestle and landed near the edge of the frozen stream.

The three other passenger coaches a mail car and three of the train's four diesel engine units were sprawled along the railroad's mainline track for several hundred feet. Only the lead diesel power unit remained upright.

The B&O said about 100 persons were aboard the train.

Icy highways slowed a dozen ambulances and four buses which were directed to the scene.

Temperatures around 10 degrees hovered over this section of the state during the night and ice covered many roads.

The National Limited originated in Washington and was scheduled to terminate in St. Louis.

Shake-Up In Red Chinese Army Seen

TOKYO (AP) —A new shake-up in the Chinese army and orders to the Red Guards to remold themselves gave evidence today of formidable snags in Mao Tse-tung's attempt to climb back to power.

New wall posters in Peking cast doubt on the future of the estimated 20-million Red Guards and heightened mystery surrounding Mao's heir presumptive, Defense Minister Lin Piao, who has not been reported seen in public since last November.

They also reflected breakdowns in discipline in the 2.5-million-man armed force which has been Mao's chief bulwark and indicated lower ranks in the army have been using the purge against their officers.

Mao has issued a directive putting the Communist party in charge of his purge of military units stationed in the key cities of Peking, Shanghai, Tientsin and Luta (Dairen-Port Arthur). The directive, reported in Peking wall posters, warned soldiers not to try to seize power from "military leadership organs" — the officers and political commissars.

It also warned outsiders to keep their hands off the army command, a suggestion that civilian Maoists are trying to take over the military leadership.

The Liberation Army Daily stressed the need for greater discipline in the army and indirectly disclosed that Mao, and not Lin Piao, is in charge of the Chinese military.

The paper identified Mao as chairman of the party central committee's military affairs commission — the nation's highest military organization. Recent official commentaries had described Lin as "in charge of the work" of the commission, indicating that he had taken over as chairman.

Mao in the past week has publicly made clear he is dismayed at the toll his purge is taking. He has offered his foes a truce and positions of leadership if they will submit to criticism.

Hostility to the Red Guards was highlighted in an editorial in Red Flag, the theoretical party journal.

Back JFK Probe

'Investigation' Fund Created

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A "conspiracy investigation" fund has been created by New Orleans businessmen to underwrite Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's pledge to prove there was a conspiracy in the assassination of President Jhn F. Kennedy.

"It would amount to a blank check that would pay the cost of the investigation for months and even years," one of the businessmen sponsors said. "We are prepared to back Jim Garrison all the way — five years if necessary."

Garrison said it might be months rather than weeks before arrests could be made.

He also said he would go to banks, if necessary, to personally borrow money to finance the investigation.

While there have been a number of critics of the Warren report, Garrison is the first public official with power to investigate to say there was a conspiracy.

Convinced that Garrison is right and will produce results if his investigation is free of any money obstacles, various New Orleans businessmen pledged to privately finance the investigation.

The Associated Press learned that pledges have been made. The prime mover behind the fund raising is Joseph M. Rault Jr., president of Rault Petroleum Corp. of New Orleans.

Rault confirmed the fund's existence, but declined to give any dollar amount.

The unorthodox financing of an investigation by a public official came about partly as a result of newspaper disclosures that Garrison was conducting an investigation into the Kennedy assassination.

The New Orleans States-Item broke the story after discovering that the district attorney's office had spent about $8,000 in three months. Vouchers covering this amount described the use of travel funds for "special investigation."

Garrison said that by publishing the names of the cities to which his staff traveled, possible witnesses or suspects were alerted and that this impeded his investigation.

The solution, he said, was to find money that wouldn't have to be accounted for in public records.

"I am determined to see this through," Garrison said. "There is no question that there will be arrests, and there is no question there will be charges and convictions."

Two days after he made that statement, a free-lance pilot David W. Ferrie, a central figure in Garrison's probe, was found dead in bed. An artery in his brain had ruptured.

Garrison said on Wednesday the death was an apparent suicide. But on the basis of an autopsy, Coroner Nicholas Chetta later ruled out murder as a possible cause of death, leaving suicide, accidental death or natural death as possible causes. Chetta said he saw no evidence of suicide other than an unsigned, undated note which described death as a "sweet prospect."

New State Court Plan Is Presented

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Robert M. White II of Mexico presented a preliminary draft today of a plan drawn by a special committee of the 125-member citizens conference for overhaul of Missouri's courts.

The plan, known as the Missouri plan of nonpartisan courts, simply extends the original non political plan of setting up courts for the entire court system.

In addition, it would do away with magistrate, probate and municipal and police courts and replace them with a new district court system.

There would be one district court in each county with divisions if necessary in larger counties, or two or more counties if the Missouri Supreme Court says so.

Appeal from the district court would have to be taken to one of four appellate courts — one more than at present.

In other words, if your are convicted of running a stop sign in district court and want to appeal the case it would have to be taken to one of four appellate courts, to be located in Jefferson City, Kansas City, St. Louis and Springfield.

Circuit courts would be retained and have original jurisdiction except where the Supreme Court puts jurisdiction in the district court.

Killed In Accident

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Paul Sturman, 42, of Pacific, Mo., was killed early today when his car crashed in suburban St. Louis.

Sturman was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Louis County Hospital.

Troopers say Sturman apparently lost control of his vehicle on a curve and crashed into a tree on the shoulder of the road.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

We at East Broadway Christian Church believe all denominational names are wrong.

Luke tells us "The Disciples were first called Christians at Antioch." Acts 11:26.

Paul tells us all party names are wrong. I Corinthians 1:12, 13.

Luther said, "Do not call yourselves Lutherans, but Christians."

Wesley said, "I would to God all party names were forgotten."

We desire to be known as Christians only. Just as the Bible teaches.

FINDING THE WAY

Cast The Net Again

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There is nothing amazing in the fact that we get tired. The New Testament reports a night of bad fishing after which the men were tired. They were washing their nets, and grumbling as tired people have a habit of doing. These were the men whom Jesus challenged to go fishing again. They took the dare, and came home excited because they had had success.

We might remember that just now. Why keep on trying for nuclear disarmament? Why try to negotiate for peace? Why try to end racial and ethnic tensions? Try any of these and you're bound to get tired.

It doesn't take much of a person to get tired. It DOES take a person of great faith to be persistently adventurous.

It doesn't take much of a church to be tired. It DOES take a church of great faith to be creatively adventurous.

It doesn't take much of a country to get tired. It DOES take a nation of great faith to be morally adventurous.

If we expect leaders of the nations to continue to talk instead of blowing up the planet, we ought to keep at it locally. There are enough racial, ethnic and social situations in any neighborhood to keep us talking and working. There are enough defeats to be tempted to quit trying. Why keep on fishing for a big idea, when you have little to show for it but empty nets?

And yet, it has been that brave company in every generation who lose themselves in the greatness of the cause, who make one forget to be tired. These can be wearying days, with enough to make us cry in despair, "Why fish?"

Those men who fished for justice and truth and honor in other generations have made it possible for us to know something of their victories in our own time.

If we're too tired — or morally tired and apathetic — to worship or pray, or to work with our neighbor in trying to solve a difficult problem, then there's little to do but try to escape in some form of forgetfulness. Either that — or the faith which requires trust and which acts in obedience. When we see the cause clearly enough, we forget to be tired.

They were a 1960 Corvair driven by James Thurman Hobdy, 1206 South Stuart, a 1965 Chevrolet driven by Almura L. Bozarth, 1210 South Carr, and a 1965 Chrysler driven by Karl J. Berry, 2504 West Third.

The rear of the Corvair, front and rear of the 1965 Chevrolet and front of the Chrysler were damaged.

Fires In City

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to 625 West Fifth at 5:52 p. m. Thursday, the residence of T. W. Hurley. The fire was caused by burning trash that spread to his garage. Damage was listed as slight.

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to 2200 South Ingram at 3:56 p. m. Thursday to extinguish a grass fire. There was no damage reported.

Circuit Court

A petition for damages which amounting to $150,000, was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Gary M. Wahrenbrock, 907 West Fourth, against Steven Frederick Morris, Route 3.

This petition for damages is the result of a two-car accident which occurred, Dec. 11, 1966, in which seven persons were injured, six seriously, on south U. S. Highway 65, in front of the APCO service station, formerly the Jerry Brown station.

Missouri Highway Patrol Trooper William Southwick, who investigated the accident, reported that a 1966 Buick sedan belonging to Mr. June Brown, mother of Wahrenbrock, who was the driver, had pulled into the station, which was closed, and then pulled out of a south driveway and made a left turn on the highway, heading north, just as the 1965 Pontiac GTO crested a rise in the road. The Pontiac is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitfield, Dresden, grandparents of the driver, Frederick Steven Morris.

According to the Trooper, the Pontiac's front collided with the left front side and left rear door of the Buick, which was knocked south and came to a stop in the south traffic lane headed northwest. The Pontiac went off the highway on the east side and down a slight embankment.

Morris suffered a severe fracture of the jaw, lacerations of the face and legs and a possible back injury.

Donald R. Anderson's resignation as trustee for the Perpetual Care Fund of the Missouri Cities Memorial Park Corp., was accepted in Circuit Court Thursday.

The court appointed Adolph Glenn, Paul S. Reed and William F. Brown as trustees to succeed Anderson.

The action had its roots in a two-count petition filed April 23, 1966, in Circuit Court here. At that time, the petition named Henry C. Salveter, Louis R. Hughes Jr., and Clinton J. Muller, representatives of owners of burial lots and grave space in Sedalia Memorial Park Cemetery, as plaintiffs. Defendants in the case then were the Missouri Cities Memorial Park Corp., and Francis J. Fisher and Donald R. Anderson.

The first count of the petition sought an accounting and the second count asked the court for removal of the trustees and the perpetual care fund and the appointment of successors of the trustees.

The second count has now apparently been satisfed, but indications are the first part of the petition may still have to be dealt with.

A petition for damages was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Mervin Oehrke against D. J. Jobe. The petition asks for $450 as a result of a accident involving a 1956 Chrysler and an Angus steer.

The petition states that Oehrke was driving his car south on Grand, Sept 29, 1965, when it struck the steer, belonging to Jobe. The plaintiff states that at the time of the collision, his car was worth $500, after the mishap, the value of the car was $50.

Police Reports

Ira Paxton, 611 East 17th, reported to the police that some boys had been throwing rocks at his house for the last several nights.

Sheriff Report

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax Wednesday morning assisted a Greene County deputy sheriff from Springfield in making an arrest of a Sedalia man on charges of burglary and stealing in Greene County. The Sedalian was Lesle Carrol Morris, Route 2, Crestview Trailer Court He was returned to Springfield by the deputy.

Magistrate Court

Larry Murphy and Alva Sypolt, both of Sedalia, entered pleas of guilty in Magistrate Court Friday to charges of stealing under $50 and both were sentenced to 60 days in the county jail, plus court costs.

The sentence followed a break-in Jan. 10, 1967 of a cigarette machine and coin box at the automatic laundry at Main and Harrison.

Area Fires

Pettis County Firemen made two runs Thursday, the first at 2:15 p.m. to the Howard farm, Route 3, where a grass fire burned off five acres. Cause of the fire was unknown, and no damage was listed.

Then, at 8:30 p.m., the department received a call to the C. E. Leftwich farm, Route 5, where a brush fire was out of control. The department reported, however, that Leftwich stopped the fire truck before its arrival, reporting the fire had been put out.

Again, the cause was not known and no damage was listed by the department.

Program On Safety Heard By Kiwanis

Although we are living in the most safety-conscious era in history, highway casualties continued to increase at an alarming rate, Trooper Robert W. Bruce, of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, Lee's Summit, told Sedalia Kiwanians at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Bruce, who is assistant safety officer of Troop A, noted the fatality list in 1966 reached 1,380, ten more than the previous year, or the equivalent of four persons a day on Missouri highways. Nationally the toll has reached 52,000 annually.

Public reaction to highway fatalities compared to those in airplane crashes is contradictory. Most persons are horrified reading news of lives lost in airplane disasters, yet these losses are 42,000 less a year than on the highways.

The speaker also reviewed legal requirements for operation of motor vehicles — the necessity of having two functioning tail lights, a white light illuminating a license plate; vision tests on license renewals; proper use of turn signals and the horn when passing other cars.

Trooper Bruce emphasized that all the new safety features built into modern automobiles will be of no protection to motorists unless they become more safety conscious and operate their vehicles accordingly.

The speaker was introduced by R. A. Fitzwilliam, program chairman.

The Lenten Meditation was given by the Rev. Garner S. Odell, pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church.

An induction ceremony for four new members was performed by Jack Shoemaker, chairman of the Education and Attendance committee, assisted by sponsors and President James D Giokaris. New members are: Robert McDonald, vice-president, Third National Bank, sponsored by Henry Salveter; James Ryan, salesman, Thompson-Greer Motors, Inc., sponsored by Lindsey Edwards; Henry Lamm, presiding judge of the Pettis County Court, sponsored by Roy Brown; the Rev. Medford Speaker, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, sponsored by John St. Clair.

Invocation was by Louis R. Hughes, Jr.

Guests were: Fred Biggs with Ed Woodrel; and Jerry Fox with the Rev. Medford Speaker.

Ann Landers
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: The letter written by "Janet," the teenager who hated her alcoholic father touched me deeply. I grew up in a home where father was seldom sober. I suffered many indignities because of his drunkenness.

I would like to tell Janet this: Your father is desperately ill, not just physically but mentally. The anguish he has caused you is nothing compared to the torment HE endures.

You wouldn't hate your father if he were dying of cancer, would you? In a way, alcoholism can be worse than cancer because so often people refuse to recognize that an alcoholic is ill. They keep saying, "He could straighten up if he wanted to" and, "All it takes is will power."

You can help your father if you have the courage and the desire to do so. Tell your mother, your doctor, your minister, anyone who might help, that your father needs hospitalization. It won't be easy.

I remember my mother's refusal to admit that Father was mentally ill. He had to try suicide before she was persuaded.

And please don't waste any more time or energy hating your father. He hates himself enough for both of you. Try love and understanding. And above all, get him the help he needs. — FORMER ALATEEN.

Dear Former: Your signature came as no surprise. I urge all teen-agers who must live with an alcoholic parent to contact this superb organization which is a branch of Alcoholics Annonymous. The national headquarters is: Alcoholic Foundation, Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Dear Ann Landers: You have printed several letters about telephone courtesy over the years. I hope yu will print one more.

I'm a business woman who uses the telephone a great deal. I don't mind it when a secretary tries to be super-efficient but I hate conversations that go like this:

Secretary answers phone: "Mr. Brown's office."

Me: "May I speak to Mr. Brown please?"

Sec.: "Mr. Brown is out at the moment. If you will leave your name and number I will have Mr. Brown reutrn your call."

Me: "Never mind. I'll call again later."

Sec.: "May I ask who is calling, please?"

Now this last sentence is what burns me up. If I had wanted to identify myself I would have done so when the secretary asked me to leave my name and number. Perhaps I wanted to speak to Mr. Brown about a trivial matter and I didn't want him to wrack his brain wondering why I was calling. Or maybe I just wanted to surprise him. Do you understand what I mean?—DANDER UP.

Dear Up: If Mr. Brown is a busy executive he doesn't have time for "surprises." Do you know what I mean?

A cardinal rule of telephone courtesy is that the person who places the call should identify himself at once. To expect a busy person to return a blind phone call is not only presumpeuous but arrogant.

Confidential to Up To You: I wouldn't make this decision for anybody. The pill should be taken ONLY under a physician's instruction. Women who took the pill on their own have wound up ill—and yes, even pregnant.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Anthony Buckner Is Inducted Into Army

Anthony E. Buckner of Sedalia was sent by the Pettis County Selective Service Board for induction into the Army on Feb. 15. After being sworn in at the Armed Forces Induction Station, Kansas City, he was sent to Fort Bliss, Tex., for his basic training.

Bruce A. Blackwood, formerly of Sedalia, was also ordered for induction on the same date, but transferred his induction to Redding, Calif.

The induction quota for March 15 is also for two men.

Law Enforcement Lectures Are Well Attended

The first of a series of evening lectures being held to promote cooperation and understanding between the public and law enforcement officials was held Thursday night. The first of the series was broken into two separate meetings, one for the public at the Pettis County Courthouse, the other for law enforcement officers in the City Council chambers of the City Hall.

Attending the meeting at the courthouse were various civic leaders and residents from surrounding communities.

In the session at the City Hall, both police and sheriff's offices were represented from Marshall, Boonville, Slater, Sedalia, Saline, Cooper and Pettis Counties.

Among the lecturers at the citizens meeting was Capt. George W. Pate, retired trooper captain of the State Highway Patrol, and a professor from the Central Missouri State College. At the City Hall, Adam Fischer, local attorney who is also instructing criminal law at CMSC, was the speaker.

In spite of the cold night both sessions were well attended.

The sessions will be held on Thursday nights with the next session to be conducted, March 9. Participating in the program will be representatives from the Office of the State Attorney General; Federal Bureau of Investigation; United States Attorney's office; professors and instructors from CMSC, and from the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Sedalia and Pettis county again have reason to be proud of a native son. This time it is Richard Fowler, 23-years-old, a member of the well known Fowler family residing east of Sedalia. He is author of a story published in the February issue of Scribner's magazine. To be recognized by the editorial staff of this magazine is indeed considered an honor, and means that the author has talent and will go far in the world of literature. Formula For Winner

Shipbuilding today is virtually an exclusive industry of the Japanese. Japan has a backlog of 20 million deadweight tons on order, even though it is turning out large tankers in as little as two months.

Cheap labor is the usual explanation given for Japan's lead in this field, plus the advantage of ultramodern yards built to replace facilities destroyed in World War II.

An American visited Japan recently and has come back to explode these "myths."

According to Al Zeien, operations manager for General Dynamics Corporation's Quincy Division, Japanese shipbuilding facilities suffered relatively little war damage. And it is not low wages but individual productivity, achieved through streamlined production control methods and automation, that is the major factor in low costs.

"The major lesson learned from the trip to Japan," says Zeien, "is that winners are winners because they have a sense of purpose. Japanese shipbuilders have that sense and, I believe, so do we."

Retard Strain On The Heart

High Blood Pressure Can Be Controlled

By Robert W. Wilkins, M.D.
Past President,
American Heart Association
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dr. Robert Wilkins

As recently as five years ago, I would have been hesitant to state categorically that one could "control" high blood pressure. Now that we have 15 years of clinical experience, rather than only 10, we know that pressure-lowering drugs do work. They do prolong life — mainly by lessening the strain on the heart and blood vessels and so decreasing the risk of heart attacks.

High blood pressure — especially in combination with other risk factors covered in this series, is controllable in almost all instances.

One must remember that drugs should be used to control blood pressure only after a thorough search for any primary remediable cause has been made and has revealed no such cause.

If a cause is found, such as a diseased kidney, a tumor of the adrenal gland or a constricted blood vessel that may be corrected surgically, it is necessary to operate to remove that cause. But in 85 to 90 per cent of cases of high blood pressure, no such underlying cause is found and so the diagnosis becomes one of primary or essential hypertension.

"Essential hypertension" means that the pressure of the blood which the heart pumps into the arteries is too high. For some unknown reason it starts to go up, usually at about the age of 30. While a single cause cannot be found, there are a number of predisposing or aggravating factors known to raise the pressure in essential hypertension. They fall into five main groups:

Familial. Essential hypertension tends to appear in certain families, and if one's parents and close relatives have it, one is more likely to develop it.

Nervous and emotional stress. These are known to aggravate anyone's blood pressure, but in essential hypertension the patient appears abnormally reactive to such irritations.

A high salt (sodium) diet. This always seems to aggravate hypertensive tendency.

Kidney disease. As already mentioned, if severe enough, this may cause hypertension, but apparently even mild kidney diseases may aggravate blood pressure in an essentially hypertensive person.

Just as primary tumors of the adrenal gland may cause hypertension in anyone, so even normal adrenal activity if stimulated by some of the factors mentioned above seems to aggravate an existing hypertensive tendency.

Any physician taking care of a patient with high blood pressure will think about each of these factors and try to do what he can about them. While he can't do anything about a hypertensive patient's family, he can and does try to lessen the nervous irritations to which the patient seems to be sensitive.

Similarly, he usually tries to cut down on excessive salt (sodium) in the diet. He also tries to treat any kidney disease that is treatable, and to lessen the likelihood of worsening of such disease.

He then tries the patient on blood pressure - lowering drugs usually cautiously at first, in small does and in various combinations, to see if they will moderate the pressure without causing any symptoms.

Considerable experience on the part of the doctor and of the patient is often necessary before a really satisfactory schedule of drugs is achieved. Persistence is the main requisite for success. Success means a lowering of the pressure to only mildly high levels, without causing any symptoms.

If blood pressure is being properly controlled, not only is the pressure lower, but also the patient should feel more normal (he may not feel quite as "peppy" — but he will feel more like a normal person). In addition, he should have a better life expectancy so far as the danger of heart strain or heart attack is concerned.

Finally, controlling high blood pressure is only the fifth step and it is aided by taking all of the other steps previously discussed in this series — proper diet, stopping smoking, maintaining normal weight and regular exercise. Each of these along with blood pressure control should assure the patient a full life expectancy. For men this is now up to the age of 72.

By contrast, life expectancy in untreated high blood pressure cases, combined with certain other uncorrected risk factors, is only age 52. Are these 20 extra years from 52 to 72 worth the effort? Only the patient can answer this question.

But the time to answer by taking these five steps is before age 52, and preferably even before age 30.

(End Series.)

Washington Merry-Go-Round

CIA Money to Labor Biggest Subsidy

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Revelation that the Central Intelligence Agency has paid almost $1 million to the Newspaper Guild in six years gave the public a look at only the above-water part of the CIA-AFL-CIO iceberg. The rest of the CIA money paid to organized labor, estimated at around $100 million a year, is probably the biggest fund dished out by Central Intelligence to anyone.

This payment and the foreign policy which goes with it are the chief bone of contention between AFL-CIO President George Meany and AFL-CIO Vice President Walter Reuther. It has come close to splitting the powerful AFL-CIO combine into two separate units after years of negotiating to put them together.

The huge CIA subsidy to organized labor chiefly goes to the following unions and union affiliates:

— Jay Lovestone, sometimes called Meany's minister of foreign affairs, a Lithuanian immigrant who became Secretary General of the American Communist Party, then turned strongly anti-Communist. Lovestone takes orders from Cord Meyer of the CIA. No CIA money for labor is spent without Lovestone's approval, and few labor attaches are appointed to American embassies abroad without his ok.

— The International Oil Workers Union, which has handled sizeable amounts of CIA money, especially in Indonesia.

— The Food and Restaurant Workers Secretariat, which embraces the food, hotel and brewery workers.

— The PTT Secretariat for the postal, telegraph and telephone unions, all working closely with Joe Bierne, President of the Communications Workers of America.

— Irving Brown, Lovestone's No. 1 ambassador in Europe, who operates largely through the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

— The American Institute for Free Labor Development — or AIFLD — with offices on "K" Street in Washington. It spends millions in Latin America.

— The African-American Labor Center (AALC) which spends CIA money in Africa.

— The Inter-American Regional Labor Organization — or ORIT — which also operates in Latin America. Its parent, the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions is too liberal for Lovestone, but ORIT takes direction from Lovestone and with it takes CIA money.

No Accounting

Some of these groups have done good work in combating Communist labor influences and in spreading Free Trade Unionism. But the difference between their work and the work of Arthur Goldberg with European labor during the war was that Goldberg's was openly associated with the OSS, a counter-intelligence organization, while the affiliation between organized labor and the CIA is highly secret and carried on through dummy foundations.

Furthermore, there is no competent committee of Congress with knowledge of American policy which rides herd on the huge expenditure of government money to organized labor. Thus you frequently find Meany and Lovestone following policies directly opposite to those of the United States. Meany, for instance, once called the late Premier Nehru of India an "ally of Communism."

Finally, there is no government accounting of these funds on behalf of the taxpayer. Unlike other agencies, these secret CIA funds do not have to be audited by the General Accounting Office. There is no way for the public or the General Accounting Office to know that Irving Brown in Europe paid $1 million to corrupt elements in the French Longshoremen's Union at Marseilles to get them to unload Marshall Plan goods in 1948, and that heavy payments continued to the French Longshoremen for an indefinite period afterward.

The Reuther faction of the AFL-CIO argues privately that the acceptance of CIA money puts organized labor on the same boat as the government trade unions of Communist Eastern Europe and Fascist Spain. Yet Meany, while accepting U. S. government subsidies, boycotts Soviet, Polish and other Communist unions even though they are becoming more independent and even though it's been the policy of the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations to build bridges between East and West.

Biggest spender of CIA money is AIFLD, composed not only of the Meany-Lovestone faction in the AFL-CIO, but Peter Grace of the Grace Steamship Line, Juan Trippe of Pan American Airways, and Charles Brinckerhoff of Anaconda Copper. To this partnership, labor is supposed to put up $200,000 and business $280,000. However, since labor share is raised on a collection basis, some unions don't come across.

Central Intelligence not only makes up the difference, but adds several million dollars besides — all through dummy foundations. The AIFLD then puts up the money for housing projects in the Dominican Republic, Argentina, Costa Rica, Guyana, Mexico and Honduras, a bank in Peru, and training programs all over Latin America. These are laudable programs. However, they are supposed to be the work of the Alliance for Progress, not the super-spy agency of the United States.

In brief, the CIA's cooperation with labor has come to be one way of getting around congressional appropriations for foreign aid, and also using funds to back dictatorships in Latin America.

The World Today

Romney Personality Great; Skimpy Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has finished a seven-day western speaking trip that still leaves him looking skimpy on new ideas or even positive ones on the war in Vietnam.

But when his tour was over — a tour obviously calculated to see what kind of reaction he got from Republican voters — he left little doubt he was satisfied or that he wanted his party's presidential nomination.

As usual, the liking for Romney seems more rooted in his personality than any ideas he had to offer. On Vietnam, in particular, his ideas were, and still are, practically zero.

Last July at the governors' conference in Los Angeles he was asked to express himself on Vietnam and then proceeded to ramble, weave and stumble until the result was undecipherable.

At that time he wound up by saying "there are no simple answers" and admitting "I have failed to take a clear-cut position one way or the other ... ah, I just ... the President hasn't, either. If he hasn't, I don't see why a governor should."

After that it was reported Romney and his advisers thought that before he started talking again in the field of foreign affairs, especially Vietnam, he ought to bone up on the problems. He remained quiet on them a long time.

But he started again on this trip, attacking President Johnson's handling of the war as "clumsy, ill-timed and poorly coordinated." He didn't say how but he did say it was a mistake to get involved in a land war in Asia.

Then he added: "But, since we're still there, we have to see it through." He did not criticize Johnson for resuming the bombing of North Vietnam but later he accused the Johnson administration of "expediency" in handling the war.

The day after that he ducked a question which tried to pin him down. He was asked how the administration was being politically expedient in Vietnam and would he give an example.

He said "No, I will not." Asked why he would not, he replied "Because I choose not to." Then he was asked, "Do you mean you are making a charge without substantiating it?" Romney answered "At this point, yes."

Just a few days before he started his trip through western states on Feb. 17, two public opinion polls — Gallup and Harris — gave conflicting reports on how Republican voters felt about him as a presidential prospect.

Gallup said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was their top choice as the best candidate. Harris said Republicans and independents preferred Romney over Nixon.

The enthusiastic response Romney got around the country after he won a third term as governor last November was enough to put presidential notions in any politician's head but Romney would not admit he was a candidate.

Then the trip began, with Romney still describing himself as a noncandidate and saying he had not made up his mind about his political future.

He got a good reaction and midway through the trip a Romney for President Committee was formed to sound out Republican sentiment nationally about his running in 1968.

The committee, with headquarters in Washington, will be headed by Leonard W. Hall, former chairman of the GOP National Committee and campaign manager for Nixon when the latter tried for the presidency in 1960.

At trip's end Romney was asked if he thought his chances for the nomination now looked good enough for him to try for it. He said, "Well, favorable enough to keep up the hot courtship."

This was more positive, although not fully positive, than he had been before.

No Freedom Compares To That Found In Mid-Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —There is no freedom like middle-aged freedom.

Just a few years ago people used to hate reaching their 40th birthday. They'd even try to hide the fact from themselves and the rest of the world.

They felt that merely being 40 had a sound of senility to it, as if their life had been put on the shelf. They silently mourned the passing of their youth.

Well sir, today that is an old-fashioned view. People have awakened to the discovery that 40 can be an exit from slavery, a milestone on the path of true human liberty. Far from being a disgrace, it is a condition of dignity and has certain welcome advantages and privileges.

For example:

You are too old to have to study algebra but too young yet to have to learn how to fill out a government medicare form.

The chairman of the board of your firm decides you are now dry enough behind the ears to be considered as possible executive timber.

You are now getting wise enough not to eat the kind of foods that upset your stomach.

On the other hand, if you don't want to accept a dinner invitation, your wife can always phone the hostess and explain, "Sorry, we won't be able to make it. You know Henry's gall bladder—it's been acting up again."

Any company is glad to issue you a credit card, figuring that by now you have reached the age of responsibility.

You can express your views on national and international politics without being regarded as a smart aleck young whippersnapper.

That touch of gray at your temples makes you look more distinguished, and helps bring out the hidden character lurking behind your baggy eyes.

The pretty girls at the office now think you are "harmless"—and, boy, that's where they make their mistake! There is no devil with the ladies like a middle-aged devil.

Barbers and taxicab drivers no longer try to regale you with risque jokes which were old even when you were in high school. They realize your mind is on grave and important matters.

Your wife now takes it for granted that you love her, and no longer demands that you explain why.

There is no law on earth that can compel you to stay up after midnight—unless you really want to.

All the recurrent and annoying emergencies that used to clutter your life begin to fade. You begin to quit wasting your energy doing unnecessary things.

Convinced at last that you can't refashion the world single-handed, you are at liberty to start harvesting the real glories of this earth with a quiet eye and a more understanding heart.

Yes, there's no freedom like middle-aged freedom. The wonder is that there are still so many people left who don't want to be that free.

Opening lead—♠ Q

The term "single suit play" applies when you must concentrate on one suit only. Your correct single suit play depends on the exact cards you hold and on the number of tricks in the suit you need.

South looked over dummy carefully and decided that he had very little chance to get more than four tricks out of spades, hearts and diamonds. Therefore it was up to him to try for five tricks in the club suit.

He won the first spade in his own hand and led a club toward dummy. West played the six and South played dummy's ten. When this held and both opponents followed to the ace. South had his five club tricks.

This play would not have been the best way to go after five club tricks if South had held the ten of clubs. In that case the normal play of ace-king-queen would have been correct. The reason the play was correct in this case is because South gets no value out of the ten of clubs in dummy unless he takes that first-round finesse. The play of the ace-king-queen produces five tricks only if clubs break 3-3. They break this way only 35.5 per cent of the time. The ten spot finesse produces five tricks any time West starts with Jx; Jxx or Jxxx in clubs. This happens 42 per cent of the time and a 42 per cent chance is a good deal better than a 35.5 per cent chance.

Suppose that South needs only four club tricks. How should he play? He should play exactly the same way. He can't win four tricks against five or six to the jack in the East hand. The first round finesse guards against five or six to the jack in the West hand and only costs that fourth trick against a singleton jack held by East.

Letter To The Editor

LARRY C. MELTON (Minister of Education, East Sedalia Baptist Church.)

The article in the paper regarding the petition being circulated against Chief Miller has stirred a great deal of interest in our area. We appreciate the article which informs the Sedalia community that there are those who are trying to undermine the stand Chief Miller is taking against prostitution and his proposals to regulate gambling in our city. We only hope he will continue to seek approval by City Council. I personally detest this action that is circulating, but it is evident that those elements are scared and are making a futile attempt to confuse our citizens. I only hope we will all stand behind Chief Miller and his attempts to make a better community out of Sedalia.

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. WILLIAMS

Code for New, Police, Bar

NEW YORK (AP) — A committee of the Bar of the City of New York said Thursday the claim of news media that prejudicial pretrial news coverage emanated largely from law enforcement agencies and the judicial establishment "rests in a solid basis of fact."

It added that "the judicial establishment has not done what it should have done to correct these abuses."

The committee report suggested codes of conduct for police and a new code of ethics for lawyers.

But the group, headed by U.S. Circuit Judge Harold R. Medina, also asserted:

"One of the conclusions reached by this committee is that because of the principles embedded in the First Amendment, the conduct of the press is largely beyond control of the courts and the judges. But the autonomy which the Constitution guarantees the news media carries with it the responsibility for putting their own house in order.

"Thus the most helpful step which can be taken to promote impartial trials is for the news media to adopt voluntary codes covering all aspects of crime reporting. Hopefully, in taking this step, the press will accept, and will be offered, the advice and cooperation of all bar associations. The problems in this area vary somewhat in the different localities and there may not be any one 'best' code. Rather, the local bar working with the local news media may devise the code which best suits the needs of their community."

The report was more than three years in the making and covers 99 pages.

Judge Medina has been a federal judge since 1947 when he was appointed to the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. He gained fame in 1949 when he presided over the nine-month trial of 11 Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by violence. He subsequently was appointed to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, resigned on his 70th birthday but returned on special assignments.

The report was one of a series which have been made by bar and press groups since the Warren report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy charged the American press with "irresponsibility and lack of self discipline." Following that report the Supreme Court ruled that "virulent publicity" surrounded the first murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard. At his recent second trial, he was acquitted.

In discussing a police code, the Medina committee suggested that "a member of the police agency shall be designated as the information officer responsible for the dissemination of all information to the news media. It will be the responsibility of the information officer to supervise the enforcement of these regulations and to solicit and encourage full cooperation of news media. No member of the police agency may furnish any information to news media without prior approval by the information officer. No interviews shall be permitted with investigating or arresting officers."

"Wherever feasible the information officer will encourage news media to enter into pool arrangements so as to reduce confusion and interference with the orderly processes of law enforcement. It shall be a prime responsibility of the information officer to insure a calm and orderly atmosphere during the dissemination of information to news media," it said.

In discussing recommendation for a new canon on ethics for lawyers, the committee said:

"It is unprofessional for a lawyer publicly to make, or sanction the publication or broadcast of, an out-of-court statement or disclosure of fact or opinion regarding a pending or anticipated civil action or proceeding or criminal prosecution.

"It is therefore the ethical responsibility of lawyers to refrain from the public issuance of statements or other disclosures relating to such action, proceeding, or prosecution, which concern:

"1. The merits of the claims of a plaintiff or defendant in a civil action or proceeding, or the guilt or innocence of a defendant in a criminal prosecution;

"2. The existence or contents of a party's confession, admission or other pretrial declaration;

"3. Testimony or other evidence to be offered at trial;

"4. Matters of fact bearing upon the cause, which will be offered in evidence at trial;

"5. The credibility or reliability of witnesses, or the probative force of other evidence offered or to be offered at trial;

"6. Testimony or other evidence which has been excluded by the court;

"7. The conduct, reputation or criminal record of any party or witness;

"8. The rulings or decisions of the court during the litigation.

"9. Any other matter which may tend to interfere with a fair trial, or may otherwise tend to prejudice the due administration of justice."

"It is the duty of a lawyer engaged in a civil action or proceedings or a criminal prosecution to attempt to restrain his client and witnesses from making any out-of-court statement or disclosure of fact or opinion proscribed by this canon.

"The foregoing, however, shall not be deemed to restrict the issuance of a brief statement by a lawyer concerning:

"1. His client's intention to plead not guilty in a pending criminal prosecution, or to defend a pending civil action or proceeding;

"2. The identity of the defendant in a pending criminal prosecution or the fact, the time and the place of his arrest, or the charge or charges against him;

"3. The identity of the parties to pending civil action or proceeding, the claim asserted and the amount in controversy.

In its discussion of "the courts straining power of contempt, and the judges" and the restraining power of contempt, the committee observed "with respect to the police and the press in the entire pretrial period we think it unwise and detrimental to ths public interest to give such contempt powers to the courts and the judges. Moreover, we think that such proceeding and the court rules, legislation or what not else authorizing such contempt proceedings might well be held to be a violation of the First Amendment guarantees of free press and free speech. Furthermore, as to the police, we find no authority inherent in the courts or the judges to discipline them for alleged breach of their duties as police officers."

In its discussion of a police code, the committee made these recommendations:

"Concerning the defendant:

"1. The release of information concerning the defendant shall be limited to his same, age, occupation, marital status and personal data not related to the crime or the character of the defendant. His criminal record, prior medical and psychiatric history, or military disciplinary record, if any, shall not be released. No other information that is clearly prejudicial to the defendant shall be released.

"2. No statement of any nature made by the defendant, or the substance thereof, shall be released. No reference shall be made to any test taken by the defendant or that he has refused to take.

"3. The announcement of the arrest of the defendant may include, in addition to the information authorized in paragraph 1, the time, place, and manner of apprehension, as well as the text or summary of the charge, information or indictment. No comments shall be made relating to his guilt or innocence.

"4. News media shall not be permitted to interview the defendant with or without his attorney's consent while he is in police custody.

"5. News media shall not be permitted to photograph or televise the defendant while he is in police custody and in other than a public place. This prohibition extends to such instances as where he is in a lockup or dewhere he is being processed ('booked') following arrest, lhre he is in a lockup or detention facility, or where he is at hospital bedside for identification purposes. The defendant shall be escorted through public places as expeditiously as possible. While the news media shall not be prevented from photographing or televising the defendant in a public place, he shall not be halted or posed for their convenience.

"6. Where the defendant is still at large, and it appears that he is a fugitive from justice, additional information that may reasonably and directly aid in effecting his apprehension, including his photograph, may be released"

The committee recommended concerning the crime, the investigation and the arrest:

"1. A general description of the crime shall be made available to the news media. Gruesome or sordid aspects which tend unduly to inflame public emotions shall not be released. Witnesses shall not be identified by name or otherwise, nor shall any comment be made concerning their credibility, their testimony or their identification of the defendant.

"2. Wherever possible, the taking of photographs of maimed or deceased victims shall not be permitted.

"3. No comment on the apparent motivation or character of the perpetrator shall be made.

"4. No information concerning scientific evidence such as laboratory or ballistics tests or fingerprints shall be released.

"5. At the time of arrest, in addition to the information which may be released concerning the defendant, the announcement may include the identity of the investigating and arresting officers, and the time duration of the investigation."

The committee said, "We conclude this final report with a feeling of optimism. At last the community at large as well as the courts and the judges, the lawyers and the bar associations and every segment of the news media, has been alerted to the dangers of prejudicial publicity.

"All must now recognize the 'bedlam' and the 'carnival' and 'Roman holiday' aspects of sensational criminal trials are disgrace to American justice. The continuing efforts by all concerned to improve the situation are most encouraging."

Producer Up-Stages Stars

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The Variety hour, so often a predictable bore, took a giant step Thursday night with ABC's "C'-Est La Vie."

In the hour, taped in Paris, it may have been the first time in the careers of either Maurice Chevalier and Diahann Carroll that they were successfully upstaged by production values, staging and camerawork. Good as both were, the real star of the show was its director, Jean-Christophe Averty.

The program sparkled with innovation and imagination. Averty used his big white stage like a canvas, sometimes breaking it with straight lines, sometimes with hollow block inside of which were his dancers and stars.

Miss Carroll and Chevalier serenely sang their charming ways through all this inventive background. In one number, Miss Carroll sang "Some of These Days" in a forest of blinking spotlights of various colors.

If the program had one fault it was that the backgrounds were often so busy, so unusual and so attention-getting that the viewer's attention strayed from the principals in the center of things.

The packaging firm of Goodson and Todman, soon to be out of evening game shows when "To Tell The Truth" and "What's My Line?" disappear, have a new daytime entry, "Snap Judgment" arriving in NBC's lineup on April 13.

It will replace the feeble entry, "Reach For The Stars," out of Merv Griffin's production shop, that managed to survive only three months.

Ed McMahon, Johnny Carson's late evening man Friday, will be host on the program which appears to have been inspired by psychologist's word-association tests on one hand and Goodson-Todman's own "Match Game" on the other.

Studio contestants will attempt to react to a series of words with words that they hope will be chosen by their celebrity team mates.

Love Letter Is Part Of Testimony

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "But I love you and I want to marry you."

This was part of a letter read in court by William H. Brown, who claims he never promised to marry a dark-haired German beauty who is suing him for breach of promise.

The letter was read by Brown Thursday after the millionaire Arizona rancher was called by the attorney for Beate Leber as an adverse witness.

The letter was signed: "Good-by Iglo. Your future husband Bill."

Mrs. Leber, 34, of Heidelberg, Germany, is suing Brown, heir to a Pittsburgh, Pa., coal fortune, for $2.5 million of his $5.6 million estate.

Brown, 65, rancher, yachtsman and sports car racing enthusiast, contends that he paid Mrs. Leber's husband $39,000 to lease her for a year.

During the first two days of the U.S. District Court trial, Brown has been reading letters, cablegrams and post cards to the Lebers from cities throughout Europe and the United States.

So far, 72 documents have been read, some of which tell of a three-week visit Mrs. Leber made to Brown's ranch near the Mexican border.

Brown said he asked Mrs. Leber, whom he met at a nudist resort in northern Germany, to be his mistress while they were at the Intercontinental hotel in spring of 1965.

In one letter dated July 28, 1965 Brown called himself an "irascible, grouchy old man with a terrible temper."

Ryun Pointed For Race In Which He Set New Record

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas ate sauerkraut, wieners and onion soup at his dormitory before setting an indoor world record of 1:48.3 in the half-mile Thursday night.

Maybe that ought to be a prescribed pre-meet meal for middle distance runners.

The 19-year-old Jayhawk sophomore admitted he was pointing for the race, the only one he ran in a dual meet with Oklahoma State.

"I cut down in my training a little this week," Ryun said. "This was the last meet for a long time that I'll have only one race. Next week I'll be working hard right up to the Big Eight meet."

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile at 3:51.3, has a pending world mark of 1:44.9 in the outdoor half-mile. All indoor marks are unofficial because of widely varying conditions.

He broke the indoor mark of 1:49 set last Saturday by ex-Oklahoma State star Tom Von Ruden of the Long Beach 49ers in the Mason-Dixon games at Louisville, Ky., on an eight-lap board track, considered possibly the best in the nation.

Ryun's race was on the dirt, unbanked Allen Fieldhouse layout, also eight-laps to the mile. His 220 times were 26.0, 27.0, 27.5 and 27.8. Before the race, Ryun told teammate Mike Sheahon:

"I want to run a real good first quarter, then see what happens."

Sheahon asked Ryun how fast he wanted to run the first quarter.

"About 53 54 seconds," Ryun replied. Sheahon couldn't believe his ears.

"No I mean the first quarter, not the last," Sheahon said.

Ryun said he meant 53 for the first quarter. As it turned out, that was his exact first quarter time — 53.0. Ryun also told Jimmy Metcalf of OSU before the race, "I'm going to try for a real good one."

At the first turn, Ryun led Metcalf by three yards and at the 440 mark he led by five yards. Then Metcalf faded.

In the Big Eight indoor championships at Kansas City March 3-4, Ryun will run the mile and one other race—either the 880, 1,000 or two-mile. He might finish with a leg in the mile relay, if the meet title is on the line.

Ryun was joined by two double winners, Lee Adams and Gary Ard, in leading Kansas past Oklahoma State 85-33. Adams won the 60-yard low hurdles in 6.7 seconds, missing his own world indoor mark of 6.6, and the 60 highs in 7.3. Ard took the long jump in 23-11¾, the 440 in 50.3.

Adams also was second to KU's Ben Olison in the 60-yard dash. Oklahoma State was led by Chris McCubbins, who won the mile in a career indoor best of 4:11.3 and took the two-mile in 9:11.8.

Oklahoma State and Oklahoma will compete in the state federation meet at Norman Saturday, which has drawn more than 300 entries.

Nebraska regains the services of Charlie Greene, world indoor record holder in the 60-yard dash, for a triangular meet with potent New Mexico and Iowa State at Lincoln Saturday. Missouri, Kansas State and Arkansas will compete in a triangular meet at Columbia Saturday night. Air Force is at Colorado.

The field for the Big Eight meet is one of the best in history. Listings by the league office shows Ryun leads the league in four events—the 880, mile in 4:02.6, 1,000 in 2:09.9 and two-mile in 8:44.2.

He can run in only two of them, however. McCubbins has two runner-up times with his 4:11.3 mile and 8:51.6 two-mile. For the first time ever at this stage, the league has four long jumpers over 24 feet, with Ard 24-5¼, Ken Gaines of Kansas 24-5, Oklahoma's Mike Gregory 24-3¾, and Missouri's Gary Rainwater 24-3½.

George Byers, Kansas sophomore who ran 6.8 and 7.3 runner-up times Thursday, leads leads the field in the highs with a 7.2. He also held the previous world mark of 6.7 in the lows, along with Nebraska's Ray Harvey and more than 20 other runners.

Colavito Has Message For Gabe Paul

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rocky Colavito has a message for Gabe Paul:

Don't write or wire — phone.

The Rock sits at home in Temple, Pa., unhappy and unsigned as the Cleveland Indians begin spring training in Tucson, Ariz. A telegram from General Manager Paul remains unanswered. Reportedly, Paul wants Colavito to take a 25 per cent pay cut.

"The least he could have done," Rocky grumbled, "was to give me the courtesy of calling on the phone as he promised last week. But, no. I figure he's just giving me the old business about this is it, take it or leave it.

"I'm not buying. I'm still here and I plan to be here for a while.

The veteran slugger hit only .238 last season, but had 30 home runs. He drove in 72 runs in 151 games.

There were those who did come to terms with their clubs Thursday.

Billy McCool, Tommy Harper, Tommy Helms, Chico Ruiz and Don Pavletich of the Cincinnati Reds signed as did Pittsburgh Pirate infielders Bob Robertson and Luther Quinn.

Steve Whitaker, rightfielder for the Yankees, returned his signed contract, leaving Elston Howard as the lone New York holdout.

Hank Aaron, previously announced to be in the fold, formally signed a contract with Atlanta, that gives him a salary of around $100,000. Another Brave signee was pitcher Ken Johnson. Only Joe Torre is unsigned among the Braves.

And Sonny Siebert, far apart from the Cleveland Indians earlier in the week, signed early in the day.

Chilhowee Ousted From Tournament

Chilhowee was eliminated on Thursday night by Ballard, in the Class S Regionals being held in Montrose, 48-37.

Chilhowee got off to a first quarter lead 13-11, then fell behind at the half, 26-25. The third period Ballard continued to increase their lead as they outscored Chilhowee in the quarter, 14-10. The fourth period was a low scoring effort by both sides, with Ballard scoring 8 points, and Chilhowee 2. Thus moving Ballard into the semifinals.

Randy Grimes was the high scorer of the game with 17 points for Ballard. Bob Phillips had 11 points for Chilhowee.

Scores by quarters:

Ballard	11	15	14	8—48
Chilhowee	13	12	10	2—37

Individual scoring: Chilhowee; Phillips, 11, Marksberry, 8; McKinzie, 8; E. Courtney, 6; D. Courtney, 2; West, 1; Anstine, 1. Ballard: Grimes 17; Schmetting, 8; Hon, 8; M. Grimes, 7; Mcelwain, 3; Barland, 3; Cumptor, 2.

Celtics Win Three Games, Knicks Don't

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics and the New York Knickerbockers played three National Basketball Association games in three cities within 44 hours. The Celtics won their three; the Knicks didn't.

Both teams faced a grueling schedule. But it was worse for the Knicks — they faced the Celtics twice. New York has lost 17 straight games to Boston; they haven't beaten the Celtics since March 17, 1965.

The marathon began Tuesday night in New York, when the Celtics rolled over the Knicks 143-114. Wednesday night, the scene was Baltimore. In a doubleheader, Boston defeated Baltimore 135-120, but the Chicago Bulls trimmed New York 117-103.

The scene shifted to Boston Thursday for an afternoon match and the Celtics, apparently less weary, topped the Knicks 122-117.

For New York, the string of defeats spelled trouble for their continued grip on third place in the NBA's Eastern Division. They are now only two games ahead of the Cincinnati Royals. The third playoff spot brings $5,000 to the team finishing there, and, as a Celtics spokesman noted, "fourth place finishers shake hands with the management."

The Boston-New York contest Thursday was the only NBA game scheduled.

Larry Siegfried sparked Boston to a big third period surge in Thursday's victory, scoring 15 of his 28 points. Bailey Howell also chipped in with 28 points for Boston, while Walt Bellamy led the Knicks with 27.

Boston won the rough contest at the foul line. Both teams hit for 46 field goals, but Boston cashed 30 of 37 free throws while New York managed only 25 of 38.

Two Leaders Are Closing In On Two Top Marks

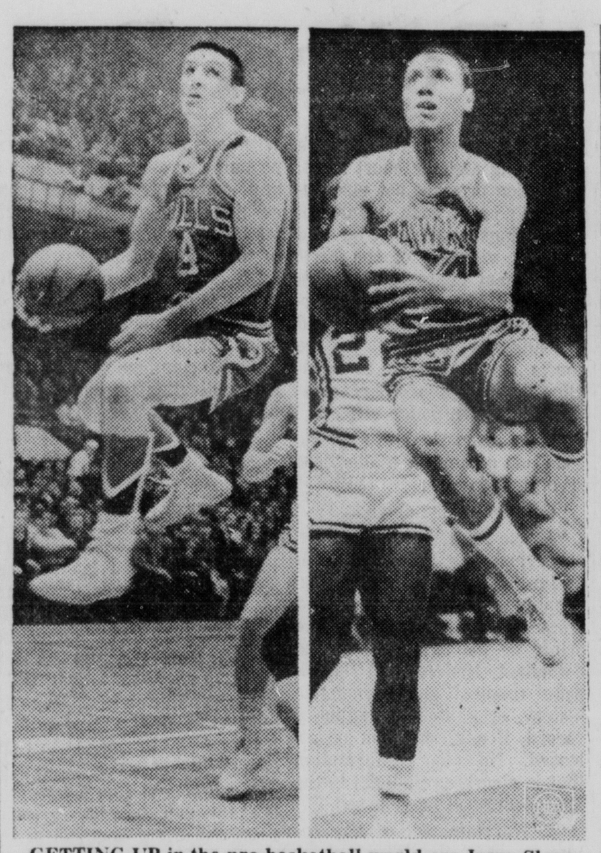

NEW YORK (AP) — As college division basketball enters its final week of the regular season, two national statistics leaders are closing in on important marks.

Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem, the scoring leader with a 43.5 average, needs just 42 points to reach 1,000 for the season. He has two more regularly scheduled games and the NCAA College Division Tournament left to play.

Jake Ford of Maryland State could set a free throw accuracy mark. He converted 12 for 12 last week and has missed only six of 97 attempts this season. Ford is averaging .938 from the foul line, compared to the record of .297 set by Jon Hagen of Mankato State in 1963

Frank Stronczek of American International and Arkansas State's John Dickson continue to lead the rebounding and field goal percentage categories.

Stronczek is averaging almost 24 rebounds a game and Dickson has a .691 percentage from the floor.

GETTING UP in the pro basketball world are Jerry Sloan, left, of the Chicago Bulls and Lenny Wilkens of the St. Louis Hawks.

Set To Meet Kansas

Surprise Punch Is Needed For MU Win

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 24 — (Special) — Like a desperate, outclassed fighter Mizzou will have to uncork a surprise punch to deck Kansas in their televised Big Eight basketball game at Lawrence Saturday afternoon

From a personnel standpoint, the Tigers are ill - equipped to surprise anyone, much less the league - leaders in this 1:15 p.m. tipoff. In fact, Coach Bob Vanatta of Missouri will have to depart from his customary lineup, possibly inserting 6-6 Jim Chapman at forward, to combat the Jayhawks' rangy front line.

Kansas, 18-3 overall and 9-1 in conference play, handled Ol' Mizzou, 70-60, in an earlier bout here. However, two of the leading scorers in that one — Tiger Gene Jones (23) and Bob Wilson (17) of Kansas — have tripped up scholasticaly since then. Also lost on grades was M.U.'s seven - foot sophomore, Booker Brown.

Rodger Bohenstiehl, 6-6 K.U. forward, also collected 17 points in that first brush with Missouri, who kept it close until disconcerted by a late, half-court press. Then, two deflections of M.U. passes by Jo Jo White resulted in clinching Jayhawk baskets.

Kansas lost its next outing to Colorado at Boulder, but Coach Ted Owens' crew since has polished off seven straight foes. Missouri has lost four in a row since beating Oklahoma State here.

The Tigers, 3-18 for all games and 1-9 in the league, are in danger of duplicating last year's cellar finish. One notch above is Oklahoma State at 1-8.

Ron Coleman's average is 20. but the slender senior — now Missouri's second - best scorer of all - time — isn't apt to overhaul the 1,338 - point career high of Charlie Henke. With four games left, Coleman has scored 1,211 points.

Missouri returns home against second - place Nebraska here Tuesday.

Probable Starters

Kansas — Ron Franz, (6-7), F; Rodger Bohn'st, (6-6), F; Vernon Vanoy, (6-8), C; Jo Jo White, (6-3), G; Bruce Sloan, (6-5), G.

Missouri—Tom Johnson, (6-4) F; Jim Chapman, (6-6), F; Rich Milling, (6-8), C; Ron Coleman, (6-1), G; Rob Vanatta (6-3), G.

Nebraska — Nate Branch (6-4) F; Tom Baack, (6-5), F; Willie Campbell, (6-5), C; Stuart Lantz, (6-3), G; Ron Simmons, (6-0), G.

Tipoff: MU-KU, 1:15 p.m. Saturday, Allen field house, Lawrence.

MU-NU, 7:35 p.m. Tuesday, Brewer field house, Columbia.

Tournament In Quarter Final Round

Two games were played Thursday night in the quarter finals of the Class S Regionals, being played in Smithton.

In the first game of the evening, the number 2 seeded team in the tournament, Bunceton, after being down 30-26 at the half, fought back in the second half to defeat Otterville, 64-54.

High scorer for Bunceton was Bill Dicus with 24 points. Bishop was the high scorer for Otterville with 20 points.

In the final game of the evening, unseeded New Franklin upset the number 3 seeded team in the tournament, Pilot Grove, 71-65.

New Franklin had a one point lead at the half, then used a big third quarter to increase their lead to seven points, then fought to hold on to it in the final period, to move into the semifinals.

Dick Lang was the high scorer for New Franklin, as he poured in 28 points. Lammers had 17 points for Pilot Grove.

In semi-final action scheduled for Friday night, in the upper bracket, Stover meets University High of Columbia, at 7 p.m. followed at 8:30 by Bunceton and New Franklin.

Scores by quarters:

New Franklin	13	21	18	19—71
Pilot Grove	15	18	12	20—65

Forgotten Team Is Back As Defender

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Western, the forgotten team in college basketball, is back to defend its national championship in the NCAA postseason tournament and the Miners from El Paso aren't conceding anything to any team.

"The boys have been pointing for this all year," Don Haskins, the Miners' coach, said today after the NCAA had filled its 23-team field for the championship tourney opening March 11.

Starting one hour after the NCAA issued its at-large invitations Thursday, the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament, the other major postseason tourney, landed seven teams. The 14-team NIT opens March 9 in New York.

Named to the NCAA, along with Texas Western, were Boston College, St. John's of New York, Virginia Tech, Houston, Dayton, Seattle, New Mexico State and the champion of the Ivy League, either Princeton or Cornell.

Syracuse, Providence and Utah State, three of the country's top independents, were tapped for the NIT along with Marquette, Memphis State, Rutgers and St. Peter's of New Jersey.

Louisville, Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified automatically for the NCAA as conference champions. Eleven other conference champions complete the NCAA field. At present they shape up as Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Indiana, Kansas, U. of Pacific, Brigham Young, Southern Methodist, Toledo, Temple and unbeaten UCLA, the country's No. 1 team.

Haskins didn't mention the Bruins, but he obviously had UCLA in mind when he said "the boys have been pointing for this all year, a chance to go back." Hardly anyone expected the Miners to upset Kentucky for the 1966 national championship, but they did. Haskins hopes his boys can go all the way again although UCLA, with its super-sophomore, Lew Alcindor, is favored.

A Saturday afternoon doubleheader at Blacksburg, Va. opens the NCAA tourney March 11. That night the first round will be completed with a single game at Kingston, R.I., and doubleheaders at Lexington, Ky. and Fort Collins, Colo.

The NCAA announced these pairings:

At Blacksburg — Southern Conference champion, probably West Virginia, vs. Ivy League champion, Princeton or Cornell, and St. John's, N.Y. vs. Middle Atlantic Conference champion, probably Temple.

At Kingston — Connecticut, the Yankee Conference champ, vs. Boston College.

At Lexington, Ky. — Virginia Tech vs. Mid-American Conference champion, probably Toledo, and Dayton vs. Western Kentucky, the Ohio Valley Conference winner.

At Fort Collins, Colo. — Houston vs. New Mexico State and Texas Western vs. Seattle.

A scheduled doubleheader at Fort Worth, Tex. was canceled when the field was cut from 25 to 23.

The winners of March 11 advance to the regional finals at College Park, Md., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and Corvallis, Ore. on March 17-18. The March 18 survivors advance to the semifinals and final at Louisville, Ky. March 24-25.

These are the pairings for March 17:

At College Park — winner of Southern Conference vs. Ivy League meets Atlantic Coast Conference winner. Winner of St. John's-Middle Atlantic meets winner of Connecticut-Boston College.

At Evanston, Ill. — winner of Virginia Tech vs. Mid-American meets Big Ten champion. Winner of Dayton-Western Kentucky meets SEC champion, probably Tennessee.

At Lawrence, Kan. — winner of Houston vs. New Mexico State meets Big Eight champion, probably Kansas. Louisville, MVC champion, vs. SWC champion, probably Southern Methodist.

At Corvallis, Ore. — winner of Texas Western vs. Seattle meets WCAC champion, probably U. of Pacific. Pacific-8 champ, probably UCLA, vs. WAC champion, probably Brigham Young.

The NIT opens with a night doubleheader in New York on March 9. Afternoon and night doubleheaders complete the first round on March 11. The quarter-finals are scheduled for March 13-14, the semifinals for March 16 and the championship game for Saturday afternoon, March 18.

Once-beaten Western Kentucky with a 21-game winning streak after an opening defeat to Vanderbilt has the best record of the teams definitely in the NCAA and NIT.

Other records are: Louisville 23-2, Connecticut 17-4, Boston College 16-2, St. John's, 19-3, Virginia Tech 17-4, Houston 20-3, Texas Western 18-5, Dayton 20-4, Seattle 17-6, New Mexico State 14-9, Princeton 20-2, Cornell 18-3.

Syracuse 19-3, St. Peters 18-2, Rutgers 16-6, Providence 17-6, Marquette 16-8, Memphis State 17-7, Utah State 18-4.

Two Games Played In Houstonia

Two games were played Thursday night in the Houstonia Invitational Basketball Tournament. This is the first year for this tournament, which drew 8 town teams from the surrounding area.

In the first game of the evening LaMonte defeated Alma, 110-96. LaMonte led all the way, as they had a half time lead of 57-35. After that, all they had to do was rely on their leading scorer Edmonson to pull them through. Edmonson finished the night with 30 points. High scorer for Alma was Mueller with 23 points.

The second game of the evening Houstonia downed Knob Noster, 103-86. Houstonia had little trouble throughout the game as they lead at the half 38-32, and then outscored Knob Noster in the second half 65-54.

Terry Pummill lead Houstonia in scoring with 22 points. Drover had 22 points for Knob Noster.

The semi-finals will begin Friday night at 7:30.

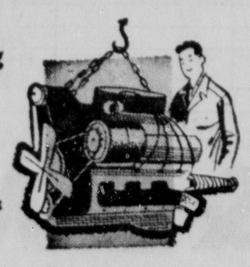

Scores by quarters:

Houstonia	20	18	37	28	—103
Knob Noster	17	15	22	32	— 86
LaMonte	19	38	24	29	—110

NFL May Set Format For 'Draft'

HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League was expected to set the date and format of the first common draft today, but the mechanics of the selection process remain an open question.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the owners were "closer to internal agreement" after Thursday's prolonged meeting that ended with a long executive session. Rozelle said he expected the meetings to end today.

Some variation of the American Football League's proposal for separate regular senior draft and redshirt selections appeared likely. It is possible that special exceptions will be made so that a team like Green Bay, with 10 picks in the first five rounds, would not be penalized by action that would have a retroactive effect.

Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager of the world champion Packers, has opposed the two separate drafts because he had made trades last year for choices that he expects to use this season.

The Packers, loaded with talent, often pass up the current crop of collegians and concentrate on the redshirts. A redshirt is a player with remaining collegiate eligibility although his original college class has graduated.

George Halas, veteran owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, reportedly was lined up with Lombardi. However, it would take four negative votes to defeat the two-draft proposal when it comes up for a formal ballot.

Rozelle said unofficial polls had been taken of several variations of the original plans during Thursday's long session. If there are variations from the AFL proposal it would be necessary to contact AFL officials before making any announcement. The draft is expected to be held in mid-March, probably in New York.

Rozelle said it appeared unlikely that any action would be taken here on a proposal to name a new president for the NFL. Rozelle wears two hats as commissioner of pro football under the merger and also commissioner of the NFL. He has hired a firm to conduct a survey of the best administrative setup for pro football, and this survey will not be finished until May.

The NFL's unwritten policy against an owner holding a controlling interest in another sports team was discussed. Many NFL owners are interested in the new soccer leagues and also in pro basketball and hockey ventures.

"There was unanimous sentiment against permitting an owner to have a controlling interest in another sport," said Rozelle. "We are working on guidelines as to just what represents a controlling interest. We will take this up again at our May meeting.

Bill Hundley, the new security chief, reported to the league on his work. Special security people are at work in all NFL cities, and a similar setup is being put in effect in the AFL.

Hawaiian businessmen made an impressive presentation for an NFL franchise in Honolulu by 1972. The Hawaiian people hope to land the Super Bowl for 1972 and plan a 36,000-seat stadium to cost $21.7 million. The stadium would be expanded to an eventual capacity of 46,000, according to Robert Ellis, acting mayor of Honolulu.

Piersall Isn't Type To Retire

HOLTVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Jim Piersall, a 37-year-old outfielder making a bid for his 20th season in organized baseball, just isn't the retiring sort.

So it wasn't surprising Thursday when the California Angels' controversial veteran criticized former teammate Dean Chance and called the trade that sent Chance to Minnesota "the best thing that ever happened to the Angels."

Piersall is working at the Angels' spring training camp as a free agent trying to make the roster. But he took time out to speak as always — rapidly and expansively.

"All I know is we're not going to miss him," said Piersall of Chance, a 26-year-old pitcher who won 74 games in five seasons with the Californians.

"What did Chance win for us last year? Twelve games, that's what he won," said Piersall. "All a couple of our young kids like (Jim) McGlothlin and (Jorge) Rubio have to do is win six each to make up for that, and it should be easy.

"I'm not saying Chance isn't a great pitcher. He may win 25 for the Twins. But he wouldn't have if he'd stayed with us. He would have worn out his welcome. His attitude can hurt a club more than it helps.

"Chance isn't easy to play behind. The things he said and the way he'd just stand there and glare at somebody after an error were upsetting to everybody.

"He never remembers the good plays, the times somebody dove into a fence making a catch for him. He only remembers the errors. He lacks the ability to appreciate."

Americans Own Lead In Golf Tournament

PANAMA (AP) — A pair of Americans took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the Panama Open Golf Championship.

Labron Harris, Jr., a former U.S. Amateur champion, and Richard Whetzle, a young professional from Baltimore, each shot five-under-par 67s in Thursday's opening round.

Harris, who comes from Burneville, Okla., is looking for his first pro victory. He won the amateur crown in 1962.

Tied for second place with opening round 69s were Art Wall, Jr., the ex-Masters champion from Honesdale, Pa., and Ramon Sota of Spain, Bert Weaver of Biloxi, Miss., and Manuel de la Torre of Milwaukee, Wis.

Tulsa One Game Closer To Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tulsa moved one game closer to a National Invitation Tournament bid by beating Bradley 65-62 and NCAA-bound Louisville, the Missouri Valley basketball champion, is ready to finish the league season 13-1, but how about that mad five-team scramble for fourth place.

St. Louis moved into fourth at 5-7 by beating North Texas 73-68 in St. Louis in the other game Thursday night. But a five-way tie for fourth place at 5-9 is still a mathematical possibility.

In that event, every coach could tell the alumni he finished in the first division and be telling the truth.

Tulsa made its Valley record 8-3 and its season standing 17-6 with the victory which wasn't as close as it sounds. Tulsa led by 16 with four minutes left on its home court. A Bradley press closed the gap.

St. Louis plays at Tulsa Saturday and Tulsa could clinch a tie for second place with a victory, providing Wichita, 7-4, loses to Louisville at Wichita.

Cincinnati, 5-8 plays at Drake, 3-9, in the Valley weekly afternoon television game. In the other game, Bradley, 4-8, plays at North Texas, also 4-8.

Dan Spika, North Texas coach, needs only one more victory to assure a full-season record above the break-even .500 mark—a feat NTS has never accomplished in 10 years of Valley membership.

Tulsa is headed for its best season record in 12 years and could surpass the 21-7 record of the 1955 club if it wins in tourney play. That '55 Tulsa team was coached by Clarence Iba, brother of the noted Oklahoma State veteran headman, Hank Iba. New Valley member Memphis State, 17-7, coached by Hank's son, Moe Iba, accepted an NIT bid Thursday and will meet Villanova at Philadelphia tonight in its last regular season game.

Petitions At College Dismissed

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Petitions urging the University of Illinois to fight for retention of three coaches, or withdraw from the Big Ten if their dismissals were demanded, reportedly swept the state Friday.

The petitions rode the wake of University President David D. Henry's declaration Thursday that Illinois will appeal to conference faculty representatives in Chicago next week as edict of Big Ten athletic directors.

The directors ordered Illinois to fire football coach Pete Elliot, basketball coach Harry Combes and his assistant, Howard Braun, or else show cause why the university's membership in the conference should not be suspended or terminated.

Dr. Henry said that he considered this too harsh and will urge the prerogative of appeal.

The university penalized itself by placing Elliott and Combes on probation and declaring 12 athletes ineligible in football and basketball after disclosure in December of irregular financial assistance from a $21,000 slush funds.

The entire Illinois football squad of 32 players signed a petition Thursday urging Dr. Henry's full support behind retention of Elliott.

The squad meeting was called by cocaptains Ken Kmiec of Chicago and Ron Bess of Bloomington, Ill. The petition read:

"We, the undersigned of the University of Illinois football team, request that President Henry and faculty athletic representative Less Bryan, in the face of the statement of Mr. William Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten, vigorously support the retention of Pete Elliott as head football coach.

"While we are aware that a violation of the athletic code has occurred, we feel strongly that the dismissal of Coach Elliott is an unrealistically and unreasonably severe penalty, reflecting undeserved discredit not only upon Coach Elliott but also upon the University of Illinois."

Kmiec and Bess said they have an appointment with Dr. Henry Friday to present the petition.

Another petition, to be given statewide circulation, was started in Champaign by several prominent alumni businessmen, including star end Bob Castelo of 1939 and basketball captain Bob Riegel of 1937.

Several thousand signatures are expected for the petition. It suggests to Dr. Henry that the university has shown good faith in penalizing itself and urges that Illinois withdraw from the conference if the Big Ten does not ease the severity of the athletic director's edict.

Other support for the three coached gained momentum. Followers planned to run ads in Urbana-Champaign newspapers requesting readers to fill out coupons backing retention of the coaches. They were to be sent to a post office box and then presented to Dr. Henry.

Glasgow Injured In High Hurdles Race

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Jeff Glasgow of Oklahoma State broke his right wrist in a fall during a high hurdles race Thursday night and was admitted to the Kansas student hospital to have it set.

Glasgow will fly to his home in Oklahoma City today and may have to make the trip in his track uniform. The OSU team stopped at Emporia, Kan., donned their uniforms at a motel and left their street clothes to be picked up on the return trip.

TV NOTEBOOK

By Ned Lindstrom

We are approaching the time of year when the lady of the house is apt to go around loaded down with brush, broom, mop and vacuum cleaner in a sudden burst of spring cleaning frenzy. Inasmuch as all electronic equipment is affected by dust accumulation, this might be a logical time to pass on a helpful hint before the cleaning energy is directed at a radio or television receiver.

In a radio, dust often accumulates between the plates of the tuning capacitor and as a result provides some startling noise effect as different stations are tuned in. In the TV receiver, dust in the high voltage circuit can react to the point where arcing and other discharging will result in a streaked picture and distorted sound.

The simple solution, of course, is to get rid of the dust. This is where the average housewife is likely to grab the vacuum cleaner and proceed to draw it out. Might we suggest, ladies, that you use the vacuum cleaner as a blower? A small hair dryer may do the job, also, although it doesn't have quite the power of the vacuum cleaner. Better yet, call your TV repairman and let him do the job for you, as there are many delicate parts that could be damaged.

Depend on our expert repair man to tell you honestly whether you need a new set or adjustments to the present set. Cell —

Johnson Certifies New Rule

Succession For Presidency Now Defined

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson hailed Thursday the end of 180 years of uncertainty over how to keep the government functioning when the president becomes disabled.

He spoke at a White House ceremony in which he witnessed the certification of the 25th Amendment to the Constitution, establishing procedures for dealing with presidential disability and for filling a vacancy in the office of vice president.

Johnson recalled that the founding fathers, in the closing days of the Constitutional Convention, debated the question of presidential disability. He said John Dickinson of Delaware asked, "What is the extent of the term 'disability' and who is to be the judge of it?"

"No one replied," Johnson said. "It is hard to believe that until last week, the Constitution provided no clear answer. Now, at last, the 25th Amendment clarifies the crucial clause that provides for succession to the presidency and for filling a vice-presidential vacancy."

Leaders of Congress, members of the Cabinet, and other high federal and state officials gathered in the East Room for the ceremony.

Lawson Knott, administrator of the General Services Administration, the government's housekeeping agency, certified that the required three-fourths of the states had ratified the amendment. Then Johnson signed the document as a witness.

The amendment actually became part of the Constitution on Feb. 10 when Nevada became the 38th state to ratify it. But there had to be the certification of this act and Johnson made a big occasion out of it, praising members of Congress, leaders of bar associations, and all other individuals and organizations who helped steer the amendment through Congress and the states.

Holding Two For Military Authorities

Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Thursday two men being held here were reported by Ft. Leonard Wood authorities as being away from the post without leave. Fairfax added that authorities from the Army training center are coming to Sedalia to return the pair to Ft. Leonard Wood.

Held here are Kenneth Brown, 23, Mitchell, S.D., and Alvin Parker, 20, Decatur, Neb.

They were apprehended Wednesday night by Highway Patrolmen Pete Stohr and Charles Pieper after a car rtportedly driven by Brown, passed through a "radar trap" at a high rate of speed. A two-mile chase followed, the trooper said, before the men were taken into custody.

The car, a 1956 Chevrolet, had been reported stolen from Ft. Leonard Wood earlier the same day. Sheriff Fairfax said his information indicated the owner of the car did not press charges against the two men.

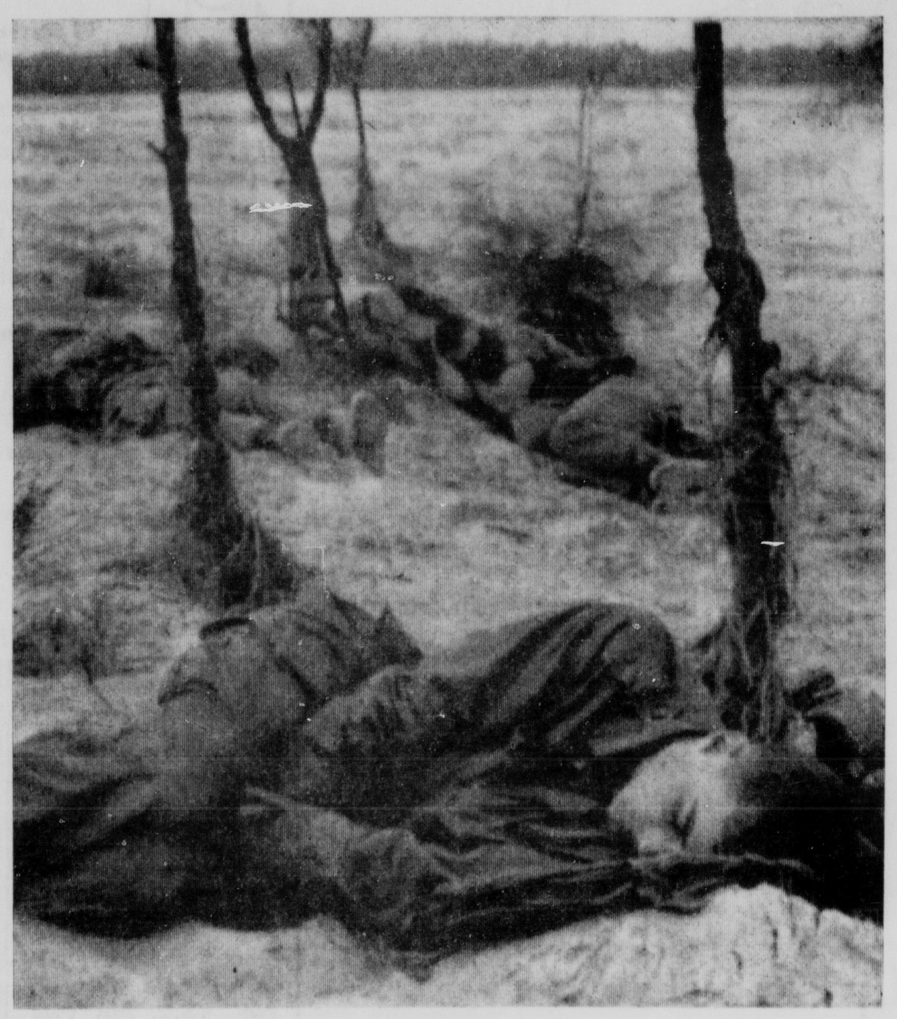

Liquor Law Repealed

WARSAW (AP) — The City Council of Wolow in southwestern Poland repealed a five-year-old liquor prohibition law, Kurier Polski reported, because the dry spell did not cut drinking and revenue went to bootleggers instead of government shops and bars.

Workers Agree To Return

Effects From Strike Will Linger, Slow Production

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat walkout that shut down much of General Motor's auto output ended Thursday, but its effects will linger in idle plants and slowed production.

Rebellious workers who had refused earlier orders to return to work agreed under pressure from United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther to go back to their jobs while a committee takes up their complaints with management at GM's Fisher Body Division plant here.

The end to the eight-day work stoppage came at an hour-long meeting of most of the 2,700 members of United Auto Workers Local 549. Local President Robert Hall explained the agreement reached in a showdown Wednesday night in Detroit with Reuther and the UAW Executive Board.

The estimated 2,500 union members at the meeting then agreed — without a vote — to return to work. Several said the return expressed confidence in local leadership.

General Motors said it would require some time to return to normal operations because of a six-day lapse in the supply of body components from this plant, which makes parts for 90 per cent of GM's cars.

GM said the shutdown here led to layoffs of 174,200 auto workers in 74 of its plants around the country.

"Layoffs will continue. Plants are still going down," GM's Detroit headquarters said, noting that, "We are making every effort to reschedule production and get idled employes back to work as quickly as possible.

"Even if they — the Mansfield plant — start shipping tonight," the company said, "it's going to be some time before we make up the backlog."

With more than half of their union members employed by the nation's largest carmaker laid off, Reuther and his board had threatened to take over the Mansfield local to end the work stoppage.

The walkout grew out of a dispute over sending of some work to another GM plant. The international union agreed to help set up meetings to discuss the local complaint.

Following Death Of Ferrie

Fear Created For People In Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— David W. Ferrie's death created fear Thursday among some people who claimed to have information relating to Ferrie or Lee Harvey Oswald in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Ferrie, labeled by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison as a prime informant in his investigation of the assassination, was found dead in bed Wednesday. A preliminary autopsy report attributed death to a brain hemorrhage. A coroner's report Thursday ruled out murder, leaving suicide, natural causes or accidental death as possibilities.

A woman who was about to give The Associated Press details she said related to Oswald's activities in New Orleans was frightened into silence. She warily greeted a reporter at her home.

"You see that," she said, directing attention to a snubnosed .38 caliber revolver placed on a nearby chair. "I don't say anything might happen to me. But I just won't talk to you. I have nothing more to say."

Another person on the periphery of the case, David Lewis, a bus station baggage clerk, dropped out of sight Wednesday night. Neighbors said the Lewis family had suddenly left town. Lewis had told newsmen he feared for the safety of his wife and four children because of his knowledge of a possible conspiracy to kill Kennedy.

However, Lewis appeared at the district attorney's office Thursday.

Before going into Garrison's office he said: "I'm not worried about myself, but I am about my family. Maybe there has been too much said about me already, but they know my name and know what I look like and they know where I work, so that's it."

A former private investigator, Lewis claims to have known Oswald, the man named by the Warren Commission as Kennedy's assassin.

Coroner Nicholas Chetta ruled out murder as a possible cause of Ferrie's death.

"There is no evidence of any violence," he said. "There is no evidence of murder."

The Orleans Parish coroner said the specific cause of death was an aneurysm—a small sacular aneurysm of a cerebral artery. He said such aneurysms frequently rupture, spilling blood into the brain. He likened this to the failure of an inner tube with a weak spot.

A large quantity of pills for vascular disease was found in Ferrie's apartment. But the coroner said even an overdose of these could not cause an aneurysm.

Chetta first fixed the time of death as Tuesday evening. After talking Thursday with George Lardner Jr., Washington Post reporter who said he left Ferrie at 4 a.m. Wednesday, the coroner said he could not "rule out the possibility Ferrie might have died as late as 4 a.m."

The coroner said the death would remain unclassified until a toxicological report was completed in about a week.

Garrison termed the death an apparent suicide. Chetta said there was nothing to indicate a

Study Shows Long Range Hiway Need

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A long range study released Thursday shows Missouri needs street and highway improvements costing $5.6 billion between now and 1985 but will have only $2.3 billion to meet these needs on the basis of present revenue.

M. J. Snider, chief highway engineer, said no recommendations are being made on how to make up the $3.3 billion deficit.

The study was made at the request of the American Association of State Highway Officials to set up a long range program after completion of the 41,000-mile interstate system, now estimated for 1975.

Here's a breakdown on the needs for different types of roads:

Interstate system, 1,119 miles —about 493 miles will need improvements estimated to cost $16.9 million.

Aerterial, 10,452 miles—arterials, including ultimate freeways, will need improvements on 9,172 miles at a cost of $3.963 billion.

Collector routes, 15,625 miles —improvements will be needed on 15,250 miles at a cost of $829 million.

Local roads 91,162 miles—improvements will be needed on 86,392 miles at a cost of $821 million.

Snider said recommendations for acquiring the extra money needed will not be made for some time.

Grandstand Funds Approved By Hearnes

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes signed today an emergency appropriation bill carrying an estimated $8,320,000—the first bill passed and signed this year.

The compromise version worked out by a Senate-House conference committee sailed through both houses with practically no opposition.

The governor made no changes in the final version of the bill.

Most Massive Offensive Of War Carried Out By The US

Infantrymen Deployed To Form Horseshoe Trap

SAIGON (AP) — About 45,000 U. S. troops and scores of jet bombers hammered Thursday against light sniper fire in the Viet Cong's main bailiwick, the jungled War Zone C, in the most massive offensive of the Vietnam war.

Infantrymen deployed to form a huge horseshoe-shaped trap, which American officers hoped would catch the Viet Cong's political leadership as well as hard-core military units that have ranged the area for 20 years.

More than 10 per cent of all the American servicemen in Vietnam were directly committed to the drive, centered 60 miles northwest of Saigon and encompassing a 250-square-mile area of Tay Ninh Province adjacent to neutralist Cambodia's frontier.

The drive, called Operation Junction City, was launched in secret before dawn Wednesday with the first American combat parachute jump since the Korean War. The biggest previous offensive in Vietnam was Operation Cedar Falls, in which 30,000 Americans combed the Viet Cong's Iron Triangle north of Saigon in January.

The full scope of the new operation, the third in four months within War Zone C, came to light on a day that also saw:

— Disclosure that more American and Communist troops were killed in combat last week than in any week snice the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley Nov. 14-20, 1965. U.S. headquarters said 172 Americans and 2,029 of the enemy were killed, compared to the record for the 1965 period, 240 Americans and 2,262 Communists.

— Return of two U.S. soldiers who the Viet Cong announced were released Feb. 7. Reported in fair condition though suffering from malnutrition, Sgt. Sammie N. Womack of Farmville, Va., and Pfc. Charles Earle Crafts of North Jay, Maine, showed up at an American post 35 miles north of Saigon. A spokesman said both were taken immediately to a medical facility for treatment.

— A report by U.S. headquarters of a single-day record of 575 sorties by American tactical bombers over South Vietnam Wednesday, including War Zone C strikes. The previous high for such single combat flights was 565 on Feb. 5. Other planes flew 79 missions over North Vietnam. Pilots said they destroyed three storage buldings and set several fires at the Vinh Yen ammunition depot, 80 miles west of Hanoi.

Seating Of Powell Is Now Urged

Would Be Censured And Required To Repay $40,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—A select House committee accused Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Thursday of "gross misconduct" and recommended that he be seated, censured and required to pay $40,000.

The money would be for funds the committee said Powell has "wrongfully and willfully appropriated" over the past three years.

In a report signed by all nine members, the committee also proposed that the controversial New York Democrat be shorn of his entire 22 years of House seniority.

The committee's report will be laid before the House next Wednesday. If approved, it would require Powell to take the oath of office by March 13 or else his seat would be declared vacant.

The committee found that Powell meets constitutional qualifications of age, citizenship, and inhabitancy in New York and therefore is entitled to the seat from which he has been barred since Jan. 10, when the House voted 364 to 64 to require him to stand aside pending an investigation of charges that he misused government travel funds.

The report said Powell's refusal to cooperate with the select committee was "contemptuous and was conduct unworthy of a member."

Although all members signed the report, a statement noted that Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., "feels strongly that Mr. Powell should not be a member of the House," and that Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., "believes that punishment of Mr. Powell beyond severe censure is improper."

The committee recommended that the House direct the clerk of the House to drop from Powell's payroll his secretary and

LBJ In Agreement

Panel Endorses CIA Subsidizing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House study panel endorses the Central Intelligence Agency's much-criticized subsidizing of various private organizations, and President Johnson agrees with the group's findings.

At Johnson's direction, the White House made public Thursday a preliminary report on a review of this controversial facet of CIA operations. Press secretary George Christian emphasized that Johnson agrees with the interim conclusions.

The report, submitted in letter form and dated Wednesday, came from Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, who is conducting the review along with CIA Director Richard Helms, and John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare.

CIA's role was defended on two grounds:

—"It did not act on its own initiative, but in accordance with national policies established by the National Security Council in 1952 through 1954."

—"The support provided by the Central Intelligence Agency enabled many farsighted and courageous Americans to serve their country in times of challenge and danger to the United States and the free world."

Katzenbach told Johnson he expects a final report, to include recommendations, will be ready early next month.

His letter indicates the study which he is heading, at Johnson's direction, is somewhat broader than had previously been announced. He spoke of "our inquiry into the relations of government agencies and private organizations operating abroad."

Katzenback last week said simply that the panel was looking into the relations between the CIA and the educational organizations.

In his letter to Johnson, Katzenbach said the CIA "has been, and continues to be, indispensible to the security of this nation."

"It is vitally important that the current controversy over its support of certain private organizations not be permitted to obscure the value, or impede the effectiveness, of competent and dedicated career officials serving this country," he went on.

The White House still declines to say whether Johnson had personal knowledge of the CIA's financing of such groups as the National Student Association prior to a recent discussion of the situation by one of his assistants, Douglas S. Cater, Jr.

Senate Gets New Slant To Problems

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Senate got a new approach Thursday to the salary problems plaguing the legislature.

It was proposed by Sen. Edward Stone, R-Chesterfield, a businessman serving his first term.

He said in his first few weeks in the Senate, he had noted a deluge of salary bills and it seemed a rather helter-skelter way to run a billion dollar-plus government that employs more than 40,000 people.

He said the state needs an organized comprehensive salary plan, like any big business.

So he proposed a special study of a uniform pay plan, job classifications under the merit system and a continuing job evaluation program under the state personnel advisory (merit system) board.

Stone's bill hit the Senate while it was considering a broad pay increase bill that runs from the governor down to probate and magistrate judges.

Up for amendment and debate was a substitute by Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, who upset things by gaining voice vote adoption of an amendment that would require judges to pay part of the cost of their scot-free retirement plan on an actuarial basis.

Then Sen. Albert M Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, who is sponsoring a Senate committee version of the pay bill, laid it over until Monday.

Meanwhile the Senate Roads and Highways Committee approved a bill to use the tax on aviation gasoline for an airport construction fund and another to increase the salary of the chief state highway engineer from $19,500 to $25,000, taking off the statutory limits on other department employes.

Earlier the Senate advanced to position for passage a multi-state tax compact bill which Spradling said could prevent the state from losing up to $50 million a year in revenue.

He said it was intended to beat back the federal threat to invade the fields of state sales, use and income taxes, as proposed in legislation pending in Congress.

The first bill of the session was signed into law by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Thursday.

It carries $8,320,000 in emergency appropriations to keep state agencies going until the new fiscal year starts July 1. The governor made no changes in the compromise version adopted by the House and Senate.

Both houses adjourned before noon until Monday afternoon.

GM Operations To Be Affected In Strike

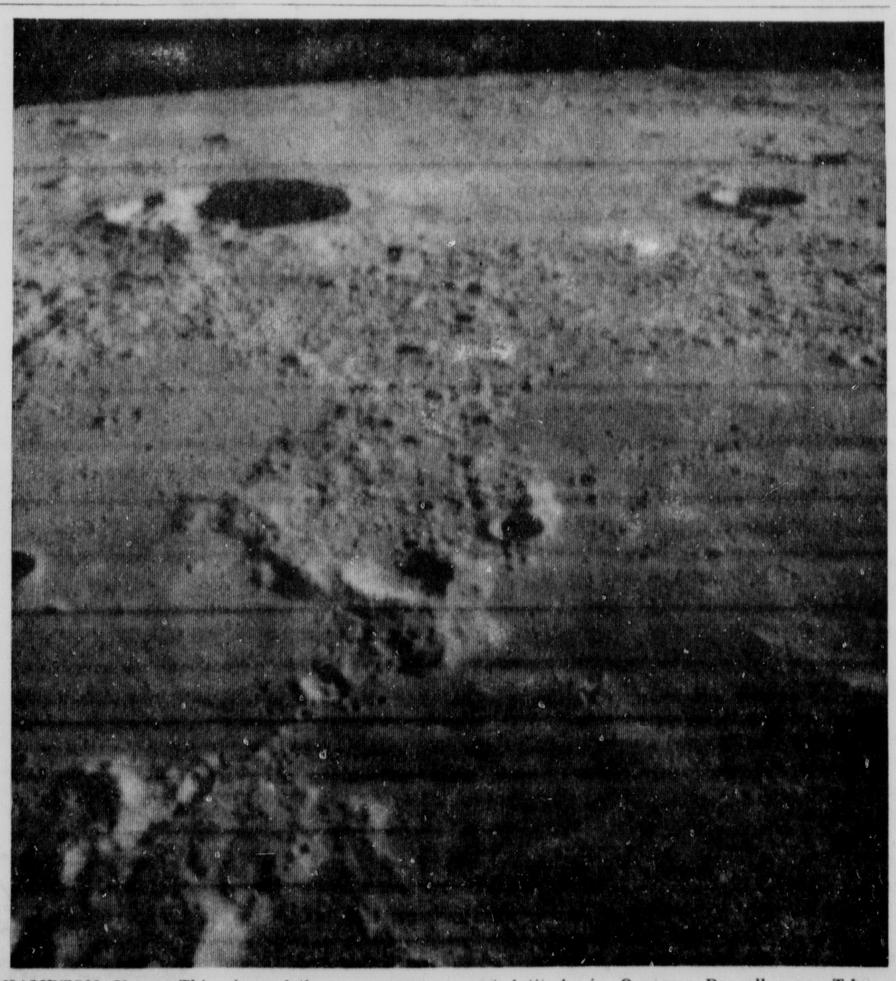

KANSAS CITY (AP)—General Motors operations in the Kansas City area still will be affected Monday by this week's strike of United Auto Workers at Mansfield, Ohio, a GM spokesman said.

James Hughes, regional public relations manager, said there will be no work Monday at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants at Leeds, at the GM assembly division plant at Fairfax and at the Delco battery plant at Olathe.

The Chevrolet and Fisher plants will work two full shifts Friday. The workers at Fairfax and Olathe were idle Thursday and will not work Friday or Monday.

The plants employ about 8,500.

The Mansfield strikers started back to work Thursday on orders from the UAW's national officers. They produce key parts for about 80 per cent of General Motors cars.

Dilemma: Who's to Blame?

Persons who do not have emotional stability enough to cope with the vexatious problems of modern society, resort to all sorts of methods to escape this so-called vale of tears.

It is tragic when older persons decide life is not worth living and so end it all, but moreso when youngsters do not have the mental capacity to adjust to life's vicissitudes.

Sometimes it seems the depressing behavior of youth is not only inexplicable but contrary, to say the least. For instance, we have just read about a 17-year-old boy in Wisconsin who decided life without a driver's license wasn't worth living. So he killed himself.

Then there is the 18-year-old Jefferson City boy who had a driver's license, who wanted to live but took an odd way to demonstrate his desire. You know what he did? He tried to see how far he could jump his Mustang sedan using a railroad crossing near Mexico, Mo., as a ramp. He took a 60-foot airborne jump followed by a 255-foot skid and roll which landed him in the hospital and also in the toils of the Highway Patrol. One might class this as an attempt at involuntary suicide. All the victim received was a broken nose and a summons for failure to keep his car under control.

This boy probably won't lose his license. But what if he did? Can a driver's license be so important that youth can't stand to live without it?

The Wisconsin boy didn't think so. He lost his license because he had received three traffic tickets. The last one, for speeding, was the crusher. He wrote a "Dear Mom and Dad" note and pulled the trigger.

"Without a license," he wrote, "I don't have my car, job or social life. So I think it is better to end it all right now."

First impulse of observers of this tragic ending is to conclude that any kid who would do such a thing was not mentally competent and probably never should have had a license issued to him anyway.

Many youthful drivers continually challenge authorities to take away their driver's license by dare-devil antics behind the wheel. But can they take it, if they lose?

Who's to blame for the distorted behavior described above? Is it the parents? The school? The traffic police and courts? The government? The car manufacturers with their seductive emphasis on speed and varoomph?

Or is it society in general, or the tempo of the times?

Whoever is to blame, the whole thing has gone too far and the situation is tragically out of hand.

If everybody is as sick at heart as they must be over the senseless slaughter and bone-crushing of kids in automobiles, what would be wrong with getting them together for some real cooperative action to reduce the number of accidents.

But what kind of action?

The dilemma seems to resolve itself into which is the lesser of two evils: tolerate the kids in their excessive liberties with a driver's license and the family car until they kill themselves and others; or take away their driving privileges and let them commit suicide solo fashion?

It's a tough problem to tackle in an age when personal discipline is no longer a status symbol among the young. Or the old, either, for that matter.

Tycoon's Tax Debt Sliced to a Splinter

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Here are more facts on the manner in which the handsome Greek shipping tycoon, Stavros Spiros Niarchos, settled a $25 million U. S. tax debt for less than 6 cents on the dollar.

Niarchos had married shy Charlotte Ford in December, 1965, after a whirlwind international romance and after divorcing his first wife in Mexico. His first wife was the daughter of another fabulously wealthy Greek shipowner, Livanos, and the sister of Aristotle Onassis, owner of Greek Shipping, Olympic Airways and, in latter years, the husband of opera singer Maria Callas.

Niarchos was 56 when he married Charlotte Ford in Mexico. She was 24. Mexico was as close as he would risk coming to the United States with the huge tax delinquency hanging over his head.

One of Charlotte's friends was Lynda Bird Johnson who, on her visits to New York City, often stayed with Charlotte. During one visit, Charlotte herself had occasionally dated. His name: George Hamilton.

Charlotte had campaigned actively for Lynda's father during the 1964 presidential campaign and served as co-hostess at two high-society soirees to raise campaign funds for LBJ.

It was about the time Charlotte fell under the romantic spell of Niarchos that Lynda began dating Hamilton steadily. After the marriage, Niarchos and his new bride flew to St. Moritz, the Swiss winter resort, where it was reported Niarchos spent more time with his children by a previous wife than he did with Charlotte. But when she returned to the United States to have a baby, reportedly at the instance of her father, Henry Ford II, Niarchos wanted to be on hand for the blessed event.

Suddenly, the Justice Department announced it had obtained a $16,582,000 tax judgment against six Niarchos-owned companies that had finagled an estimated $40 million out of the U. S. in one of the biggest shipping maneuvers of all time. Plus penalties, the $16,582,000 came to a total of $25 million. Niarchos had been indicted, but the indictments had been dropped in 1954 during the Eisenhower administration.

The Justice Department's explanation for the settlement was: "Both of these defendants (Niarchos and an associate) are fugitives from justice, and the government believes that there is no expectation of these defendants ever returning to the United States while these indictments are pending."

Golden Greek Returns

For ten years the Golden Greek had stayed out of Uncle Sam's reach. But when the tax judgment was announced April 26, 1966, Assistant U. S. Attorney Laurence Vogel in New York went out of his way to add: "There is absolutely no tax claim against Mr. Niarchos personally."

A few hours later, Niarchos returned to this country for the first time in more than a decade. The accommodating Justice Department had made the deal just in time for him to reach his wife's bedside before the birth of their daughter. The settlement was finalized on April 26; Niarchos arrived in New York City the following day.

But there was one fact which the Justice Department did not announce.

With penalties, Niarchos's tax liability added up to a cool $25 million, and the Justice Department's announcement gave the impression that the full amount would be collected.

What wasn't mentioned was the fact that Niarchos's companies had secretly settled for a mere $1,468,002 and that the rest of the tax debt had been written off as uncollectible.

It had been also agreed that Niarchos could enter the country free of personal liability.

Small taxpayers, who have had their paychecks attached to pay back taxes, may get the impression that it helps to have friends in high places. They are right.

Bobby For President

A political action group, calling itself "Citizens for Kennedy - Fulbright," has written to Democratic leaders around the country urging them to dump President Johnson in favor of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D - N. Y., in 1968.

The group, which has its headquarters in New York City, claims Kennedy has not tried to discourage them.

"We believe a more attractive candidate is both necessary and available," the Citizens Group wrote in a letter dated February 7. "That candidate is Robert F. Kennedy, a man who could unify and inspire the Roosevelt coalition of forces that have led us to so many past victories.

"Not only would Senator Kennedy make a stranger and more charismatic candidate than Johnson, he would also make a better party leader, a party leader more attuned to your needs. He has, does and would oppose siphoning off your funds into national party coffers.

"To convince Johnson to step aside and to convince RFK that he has the party's support, we need your help. We hope to be hearing from you. We hope that you will give us the benefit of your opinions—even if you think Johnson should be renominated. But most of all we hope you will encourage Robert Kennedy—and, incidentally, Lyndon Johnson, to consider his obligation to the party and to its future."

The letter is signed by Dr. Martin Shepard, who heads the Citizens for Kennedy-Fulbright. Already, he claims to have received several pro-Kennedy responses. The names will be turned over as a nucleus for a national RFK political organization.

Two Major Bills Up For Debate

By LARRY HALL
Associated Press Writer

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Two of the administration's major bills come up for debate next week as the Missouri legislature moves into mid-session.

At the top of the list in the House is Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' controversial "shared time" proposal.

It is a plan to let private and parochial students who are handicapped or educationally deprived attend special courses in public schools.

It has aroused the usual cries from opponents that it would violate traditional separation of church and state but is considered to have a better chance this time — partly because its sponsor is Rep. James I. Spainhower, D-Marshall, a Christian Church minister and chairman of the House Education Committee.

On the Senate side, the governor's proposal for a toll turnpike authority is ready for debate and has considerable backing. The Missouri Highway Commission, always opposed to toll roads in the past, is for the plan this time.

The commission's argument is that because of the federal cutback in highway aid funds, there is no other way to build necessary high type roads in rural areas.

Hearnes and Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas plan to discuss the possibilities of a toll turnpike running south from Kansas City along the state line in Kansas City Tuesday.

Both the Kansas and Missouri legislatures are considering toll road plans.

Also ready for consideration in the Senate is a substitute bill by Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, that covers pay raises for the governor and all other elected state officials, including Supreme Court and other judges.

Vanlandingham's bill would raise the governor's pay from $15,000 to $40,000, as in the original bill sponsored by Sen. Albert M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, but it offers lesser increases for other officials than in the Spradling bill. Spradling said he wanted no part of the Vanlandingham proposal.

As an indication of how the legislature is moving, 487 bills already have been introduced in the House and 272 in the Senate, plus numerous proposed constitutional amendments. That's a total of 869.

Those in the know freely predict that total this year will be around 1,400 or more bills, compared with 1,157 two years ago.

In the 1965 regular session, the Legislative Research Committee staff had 1,320 requests for bills to be drafted. This year the load is about 10 per cent heavier.

The staff has received almost 1,100 requests already and William R. Nelson, research committee research director, predicts the number will probably reach 1,500, although not all will be introduced.

No cutoff time for bill introduction has been announced in either house but it will probably will be around March 15 in the Senate and perhaps later in the House.

Usually only about a third or a fourth of those introduced stand a chance of becoming law. Many are introduced just to please constitutents. Others are dropped by the wayside because of duplication bills in the House and the Senate.

And many, many others get lost in the last minute crisis.

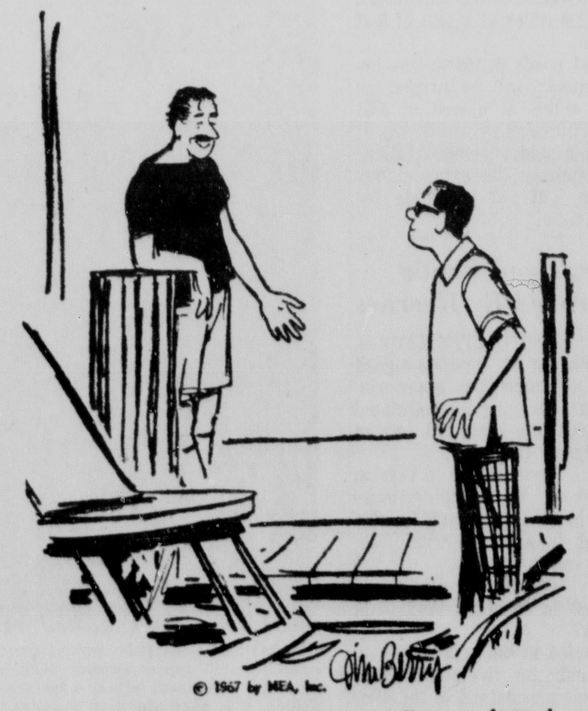

Even though both houses are moving along at mid-session pace, the last minute jam is expected to be worse than ever when midnight June 30 rolls around this time—the automatic date for considering bills.

Not Yet Spring

The pink of the early morning,
As day started to unfold,
Chased away the grayness
And turned tree branches gold;
One lone perky robin
At the first sign of dawn
Was out to get his breakfast
Pecking away at the lawn,
Then finally there came starlings,
One, then two, then three
The robin stopped his pecking
And turned around to see
Who had joined him at breakfast,
A starling darted near,
But the robin went back to his pecking
Without a bit of fear,
The redbirds from the cedar,
With feathered coat so bright,
Flew to the higher branches
From where they'd been all night;
Suddenly there was a lot of noise,
And I saw a streak of blue
As up into a barren tree
Three brilliant bluejays flew;
The birds were there, 'twas a lovely day,
But they knew it wasn't spring
For they flew and walked and pecked the ground
But I didn't hear them sing.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Drugs For Control Of High Blood Pressure

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Are there any procedures that can reduce a blood pressure of 200 very rapidly? Would they require hospitalization?

A — Many drugs are used to control high blood pressure. One of the quickest and safest is diazoxide. Hospitalization is not essential but is highly desirable because the best results require close medical supervision.

Other procedures that have been used successfully in selected patients include cutting the roots of sympathetic nerves in the lower back where they emerge from the spinal column and the implantation under the skin of a miniature battery with its electrodes attached to the carotid sinus nerve in the neck.

Q — I'm 61 and have high blood pressure. My doctor is giving me Aldomet and Diuril. Is it harmful to take these drugs indefinitely?

A — Methyldopa (Aldomet) and chlorothiazide (Diuril) in the usually prescribed dosage are safe when taken under medical supervision, including periodic blood counts. If, for any reason, it becomes necessary to discontinue either drug, your doctor can give you other drugs that will keep your blood pressure within normal limits.

Q — How serious is a blood pressure of 250 over 184?

A — The lower (diastolic) reading is the one to watch. Any reading of over 100 is dangerously high. Measures to reduce it should be started at once and kept up indefinitely.

Q — What is meant by hypertensive arteriosclerosis? My blood pressure is 145 over 70.

A — The term means hardening of the arteries associated with high blood pressure but a blood pressure of 145 over 70 in an adult is well within the normal range.

Q — How safe is Parnate? Can it be taken for a long period?

A — The tranquilizer, tranylcypromine (Parnate), should not be taken by anyone who is over 60 or anyone who has high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, stroke, epilepsy or liver disease. Anyone who is taking this drug must avoid eating pickled herring or cheese, drinking alcohol or taking other drugs because such actions lead to severe poisoning. Within these limits the drug may be taken under medical supervision as long as your doctor discovers no contraindications.

When you miss both the queen and jack of a suit, you don't really go after all the tricks if your hand and dummy don't hold as many as nine cards in it. Of course, you will accept all the tricks if things go just right but, in general, your plan of action is to avoid losing tricks to both those cards if you possibly can.

With 18 points, North is justified in jumping all the way to six no-trump without checking for aces. He knows that the partnership holds more than 32 high card points so that two aces can't be missing.

Of course, North might check to see if South holds four spades but this time there is no 4-4 spade fit and six no-trump is the correct final contract.

When South looks over dummy, he counts 11 top tricks. He is sure of a twelfth if the clubs break 3-2. There also is a possible squeeze if one opponent holds four clubs and four spades.

In any event, South should start by playing clubs, so he leads out dummy's ace of clubs at trick two. Assuming that both opponents follow with low cards, South leads a club from dummy and if East plays low it is up to South to play his ten spot.

This is an example of a play that can't possibly lose a trick but may mean the difference between making the slam and going down.

The defenders have played three small clubs so that the only clubs left are the queen and jack. If West holds both of them, he must make a club trick. It doesn't hurt to let him make it right away. If West holds one of them, it also won't hurt to give it to him. South can pick up the other one from East any time. Only when East holds both is the ten spot play essential. This isn't likely, but it can happen and any successful declarer should guard against that chance.

Democrat Pick-ups

Little girls are always proud of their purses and usually there is a little money in them too.

One day a little ten year old girl was doing some shopping, maybe window shopping, in downtown Sedalia, when, for some reason she laid her purse on the sidewalk and when she was through doing whatever needed both hands she simply walked off and left it. She never thought of it until on the way home and so, of course, she had to be taken back to town to find the purse.

She knew just where she had left it. On the sidewalk in front of Flowers but when she reached the spot it was gone. She was practically heart broken, but there was one slim chance that somebody had found it and took in the store. And so she went in to inquire. Sure enough some honest person saw it there, picked it up and left it in the store.

So the little girl went home delighted and very grateful to the person who was honest enough and thoughtful enough to pick it up and leave it where it would be safe — for they knew some little girl would be looking for her purse.—H. L.

Why Is Court News Printed?

Recently a Warsaw man wrote that he reads this column regularly but doesn't always agree with what is written here. That suits us just fine, just so he reads it and thinks about it if there is enough stimulation to do the latter.

Certainly it is a truism newspapers can't please the public all the time. Some days it seems we can't please anybody. In this we have other newspaper company on those "blue" days.

Concerning this, there is a subject about which we would like to expound but decided a second party's opinion may be more effective.

Publication of court news seldom pleases any of the people mentioned. Please leave my name out, is a frequent plea.

So, let's listen to what Paul Fugleberg of the Flathead (Mont.) Courier has to say about his policy in this matter. Here is a part of it to which we subscribe:

"We do not publish court news because of its readership appeal, nor in an attempt to embarrass anyone, nor to 'spice up' the inside pages. We've been accused of all of these.

"We publish the court news because we feel that it is one of the obligations that a newspaper has to its community.

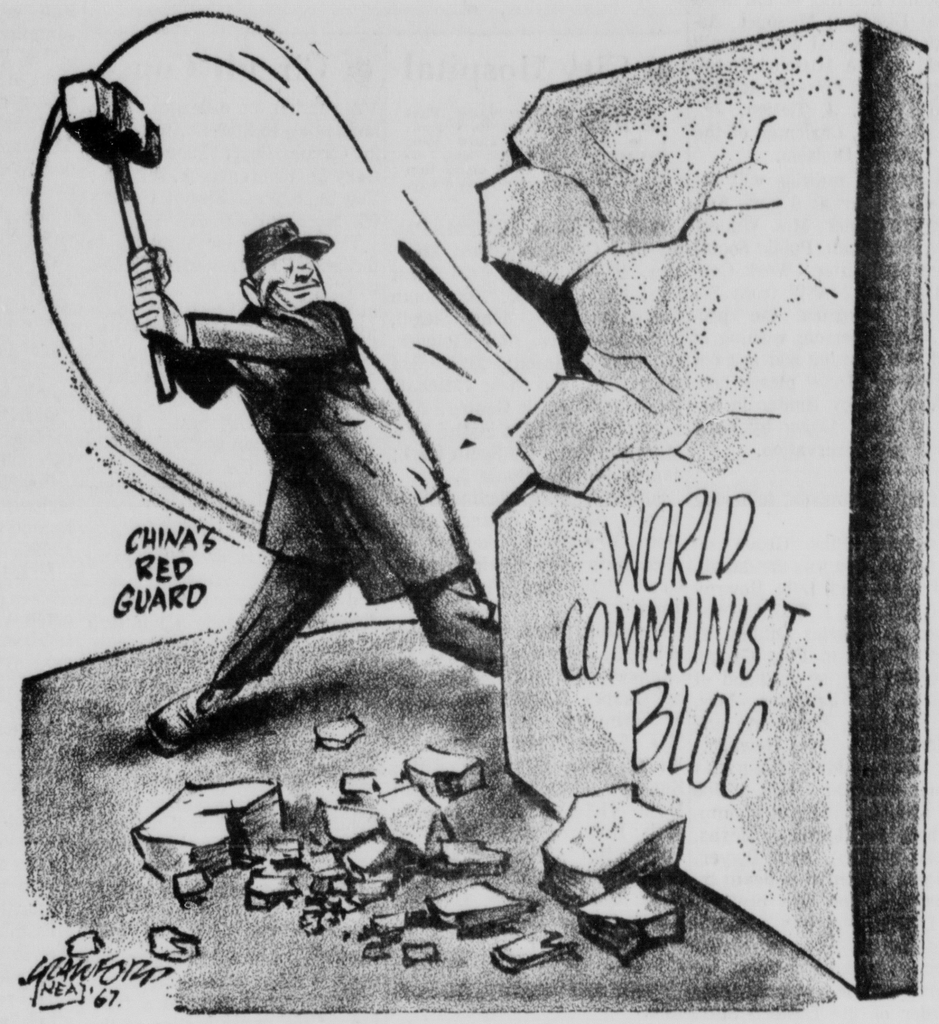

"Publication of police and court news serves several purposes — it shows whether or not the police department, Sheriff's office or Highway Patrol are enforcing the laws — to what extent and how impartially; it shows whether or not the judges are conducting their courts in a fair and just manner; it serves as warnings to the citizenry that names of persons convicted of violations will be publicized, thereby acting somewhat as a deterrent to some people; and in some cases, publication of police news may even alert some parents or other citizens to situations of which they may not have been aware.

"For instance, Joe Doakes, fined $100 for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Joe Doakes may be a person you've noticed being friendly to neighborhood kids but you hadn't particularly given it any thought.

"Or Jo Schmo, fined $50 for reckless driving — why Joe Schmo drove your kids to the basketball game last week.

"Extreme cases, yes, but they have happened elsewhere. And they could happen here, and who would know—until maybe too late—unless police news is published?"

Making Little Ones Out of Big Ones

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Some Precedents In House Expulsions

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Debating behind closed doors, the special committee investigating Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem divided into three viewpoints. They are:

1. Rep. John Conyers, Detroit Democrat, an able young Negro lawyer, made an impassioned plea for leniency for Powell. He pointed out that Powell is a broken man, personally confused and following bad advice; that there is no use breaking him further. Even his lawyers who had come to Washington to defend Powell, Conyers said, were unable to get in touch with him in the Bahamas. There are few telephones and nothing to do but pick up pebbles on the beach.

2. Republican members, together with Chairman Manny Celler of Brooklyn and several other Democrats, favor seating Powell but assessing him with a tough fine in the form of a requirement that he pay back around $35,000 of misspent government funds.

Significantly, the Republicans have made an about-switch from their previous tough anti-Powell position. Originally they voted unanimously in the House against Powell taking his seat. However, Negro sentiment for Powell has been strong, and Republican members of the special committee have now reserved the right to confer with their leadership.

3. Two members of the committee — ex-Sen. and now Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., and Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn. — believe that Congress, under the constitution, has no power to deny Powell his seat, though it does have the power to expel him. They lean toward seating Powell, then letting the full House vote to expel him. This would require a two-thirds vote.

History Of Expulsions

The committee has dug back into the early history of the United States and reviewed all the cases where congressmen have either been expelled or refused their seats. The cases range from Rep. Victor Berger, the socialist congressman from Wisconsin who was denied his seat in 1919 because he had been pro-German during World War I, to the case of Brigham Roberts, a Mormon from Utah who was denied his seat in 1900 because he believed in bigamy.

In few cases, however, has the House expelled a member for personal conduct. In 1798, when Roger Griswold of Connecticut taunted Matthew Lyon of Vermont and Kentucky regarding his Army record, Lyon spat in his face. During the debate as to whether Lyon should be expelled, Griswold assaulted Lyon with a cane while Lyon was seated in the House of Representatives. Lyon then picked up a pair of tongs from the fireplace. A special committee recommended that both men be expelled, but after they promised to keep the peace they were permitted to remain.

Another case, dating back to the 25th Congress in 1833, involved a duel between William J. Graves of Kentucky, who had killed another member of the House in a duel. After considerable debate as to whether the duel was justified and who had been insulted, Congress voted to table the entire matter.

Bigamy And Expulsion

The most thorough debate of all, however, involved Rep. Roberts of Utah, a Mormon, elected in 1899 to the 56th Congress. Although eventually the House voted not to seat Roberts because he had more than one wife, the minority in this case made a most convincing argument that he should be seated and then expelled. This is now considered the law.

The argument was based on the same theory put forward by Rep. Powell's lawyers, that the House cannot refuse a seat to a member as long as he is constitutionally elected.

Research in this case dated back to the constitutional debates in 1787 in which the founding fathers made it clear that they did not want members of each House restricted as to their qualifications to hold office other than that they had been citizens for seven years, were 25 years old, and residents of their state.

When it was proposed to permit the House to establish qualifications in regard to property, Madison opposed this "As vesting an improper and dangerous power in the legislature. The qualifications of elector and elected were fundamental articles in a Republican government and ought to be fixed by the constitution." Madison said. "If the legislature could regulate those of either, it can by degrees subvert the constitution.

"A republic may be converted into an aristocracy or oligarchy as well by limiting the number capable of being elected as the number authorized to elect."

Madison further observed, "The British Parliament possessed the power of regulating the qualifications both of the electors and the elected, and the abuse they had made of it was a lesson worthy of our attention. They had made changes in both cases, subservient to their own views of political or religious parties." John Dickinson of Pennsylvania also opposed "any recitals of qualifications in the constitution," while Alexander Hamilton moved regarding the question of citizenship "that the section be so altered as to require merely citizenship and inhabitancy."

The founding fathers made it quite clear, in brief, that they wanted no restrictions on the right of a representative to hold a seat in the House other than that he be 25 years old, a citizen of the United States for seven years, and a resident of the state in which he shall be chosen.

This is exactly what Powell's attorneys have contended.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Taxpayers of Pettis county will be happy to know that the Pettis County Court will reduce the county tax levy from 51 cents to 44 cents on the $100 valuation this year. The reduction is possible because the court house bonds will be paid off in the amount of $350,000 over a period from 1924 to 1943. The combined levies of school, county, road and state last year were: $2.13 on the $100 valuation.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The new school at Otterville, completed at a cost of $35,000 has been opened for school use. It is a modern two-story brick structure with four grade school rooms, a large study room for the high school, three recitation rooms, a laboratory, an office for the superintendent of schools, and a combined auditorium and gymnasium to seat 500 persons. At present there are 75 pupils in the high school and 150 in the grade school. Mrs. Maggie Palmer is principal and J. G. Dull superintendent.

Laziness Abets Heart Disease

Active Man Usually Leads Longer Life

By Paul Dudley White, M.D.
Past President
American Heart Association
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dr. Paul Dudley White

In the strict sense of the term, a heart attack is an event for which the stage has been set by a long-term disease which we call atherosclerosis and which hardens, roughens and narrows the coronary arteries. Many factors contribute to this process, among them physical inactivity.

Where masses of people are concerned, we have excellent documentation that those in active occupations suffer fewer heart attacks than those in sedentary occupations. Desk bound postal clerks, for example, are hit more often than mailmen who trudge many miles each day.

Atherosclerosis, the stage-setting disorder referred to earlier, has clearly been shown to be much more common among people like ourselves everywhere in the world who are physically lazy and prosperously overfed.

This presents a curious paradox — a wealthy and favored people who abuse their prosperity, becoming soft and sluggish.

As many (who shouldn't) see it, the most glaring inadequacy of professional and college athletic programs today is the failure to provide parking close by the stadium. Instead of walking, we ride. Instead of tilling and harvesting the fields, we seat outselves behind glass-topped desks. Instead of hunting and carrying home wild game, we buzz for our secretaries. We are the slaves — not the masters— of our inventions.

We seem to delight in the absurd belief that we must avoid strains, either physical or mental. We have a dread of climbing stairs. We avoid hard physical labor. We forget that man evolved — over tens of thousands of years — as a creature whose survival or nonsurvival depended as much on physical activity as on mental alertness.

Partly as a result of the lack of regular exercise, and also as the result of other factors being discussed in this series, man now finds himself in the midst of a new kind of epidemic. It has taken the place of the scourges of the Middle Ages, and has even replaced our more recent scourges of diphtheria, pneumonia, meningitis, polio, typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

It is important to note that the new epidemic — disease of the arteries — is one which man himself has helped to bring about by habits of improper diet, obesity, smoking, neglect of high blood pressure, inadequate treatment of diabetes and physical inactivity. To be sure, there are certain factors over which he has no control, among them maleness, age and heredity. But he is paying the penalty of environmental factors as well as heredity.

This does not necessarily have to be the case.

By minimizing all controllable risk factors, man can brighten his chances very considerably.

If you have any doubt about the extent and character of the exercise in which you engage, see your doctor. Follow his recommendations.

Generally, however, it can be stated that the key rules are regularity and exercise vigorous enough to suit the circumstances.

Get rid of the notion that the climbing of stairs is injurious. Actually, walking up stairs is usually good for the heart, as long as you don't place such a strain on it that failure might occur and as long as you do not already have heart disease.

Regular and vigorous use of our leg muscles is essential for an optimal circulation of the blood. The leg muscles are an important and unappreciated accessory pumping mechanism to assist our hearts physically. Also, healthy fatigue of the leg muscles is the best antidote known to man for nervous stress.

You will note that I give more emphasis to the need of exercising the legs than to the arms. This is intentional — the larger the muscle, the greater the advantage in its use. Too, the leg muscles are a greater aid in combating the negative effect of gravity. It follows that any kind of work or exercise which uses the leg muscles is to be preferred — walking, golf, tennis, skiing or cycling.

Another very important reason for regular and vigorous use of the leg muscles is to keep the leg veins clear of clots which sometimes can cause serious pulmonary embolism and even death.

Bizarre Twists In Assassination Probe

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk without evidence is all so far from the efforts of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to prove a plot in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

But there are some bizarre twists.

The Warren Commission concluded Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the killing in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. There have been doubts about this ever since. Up until now Garrison has simply added to them.

He says he has no reason to believe Oswald killed anybody in Dallas that day. Last Saturday, giving no details, he promised five arrests and convictions, though the arrests were "most certainly months away."

Then Wednesday, after David Ferrie, a plane pilot of about 45, had been found dead in his bed in New Orleans, Garrison said he had planned to arrest Ferrie next week.

"Apparently we waited too long," Garrison said, although he called Ferrie "one of history's most important individuals." Ferrie's death was one of the bizarre twists. The other, in Florida, was the start of an investigation into the 2-year-old death of another man.

Garrison referred to Ferrie's death as an "apparent suicide." Coroner Nicholas Chetta said Ferrie died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain but added that further tests were being made.

A note, found in Ferrie's dining room, said: "To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable and on the other hand everything that is loathsome."

But — and this is written after consultation here in Washington with a physician who is an internist — it would have seemed impossible for Ferrie to write the note at all and then walk back to his bedroom after the blood vessel burst.

Yet, if Ferrie wrote the note, intending it as a farewell, how could he have possibly known that as soon as he got back to bed the blood vessel in his brain would burst? Blood vessels are not that obliging.

Ferrie, no stranger to the Kennedy case, was questioned in 1963 shortly after the President's death by both the FBI and Garrison's office and was questioned again in Garrison's office last November.

Each time he was released. He said the FBI first became interested in him when a New Orleans man reported he had served with Oswald in a Civil Air Patrol unit under Ferrie. Oswald lived in New Orleans in the summer of 1963. Ferrie had lived there 15 years.

He repeatedly denied he ever knew Oswald and complained that Garrison had him "pegged as the get-away pilot in an elaborate plot to kill Kennedy." He called this a "big joke."

Pensacola authorities Wednesday began investigating the 1964 death of Thomas Henry Killam, a sometime house painter, who died beside a broken store window with a slashed throat. The police at the time called it a suicide; the coroner called it an accidental death.

But now his brother, Earl Killam, asking that the body be exhumed for further examination, says the dead man feared he was being pursued by "agents" connected with the Kennedy assassination and fled Dallas in December, 1963, saying he knew he would be killed by "agents" he didn't name.

The dead man's wife, Wanda Killam, had been employed several years in a nightclub run by Jack Ruby, who killed Oswald and died last Jan. 3. She said her husband had been employed as a painter by a man who once roomed in a Dallas boarding house with Oswald.

Unless Garrison has a lot more that he hasn't revealed, none of this so far shows any conspiracy.

Rich In Resources

By CYRENE DEAR

LAGOS, NIGERIA — It is a sticky, humid morning in tropical Lagos, Nigeria. Like Washington, D. C., this capital city is a separate district. The government buildings and foreign embassies are here, as well as many local and foreign business organizations.

There is still a great deal of unrest in this West African country on the Gulf of Guinea. About 55 million people live here and the country is the size of Texas plus Oklahoma. It was a British Colony for over a hundred years so the official language is English. Nigeria became independent in 1960, but there have been two military coups since that time.

Christianity has found a great response in this country and many of the leaders have been educated in mission schools. Western dress predominates in the cities.

Nigeria is rich in natural resources and is not dependent upon one or two crops. Peanuts, coca, rubber, cotton, timber, palm products, tin, coal, iron, lead, zinc and oil are found here.

Because of the political instability some American businessmen are discouraged. They say that the country is so corrupt and inflation so general that it is difficult to make any profits. However, the attitude of the American government officials here is that eventually a stable form of independence will be developed because Nigeria has prestige in Africa and in the United States The United States has provided a great deal of technical assistance and financial loans for various development programs. The Peace Corps has sent teachers and agricultural workers. About 1,000 volunteers are expected to serve here by the end of the year.

There is a good radio broadcasting service here. The director is a dynamic, young Christian Nigerian, educated at Brandeis University in Massachusetts There are 18 hours of radio programs with news broadcast every hour. The Associated Press, Reuters and a local wire service are used and broadcasts are made in 12 languages throughout Nigeria. The Voice of America comes over so strongly that it often drowns out local stations. A new television station in Lagos provides five hours of television daily, but as yet there are not many sets except in the cities. Educational programs are broadcast by radio.

American foundations have many interests in Nigeria, particularly the Ford and Rockefeller ones. United States aid created its own development programs in 1962. While there is a feeling of great distress about the killings, riots and political changes, the U. S. policy is to continue in Nigeria and the opinion is that there is a feeling of confidence that this country will solve its problems and carry out its own development plan.

Letter To The Editor

R. GORDON PORTER (Route 1, Warsaw) — I am writing, primarily, to commend you for your policy of publishing letters written to you. It seems that too many papers do not do so unless it is a letter of praise or unless it is regarding a subject which is entirely un-controversial and of no importance. With the present world condition (and it is rapidly growing worse) it is increasingly difficult for the thinking public to be heard above all the clamor of rioters, demonstrators, propaganda, etc., and ironically enough, these are the times when the voice of the public needs to be heard.

The world, today, is in a serious crisis — far more serious than most people seem to realize. This crisis is far more involved than the Viet Nam war. Viet Nam is only one burning tree in a raging forest fire. This fire, even now, is raging within our own beloved country, threatening to destroy it while we sleep. We need more firemen and need them now to put out this fire. Tongues of the flame even now are threatening our very homes. The condition of many countries today where this fire has already burned shows that the only things left in its wake are desolation, death and despair. Still, we sleep and will not waken to the cries of our fellow citizens. We sleep and will not hear their pleas for help.

Our boys are giving their lives in far countries to fight Communism. Yet, far too few of our "patriotic" citizens are willing to even give up a ball game or a movie to study and find out what Communism is all about. They refuse to see that, through infiltration and subversion, this country is rapidly turning into a Socialist State, from which it is only a very short step to actual Communism.

It is not my intention to present a thesis on Communism, although I could do so. My purpose in this letter is simply to point out the urgent need for America to wake up and see what is happening to us. A wise person need only to open his eyes and look around. It is plain for all who will see. This letter is a call to all America. Your country needs help—help to fight this fire that is destroying us from within. You do not need a gun. All you need is a love of your country, a love of God and your fellow man and a clear mind. With these weapons, we can lick the world, so lets use them! ! !

Today's hand illustrates a principle of play that was almost unknown as late as 25 years ago.

This hand was played by Oswald Jacoby at New York's Cavendish Club in 1941. He won the diamond lead and played four rounds of clubs. Then he cashed the ace of spades, went over to dummy with a heart and finessed successfully against East's queen.

His partner, one of the great players of all time, was mighty pleased with the result and asked, "How did you figure out that spade play?"

The answer to the question is that the play was correct. If Jacoby had missed Qxxx in spades instead of QJrx, the correct play would have been to try to drop the queen, but this hand illustrates the principle of restricted choice. When West played the jack, it meant that he had started with either the singleton jack or a doubleton queen-jack. The odds would be slightly in favor of the latter as a matter of plain probability. Specifically, when you miss four of a suit the chance that a specific opponent will hold a specific singleton is .062; the chance that he holds a specific doubleton is .068.

However, we have to go into inverse or compound probability here. If West held the singleton jack, he would have to play it; if he held the doubleton queen-jack, he would have a choice and would be just as likely to play one as the other. At least, a good player will false card about half the time in this situation, hence the .068 chance of doubleton QJ is cut in half and becomes .034 so that the actual odds in favor of the finesse are 62 to 34, or almost two to one.

Of course, if you were playing against a man who always falsecards, you would have a sure thing finesse. He would not play the jack from queen-jack under any circumstances. There may be such players somewhere but we have never found one.

The charges followed an incident Dec. 29, 1966, in which Harold Eckhoff, 56, 513 South Osage, was wounded after the discharge of a pistol allegedly held by Evans at the time. Testimony Thursday morning indicated a scuffle between the two men preceded the shots.

Eckhoff was hospitalized for a short time for injuries to both legs and the groin. The incident took place at a service station at Missouri and Benton.

Buddy R. Esser, 423 South New York, and Gerald H. Antoine, 1704 South Montgomery, appeared before Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong Thursday morning and had their preliminary hearing set for March 6. Bond was set at $3,000 for each man.

● Circuit Court

A petition for damages which amounting to $150,000, was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Gary M. Wahrenbrock, 907 West Fourth, against Steven Frederick Morris, Route 3.

This petition for damages is the result of a two-car accident which occurred, Dec. 11, 1966, in which seven persons were injured, six seriously, on south U. S. Highway 65, in front of the APCO service station, formerly the Jerry Brown station.

Missouri Highway Patrol Trooper William Southwick, who investigated the accident, reported that a 1966 Buick sedan belonging to Mr. June Brown, mother of Wahrenbrock, who was the driver, had pulled into the station, which was closed, and then pulled out of a south driveway and made a left turn on the highway, heading north, just as the 1965 Pontiac GTO crested a rise in the road. The Pontiac is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitfield, Dresden, grandparents of the driver, Frederick Steven Morris.

According to the Trooper, the Pontiac's front collided with the left front side and left rear door of the Buick, which was knocked south and came to a stop in the south traffic lane headed northwest. The Pontiac went off the highway on the east side and down a slight embankment.

Morris suffered a severe fracture of the jaw, lacerations of the face and legs and a possible back injury.

A petition for damages was filed in Circuit Court Thursday by Mervin Oehrke against D. J. Jobe. The petition asks for $450 as a result of a accident involving a 1956 Chrysler and an Angus steer.

The petition states that Oehrke was driving his car south on Grand, Sept 29, 1965, when it struck the steer, belonging to Jobe. The plaintiff states that at the time of the collision, his car was worth $500, after the mishap, the value of the car was $50.

Wheat Futures Prices In Trading Advance

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices advanced up to 5 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Thursday, then fell back a little but closed nearly 3½ cents a bushel higher.

It was the third straight session during which wheat led a general advance of prices and marked an increase of 13½ cents a bushel in wheat prices in one week.

Favorable export notices, good buying support and a report of bad weather for the future of winter wheat crops in Kansas tended to influence wheat prices.

India had agreed to buy 1.2 million bushels of wheat and this set off the advance at the start of the session. Minutes later, India received authorization from Washington to buy another million bushels of wheat and with announcement that Pakistan was seeking 38,000 additional tons of wheat, the bread grain surged ahead in the futures exchange.

At the close, wheat was 2⅜ to 3¼ cents a bushel higher, March $1.76⅞-77; corn was ⅛ to ⅞ higher, March $1.38½-⅔; oats were unchanged to 1⅓ higher, March 73¾-74 cents; rye was ⅞ lower to ¾ higher, March $1.22¼; and soybeans were ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March $2.88⅓-⅞.

The $40,000 which would be deducted from Powell's salary at the rate of $1,000 a month represents two-thirds of the $60,000 which Powell would draw during the next two years as a member of the 90th Congress.

The money is to be used to offset Powell's "civil liability to the United States of America," which the committee said resulted from converting to his own use salary illegally paid his estranged wife and from "improper expenditures of government funds for private purchases" by himself and staff members of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell was chairman of the committee for six years until Democrats deposed him last month.

Mrs. Powell, who lives in Puerto Rico, testified before the committee she received only a small amount of her $20,500 annual salary over the past five years. The pay checks intended for her were deposited in Powell's House bank account by a staff member acting at his direction.

The committee said Powell "wrongfully and willfully appropriated for his own use" more than $4,000 in salary drawn in Mrs. Powell's behalf. Under law, members of a congressman's staff must work either in Washington or the member's home state.

The report also accused Powell of "wrongfully and willfully" appropriating $72 of public funds for air transportation for his son and friends; $124.79 for placing a woman on the staff of the committee to do "domestic work in Bimini, the Bahama Islands; and $461.16 for giving staff receptionist Emma T. Swann airline tickets bought with a committee credit card for vacation trips.

Gets Venue Change

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — John Lodwick Jr., former Clay County magistrate judge, received a change of venue Thursday in the $28,000 recovery suit filed against him by Clay County.

Lodwick, who was indicted last spring by a county grand jury on a charge of converting $2,800 in fines to his own use, told Circuit Judge R. Kenneth Elliott that it would be impossible for him to get a fair trial in Clay County. Judge Elliott had the case moved to Saline County Circuit Court.

The county seeks in the civil suit to collect fines, forfeitures and costs which the county alleges were collected by Lodwick while he was magistrate judge, but were never turned over to the county treasurer.

suicide except an unsigned, undated typewritten note saying death was a "sweet prospect." Tests showed that the note, found on the dining room table, was typed on a typewriter in Ferrie's cluttered apartment.

Garrison, who created international headlines by launching his own investigation into the assassination, described Ferrie's death as a temporary setback to his investigation. He said he felt Ferrie was on the brink of producing significant information. Nevertheless, he said, he remained optimistic that his investigation would proceed and produce results.
